

ANNOUNCING AN IMPORTANT NEW PUBLICATION:

Farewell: Remembering Horton Foote, 1916-2009

The DeGolyer Library is pleased to announce a new book, Farewell: Remembering Horton Foote, 1916-2009, edited by Marion Castleberry and Susan Christensen. Farewell includes tributes from 60 friends, writers, critics, scholars, actors, directors, and family members, such as Daisy Foote, Edward Albee, Bruce Beresford, Ben Brantley, Ellen Burstyn, Robert Duvall, Romulus Linney, Laurin Porter, Jean Stapleton, and Jane Roberts Wood. Each writer brings a distinct perspective, and the essays are by turns humorous, affectionate, personal, and critical. This is an essential source for all fans of Horton Foote and his work. Handsomely designed and printed, Farewell is soft-bound, 224 pages.

The DeGolyer Library is the major repository of Horton Foote's literary archive, comprising over 200 boxes of material documenting the career of the Academy Award winning screenwriter and Pulitzer Prize winning playwright. The collection includes manuscripts, scrapbooks, handwritten drafts of screenplays, diaries, letters, photographs, and family memorabilia of the Wharton, Texas native who spent over 60 years in film, stage, and television. For selected online images from the Horton Foote collection, see <http://digitalcollections.smu.edu/all/cul/hor/>

The current DeGolyer exhibition, curated by Cynthia Franco, "The Life and Work of Horton Foote," has been mounted in conjunction with the Horton Foote Festival. It will run through May, 2011. For more information on the Dallas festival, see <http://www.hortonfootefestival.com/>

Please fill out and return this form to the DeGolyer Library, SMU, Dallas, TX 75275-0396. Make checks payable to "DeGolyer Library, SMU" and note "Horton Foote book" on the memo line.
