MASTER OF SCIENCE IN COUNSELING
SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY
ANNETTE CALDWELL SIMMONS SCHOOL OF EDUCATION AND HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

Welcome to the Program in Counseling at Southern Methodist University. We intend your graduate education at SMU to be academically stimulating and professionally rewarding.

The SMU Program in Counseling offers students an opportunity to complete course work toward a Master of Science in Counseling degree that meets or exceeds the academic requirements for obtaining licensure as a Licensed Professional Counselor or Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist, or for securing certification as a School Counselor in the state of Texas.

Additionally, counseling students receive both on-site and off-site supervised training with clients (Practicum and Internships I/II) allowing for the application of course content. Direct client interaction enables students to maximize their learning as well as establish professional contacts through post-Practicum, off-site internships.

This handbook provides a reference for general information, answers to frequently asked questions, and guidelines for academic policies and procedures.

GENERAL INFORMATION

THE DEPARTMENT OF DISPUTE RESOLUTION AND COUNSELING

The Department of Dispute Resolution and Counseling offers Master's degrees in Dispute Resolution and Counseling, as well as a Graduate Certificate in Dispute Resolution. Collectively, the school aims to provide optimal lifelong learning experiences. For the Program in Counseling, this involves providing students the necessary skills to assist others with psychological growth and social adjustment.

MISSION STATEMENT AND DEPARTMENTAL PHILOSOPHY

The mission of the SMU Program in Counseling is to educate and train quality future counselors in order to enhance and strengthen the profession of counseling.

The Master of Science in Counseling degree program prepares students for the counseling profession, which involves the application of the developmental and social sciences in assisting clients of all ages with psychological growth and social adjustment problems. Counselors typically work in schools, community agencies, churches, industry, and private practice.

The Program in Counseling provides the educational elements necessary for certification, licensure, and actual counseling practice. Students acquire knowledge in the disciplines that underlie counseling—including education, psychology, human development, sociology, learning theory, and social change. They develop the basic skills in therapy and assessment and become familiar with the legal and clinical considerations confronting practitioners. Repeated practice and role playing with feedback and strategic modification are critical to mastery of the skills and are, consequently, an essential part of the program. Successful graduates are able to pursue state licensure as Marriage and Family Therapists (LMFT) and Licensed Professional Counselors (LPC), or Certification as School Counselors. Also, an additional license option of Licensed Chemical Dependency Counselor (LCDC) is available.

TERMS OF GRADUATE STUDENT AND PROGRAM COMPLIANCE

Counseling graduate students will adhere to the guidelines within the Master of Science in Counseling Student Handbook, the SMU Student Code of Conduct (within the SMU Student Handbook), and those outlined in the annual Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development Graduate Programs Bulletin. Failure to comply with these collective policies may result in dismissal from the Program in Counseling and SMU. Additionally, admitted counseling students will sign an informed consent document outlining the academic, interpersonal, and professional expectations of the Program in Counseling.

Prior to initial registration: As outlined in the SMU Student Code of Conduct, graduate students in the Program in Counseling, “having voluntarily enrolled as students at Southern Methodist University and assumed a place in the University community” are thereby, “presumed to be knowledgeable of, and to have agreed to abide by, the rules and regulations set forth in this Student Code of Conduct, both on and off campus” (SMU Student Handbook, 2011– 2012 online at <http://smu.edu/studentlife/studenthandbook/default.asp>). Additionally, a student's signed offer of acceptance to the Program in Counseling asserts an agreement to follow the policies and procedures outlined in the Annette Caldwell Simmons Graduate Programs Bulletin (online at <http://www.smu.edu/education/aboutus/policiesprocedures.asp>).

Within the first term: Counseling students must submit a signed SMU Program in Counseling Statement of Informed Consent (available in the Counseling office or online by logging onto the Blackboard Program in Counseling site) confirming that they have read, understood, and will adhere to the policies set forth within the Master of Science in Counseling Graduate Student Handbook.

- Students having less than twelve credit hours in the behavioral sciences are admitted into the program after successful completion of Advanced General Psychology I (HDCN 6385). Once admitted, these students are required to complete a second foundation course, Selected Topics: Foundations of Behavioral Science (HDCN 6391).*
- Immediately admitted students are not required to take Advanced General Psychology I or Selected Topics: Foundations of Behavioral Science.
- Note: Advanced General Psychology I and Selected Topics: Foundations of Behavioral Science each count as 3 credit hours of elective course work.

*Students having a statistical sciences background can appeal to have the Foundations of Behavioral Science course waived by the admission committee on a case-by-case basis.

ACADEMIC INSTRUCTION

Course instruction varies by topic, but typically includes lecture, discussion, and applied components such as mock-counseling, role-playing, self-exploration, assessment administration, and intake interviewing. All courses integrate online learning materials in some capacity (i.e. syllabus posting, announcements, and discussion boards). Faculty members outline textbook requirements, ancillary materials for instruction, grading standards, grading rubrics, and classroom student conduct for each course.

The 10-week daytime, evening and weekend course selections rotate through four terms to accommodate scheduling and degree requirements. Weekend seminars and courses during the five-week summer term allow students additional flexibility.

CORE CURRICULUM

The Master of Science in Counseling degree requires the completion of 60 credit hours. Students must complete all course requirements within six years to earn their degree. Before completing three classes (9 credit hours) of the curriculum, students declare a primary track of study: Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist (LMFT), Licensed Professional Counselor (LPC), or Certified School Counselor. Students may declare a dual or triple-track.

Ten courses (30 credit hours) comprise the core curriculum for the Master of Science in Counseling. These courses represent a basic skills foundation in providing therapy, interpreting assessments, understanding legal scope, and considering clinical issues confronting practitioners.

All entering students with a behavioral science background must complete Introduction to Counseling (HDCN 6300) during their first term. Students having fewer than 12 credit hours in behavioral science before enter the Program in Counseling must take Advanced General Psychology I (and HDCN 6300) in the first term and Introduction to Counseling in the second term. Additionally, these students must take Special Topics: Foundations of Behavioral Science (HDCN 6391) before enrolling in Research Design and Statistics (HDCN 6349). All entering students are strongly advised to take Life Span Development within the first two terms as well.

Note: HDCN 6395 Supervised Clinical Practicum cannot be started during the Summer term; students may enroll in HDCN 6395 Supervised Clinical Practicum in Fall, Winter, Spring, and May terms. Practicum requires two terms for completion. Students may begin Internship I upon the completion of Practicum with a supervisor's approval.

Core Courses
HDCN 6300 Introduction to Counseling
HDCN 6320 Life Span Development
HDCN 6330 Psychopathology
HDCN 6349 Research Design and Statistics
HDCN 6340 Assessment

HDCN 6381 Ethics and Mental Health
HDCN 6395 Supervised Clinical Practicum I
HDCN 6398 Internship I
HDCN 6399 Internship II

ELECTIVE COURSES

Each track allows a variable number of electives. Academic Advisors encourage dual-track students to use courses available from one track as elective credit in another. Elective courses are offered based on instructor availability.

COURSES OF INDEPENDENT STUDY

When faculty availability and research projects permit, students may submit to the Program Director a formal request to complete up to two non-core courses (6 credit hours) as independent study. Only submissions outlining a specific study plan, formal assessments, and guided research/instruction with a designated/agreed instructor will be considered.

Students must submit their written request to the Program Director with the signature of their supervising instructor at least one term in advance of the requested start date.

TRANSFER HOURS

Accepted students may transfer up to six credit hours of graduate course work into the program. For consideration, students will supply a syllabus to the Counseling office for course content comparison. Additionally, the Director of the Program in Counseling will evaluate sufficiency of course content based on submitted transcripts. The Director will make a recommendation to the Dean of the School of Education and Human Development for final approval. If transfer hours are denied, the Counseling office will notify students. Students cannot submit hours earned toward the completion of another degree for transfer consideration.

NON-MAJOR ACADEMIC PLAN

Program in Counseling courses may be taken for non-major credit. Non-major students may take coursework toward the completion of state licensure requirements but not toward a degree. This academic plan is available to SMU Master of Science in Counseling graduates in order to complete coursework toward an additional license or certification. Returning graduates have six years from their initial matriculation at SMU to complete any non-major work. Graduates from other programs may take a limited number of courses as non-major students on a case-by-case basis. Students in non-degree earning programs (the Non-major Academic Plan) do not qualify for financial aid.

LICENSED CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY COUNSELOR (LCDC)

Students in any track of study within the Master of Science in Counseling degree program may take three additional courses (elective credit hours or extra credit hours) for partial completion of the state of Texas LCDC requirements. Students must earn internship hours within a drug treatment program and pass the written LCDC examination as well. Interested students can speak with an Academic Advisor for more information on LCDC course work or visit http://www.dshs.state.tx.us/lcdc/lcdc_exam.shtm for specific licensure guidelines.

LCDC Courses

HDCN 6353 Treatment Management

DEGREE PLANNING AND COURSE SEQUENCE

In order to build essential concepts for counseling, students must complete certain courses in a specific order and other course in a recommended sequence.

Note: Advanced General Psychology (for those students admitted without a psychology background) should be paired with Life Span Development in the first term. Introduction to Counseling must be taken in the second term paired with another course. Special Topics: Foundations of Behavioral Science must be taken before Research Design and Statistics. Students having a psychology background should follow the recommendations listed below.

Required first course for all tracks:

HDCN 6300 Introduction to Counseling

Recommended early course for all tracks:

HDCN 6320 Life Span Development

Next course for LPC and School Counselor tracks:

HDCN 6301 Counseling Theory

*strongly recommend taking within first few terms

Next course for LMFT track:

HDCN 6312 Family Therapy

*strongly recommend taking within first few terms

Since all three tracks (and dual-tracks) have some prerequisite courses, and certain classes are designated to be taken before or with Practicum and Internships I/II, students are urged to consult their advisor – early and often. A full list of classes to pair with Practicum and Internships I/II can be found on pg. 15.

Please note, students may pair a course with Practicum and/or Internship classes yet still be required to complete that course content in full before working with certain populations of clients. For example, before you are permitted to work with children in supervised training, a student must take a minimum of one child-focused counseling class such as HDCN 6343: Play Therapy for dealing with children 2-8 years of age, or HDCN 6324 Child Counseling for clients older than 9 years. The same is true before working with individuals with addictions, groups, couples, or working with families: LCDC courses, Group Methods, or some MFT coursework respectively should be completed.

ADVISING

Academic advisors provide guidance to SMU Counseling graduate students throughout their academic program. Students are encouraged to utilize their advisor as a resource for academic assistance and self-monitoring. Academic advisors may help students address problems or concerns regarding their progress in the program, negotiate a student conflict, or any other program-related issue.

ASSIGNMENT

Admitted students are appointed an academic advisor. Students initiate contact with their advisor for registration information and help with organizing course selections. By the completion of three courses (9 credit hours), students meet with their academic advisor to declare a curriculum track. Upon completing ten courses (30 credit hours), students should schedule an appointment to meet with their academic advisor for a formal Progress Assessment.

PROGRESS ASSESSMENT

Academic performance, integrity, and growth across courses comprise the Progress Assessment. Additionally, the student presents a plan and timetable for the completion of track study, including practicum and internship interests (Progress Assessment forms are available in the Counseling office or online by logging onto the Blackboard Counseling site).

CHANGING ADVISORS

Students are encouraged to remain with their assigned Academic Advisor throughout their program. Occasionally, a student may wish to change advisors. To change academic advisors, students complete and return a Change of Advisor Request form to the Program Specialist (the form is available in the Counseling office or online by logging onto the Blackboard Counseling site).

For more advising information and forms, log onto the Blackboard Counseling site.

COUNSELING EXPERIENCE

Counseling students participate in role playing and various other mock-counseling exercises as part of the embedded curriculum within multiple courses. Additionally, students take part in self-evaluative processes designed to encourage discovery and growth. To maintain a safe and supportive learning environment, student discussions regarding sensitive course material must occur only in class or privately with other current class members.

Respect and integrity for all persons frame course endeavors, particularly regarding issues of a delicate and/or controversial nature. All Counseling students will demonstrate behavior consistent with the Ethical Standards forwarded by:

- the ACA: online at www.counseling.org/Resources/CodeOfEthics/TP/Home/CT2.aspx
- the AAMFT: online at http://www.aamft.org/imis15/Content/Legal_Ethics/Code_of_Ethics.aspx
- the TCA: online at <http://www.txca.org/tca/Ethics1.asp?SnID=1>, (follows the Ethical Code forwarded by the ACA)
- Texas State Board of Examiners of Professional Counselors: http://www.dshs.state.tx.us/counselor/lpc_rules.doc
- Texas State Board of Examiners of Marriage & Family Therapists: http://www.dshs.state.tx.us/mft/mft_rul.doc
- Texas State Board for Educator Certification: http://info.sos.state.tx.us/pls/pub/readtac\$ext.ViewTAC?tac_view=4&ti=19&pt=7&ch=247&rl=Y

Failure to do so may result in termination from the Program in Counseling.

COUNSELING PRACTICUM AND INTERNSHIPS

All Program in Counseling students enroll in one course of Practicum (across two terms) and two courses of Supervised Internship. Any required direct or indirect hours not completed in one term of Practicum or Internship I/II carry over to the next term with approval from the supervisor. Students are required to complete any term in full for which they begin hours of client contact (including carry over hours) and assist with the transition of clients to new student counselees if necessary.

Students may begin Practicum with advisor approval upon completion of 42 credit hours. Included must be the required core and designated track classes (along with their prerequisites). These include: Assessment, Advanced Methods Individual, Family Systems, Ethics, and School Counseling. Students may choose to start Practicum later in their program; many students opt to complete all course work before beginning Practicum and Internships.

Note: HDCN 6395 Supervised Clinical Practicum cannot be started during the Summer term; students may enroll in HDCN 6395 Supervised Clinical Practicum in Fall, Winter, Spring, and May terms. Any student with unfinished Practicum hours from May term enrollment (or other applicable terms) may carry-over and complete these hours in the Summer term.

Prior to beginning practicum and internship hours, a Criminal History Background Check, through the Program in Counseling's designated vendor, must be completed and paid for by each student. Additionally, the curriculum requirements for licensure and certification are mandated by the state of Texas and can change at any time. Program requirements will adjust as dictated by state legislation and policy. Note: Decisions regarding criminal history standing and licensure are determined by the State of Texas licensing boards.

Students will receive a Practicum Handbook prior to beginning their training courses (Practicum and Internships I/II) at one of two mandatory Practicum meetings. Within this document, students will find policies and procedures related to working with clients in the Family Center, the Resource Center of Dallas, and at off-site internships. Also, students will be required to complete and pass a competency examination as part of their Practicum and Internship I/II curriculum. No student will be permitted to graduate without passing this proficiency exam in its entirety. Each track of study requires Supervisor approval before students may take licensure or certification examinations.

Practicum and Internship I & II take approximately one year to complete with Practicum taking a minimum of two terms. During all three courses, student progress is determined by the assigned supervisor and/or the Family Center Director on a case-by-case basis in conjunction with faculty feedback. A supervisor may require a student to complete more direct hours of contact (above the designated 40 hours), or reduce a student's client load, if the student is deemed skill deficient, requires additional mentoring, exhibits behavior of questionable professional integrity, or if the wellness of the student in training is of concern. Also, it is possible a highly proficient student in training may receive supervisor approval to complete direct client hours at an off-site location in advance of completing 40 hours of direct client contact at the Family Center. A grade of Incomplete (I) will be assigned at the conclusion of each term with a final grade assigned upon completion of all course requirements and client contact hours.

The clinical faculty and staff work to honor equitable dissemination of client cases to students for training purposes. Because of numerous factors beyond the control of faculty and staff such as inclement weather, client cancellations, student availability, and even student proficiency student progress varies. In each term, student progress as a group may differ overall from previous and subsequent terms. Students are encouraged to monitor their own progress and understand other students will progress at their own pace.

CHILDREN AND GUESTS IN CLASS

For the benefit of all Program in Counseling students, no children are allowed to accompany counseling students to class. Course content is geared for adult learners and may not be suitable for children. Additionally, students may not have unattended children in the building while in class.

The confidential nature of classroom instructions necessitates that adult guests not attend classroom instruction hours without advanced consent from the professor. Additionally, any guests of Program in Counseling students should check-in with the facilities offices of the SMU-in-Plano campus and wait quietly in public seating areas while unattended.

AUDIO-VISUAL AND ELECTRONIC RECORDING IN CLASS

Audiovisual and electronic recording of classroom lecture is strictly prohibited without the written consent of the course professor.

GENERAL POLICIES

The policies and procedures described herein serve as a quick-reference guide for Program in Counseling graduate students and do not represent a complete list. All Counseling graduate students remain responsible for understanding and upholding the policies and procedures outlined, in full, within the Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development Graduate Student Graduate Programs Bulletin (online at <http://www.smu.edu/education/aboutus/policiesprocedures.asp>).

PAYMENT

Students are responsible for adhering to the payment schedules set by the University and published online at <http://smu.edu/bursar/paymentduedates.asp>. Accordingly, students bear the responsibility for understanding and following Program in Counseling refund schedules for full length courses and short seminars, as well as loan dispersal deadlines.

FINANCIAL AID

Master of Science in Counseling students may qualify for Federal Financial Aid assistance (student loans). To apply for Federal Financial Aid, students complete (at no charge) the FAFSA form online at, www.fafsa.ed.gov/. The SMU Office of Financial Services recommends completing this form a minimum of three months prior to your expected start date. However, students may complete the form closer to registration and pay for courses out-of-pocket until the disbursal of funds. Qualifying students receive financial disbursements to their Access.SMU account through SMU to pay for classes. Any extra funds are disbursed directly to students by check.

In order to receive Federal funds, students must enroll and remain in two courses per term (a minimum of 6 credit hours) for every term requesting funds (including Summer term). If students drop below the minimum required credit hours per term, they may jeopardize their financial award. Since Summer term moves quickly (5 weeks), the Program in Counseling recommends that students utilize extra funds disbursed for other terms to cover Summer tuition. In this case, students are not bound to take two courses in 5 weeks.

Once students begin the Practicum phase of their curriculum, the HDCN 6049 Graduate Full-time Status course may be used to designate full-time enrollment while completing carry-over Practicum or Internship I & II supervision hours. It is the responsibility of the student to understand and utilize this course designation appropriately and under the guidance of their academic advisor.

For more information, visit the Financial Aid link at, http://smu.edu/financial_aid/Grad.asp.

REFUNDS

Students must adhere to the academic calendar for each term with regard to withdrawal and dropping policies. Students may obtain an academic calendar that includes a list of holidays, drop-dates, and refund rates. The Academic Calendar is posted online at <http://smu.edu/education/counseling/AcademicCalendar2011-12.asp> or you may obtain a copy from the Counseling office. Students who utilize SMU employee tuition benefits do not receive funds to retake a previously withdrawn course.

STATEMENT OF LIABILITY AWARENESS

Counseling students who role play as counselors or clients, or provide counseling services as part of their training, must uphold ethical and legal standards established in a therapeutic relationship. This responsibility demands that Counseling students familiarize themselves with the ethical standards of such organizations as the American Counseling Association, Texas State Board of Examiners of Professional Counselors, Texas Education Agency, American School Counselors Association, and Texas State Board of Examiners of Marriage and Family Therapists. Refer to page 13 for a list of websites where the ethical standards for each organization can be reviewed.

INSURANCE REQUIREMENT

Every student admitted and enrolled in the Program in Counseling must carry student liability insurance (also called Professional Liability Insurance) with minimum $1,000,000 incident/$1,000,000 aggregate covering on- and off-campus training. Students bear responsibility for securing, paying for, and maintaining liability coverage throughout the degree program. Southern Methodist University, the SMU Program in Counseling, and the State of Texas do NOT provide legal protection to students in training.

Students provide the Counseling office with documentation indicating proof of coverage, including dates of coverage, within the first term to be retained in their academic file. Enrollment in future terms is blocked for students who have not provided proof that they have current Professional Liability Insurance. Additionally, students must present proof of coverage to every instructor/course in which counseling practice occurs and keep this coverage current. It is the student's responsibility to provide the Counseling office and appropriate instructors with proof that the coverage has been renewed each year.

NON-DISCRIMINATORY STATEMENT

Southern Methodist University will not discriminate in any employment practice, education program, or educational activity on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability, or veteran status. SMU's commitment to equal opportunity includes nondiscrimination on the basis of sexual orientation.

The above represents the officially drafted statement of nondiscrimination for Southern Methodist University. For more information, students may contact the Office of Institutional Access and Equity at 214-768-3601 or online at <http://smu.edu/aao/>.

Right to know and other legal disclosures found online at <http://www.smu.edu/legal/>.

DISABILITY ACCOMMODATIONS

Counseling students with learning differences, medical, psychiatric, or physical conditions requiring special accommodations may seek guidance and assistance through the Altshuler Learning Enhancement Center DASS office at 214-768-4557 or online at <http://smu.edu/alec/dassdisaccom.asp>.

ENDORSEMENT POLICY

Students should make application for employment or internships related to the track of study that reflects their proficiency. The Program in Counseling faculty and staff endorse students verbally, orally, or in writing only to the extent that the student proves prepared and trained. Verification of course performance, academic standing, supervisor feedback, and graduation date will be checked thoroughly prior to endorsement.

ENROLLMENT

The Program in Counseling offers five terms of academic instruction from Fall through Summer. The terms; Fall, Winter, Spring, and May run ten weeks, while the Summer term lasts five weeks. Approximately twelve to fifteen full-length courses and two to four short seminars comprise each term (Summer term course offerings are usually fewer). Students may enroll in a maximum of two courses per term through the online registration system, Access, at <https://access.smu.edu/>.

Course offerings are posted online at least a term before each enrollment period at <http://smu.edu/education/counseling/courseseminarschedule.asp>. Students enrolled in a course that is cancelled due to low enrollment or instructor conflict will be notified by the Program in Counseling staff before the enrollment period closes.

DROPPING/WITHDRAWING

Counseling students must observe drop and withdraw deadlines regarding grades and refunds. Students may view the drop/withdrawal/refund schedule for each term online at the Counseling website. Students must notify the Counseling office and process withdrawal paperwork for all courses in the term. Medical withdrawals are allowed.

Note: Seminar drop dates differ from ten week courses. There are no refunds granted for seminar enrollees who drop the course within two weeks prior to the start date of an enrolled seminar.

STUDENT EVALUATIONS

Instructors complete an end-of-course student evaluation form for any student exhibiting deficient academic and/or behavioral performance. The student evaluation form assesses displayed academic and interpersonal skills during a given course and term. Student evaluations become a part of the academic record used to monitor student progress, including the ten-course formal Progress Assessment, and documented concerns may lead to student competency remediation.

STUDENT COMPETENCE

Counseling potential extends beyond academic performance; it includes a collection and demonstration of interpersonal skills. For this reason, student behaviors (i.e. open-mindedness, kindness, patience, communicative style, integrity, honesty, respect, classroom demeanor, etc.) are evaluated by faculty during the academic term. Faculty concerns regarding student competence are addressed so that a remediation process may begin. Failure to progress, adhere to sanctions, or refusal to comply with competency expectations may result in student expulsion from the Program in Counseling and SMU.

Procedures for Identifying Student Competency Concerns:

1. Instructor completes a Competency Concern and Remediation Report that details the specific concern(s) regarding student behavior as well as steps/procedures for remediation.
2. Instructor discusses the report with the student and provides a copy to the student. The concern will be shared with the Counseling faculty and Program Director as an informational item during the next faculty meeting.
3. The student may select one of three responses to the expressed faculty concern:
 - a. Follow the counsel for remediation described in the report.
 - b. Exit from the program.
 - c. Refuse to accept the evaluation and remediation, and appeal in writing to the Program Director within three days of the initial Instructor/student meeting. If a student fails to contact the Director within three days, the instructor specifications stand and the student MUST comply or withdrawal/expulsion procedures begin.

4. In the case of appeal, the Program Director will mediate a decision between the instructor and student regarding the evaluation and remedial report specifications. If no resolution results, a committee composed of one instructor-designated faculty member, one Director-appointed faculty member, and one student-designated faculty member will convene to evaluate the competency issue.
5. Each party, the instructor and student, provide the committee with written statements regarding the unresolved conflict surrounding the student competency evaluation. Additionally, a hearing will be held where each party verbally communicates their concern/grievance.
6. The committee will either waive the remediation stipulations or enforce the remediation stipulations within ten days of the hearing. The terms of the committee's decision will be presented in writing to the Program Director, instructor, and student.
7. Each party has ten days to appeal the decision in writing to the Dean of the Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development.
8. All records in this process are retained in the student's academic file.

PROBATION, SUSPENSION, AND DISMISSAL

Excerpt reprinted from the online Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development Graduate Programs Bulletin.

<http://www.smu.edu/education/aboutus/policiesprocedures.asp>.

Failure to meet established minimum acceptable standards of academic or disciplinary performance can result in probation, suspension, or dismissal.

Graduate students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.00. If in any term the student falls below this GPA, the student will be placed on probation for one term. If at the end of the term of probation the cumulative GPA is not up to 3.00, the student may be removed from the program at the discretion of the Program Director and/or Dean.

The status of academic probation is a stern warning to the student that satisfactory progress toward graduation is not being made. A student on probation is considered in "good standing" for certification purposes and is eligible to enroll. No entry is made on the permanent academic record. Students who are notified of probationary status are strongly urged to contact their academic adviser.

Suspension and Dismissal are involuntary separations of the student from his/her program. Suspension is for a set period of time. Dismissal is permanent. A suspended or dismissed student is not in good standing and is not eligible to enroll as a student during the suspension period. "Academic Suspension (or Dismissal)" is recorded on the permanent academic record.

COURSE EVALUATIONS

Students complete a course evaluation at the end of each term. Evaluations are administered in class without the instructor present. Unless revealed by the student, evaluation results remain anonymous and instructors view comments and rankings only after assignment of final term grades.

COURSE ATTENDANCE

Instructors utilize their own grading criteria concerning absences and tardiness but all courses are subject to the following attendance policies:

- Students should give instructors 24 hours' notice of any absence whenever possible.
- If a student must miss one class, it is the student's responsibility to get all material and assignments covered during their absence.
- A student's final grade will be impacted if two absences occur.
- A student missing more than two classes may, at the instructor's discretion:
 - receive a grade of Incomplete if the requirements to do so have been met (see the policy on Grades of Incomplete contained in this syllabus)
 - receive a failing grade for the course
 - drop or withdraw from the course (This option may have a financial and/or financial aid impact. Student should refer to the Add/Drop Policy and the Withdrawal Policy for the Counseling program which can be found at <http://smu.edu/education/counseling/AcademicCalendar2011-12.asp> then consult with the Program Specialist if they believe this option is a possibility.)

GRADING

Students view official grades online through the SMU Access system (<https://access.smu.edu/>) after the end of the term (including seminar courses). Students may provide an instructor with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, for returning exams (include adequate postage and envelope size). Some instructors leave final exams and papers for pick-up in the student box in the Counseling office.

Students may view grading expectations and grading scales on their course syllabus. All courses use an A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, etc. scale. Any one course grade below a B- must be retaken, earning a B- or higher, for academic credit. Students who earn two Cs or lower will be dismissed from the program.

The Program in Counseling upholds the following grading standard across all courses:

Grade	Performance Description	Range	GPA	Points
A	Exceptional	93 – 100	4.0	12.0
A-	High Pass	90 – 92	3.7	11.1
B+		87 – 89	3.3	9.9
B	Pass	83 – 86	3.0	9.0
B-		80 – 82	2.7	8.1
C+	Failure, any C or below	77 – 79	2.3	6.9
C		73 – 76	2.0	6.0
C-		70 – 72	1.7	5.1
D+		67 – 69	1.3	3.9
D		63 – 66	1.0	3.0
D-		60 – 62	0.7	2.1

HONOR CODE

Admission into the Program in Counseling binds students to the SMU Honor Code and subsequent sanctions if violated.

Excerpt reprinted from the online Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development Graduate Programs Bulletin.

All students attending the Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development are subject to the jurisdiction of the Honor Code and as such will be required to sign a pledge to uphold the Honor Code (www.smu.edu/studentlife). In support of the Honor Code, the Honor Council has the responsibility to maintain and promote academic integrity. The Honor Council is composed of a minimum of 27 members selected through an application and interview process organized by the Honor Council Executive Board. Five faculty members, nominated by the Faculty Senate, also serve on the Honor Council.

Academic dishonesty includes plagiarism, cheating, academic sabotage, facilitating academic dishonesty and fabrication. Plagiarism is prohibited in all papers, projects, take-home exams or any other assignments in which the student submits another's work as being his or her own. Cheating is defined as intentionally using or attempting to use unauthorized materials, information or study aids in any academic exercise. Academic sabotage is defined as intentionally taking any action that negatively affects the academic work of another student. Facilitating academic dishonesty is defined as intentionally or knowingly helping or attempting to help another to violate any provision of the Honor Code. Fabrication is defined as intentional and unauthorized falsification or invention of any information or citation in an academic exercise.

Suspected cases of academic dishonesty may be handled administratively by the appropriate faculty member in whose class the alleged infraction occurred or referred to the Honor Council for resolution. Suspected violations reported to the Honor Council by a student or by an instructor will be investigated and, if the evidence warrants, a hearing will be held by a board composed of a quorum of four members of the Honor Council.

Any appeal of an action taken by the Honor Council shall be submitted to the University Conduct Council in writing no later than four calendar days (excluding school holidays) after notification of the Honor Council's decision.

INCOMPLETES

Excerpt reprinted from the online Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development Graduate Programs Bulletin.

A student may receive a grade of Incomplete (I) if at least 50 percent of the course requirements have been completed with passing grades, but for some justifiable reason, acceptable to the instructor, the student has been unable to complete the full requirements of the course. At the time a grade of I is given, the instructor must stipulate in writing to the student and to the Office of the Registrar the requirements and completion date that are to be met and the grade that will be given if the requirements are not met by the completion date. The maximum period of time allowed to clear the Incomplete grade normally is 12 months. If the Incomplete grade is not cleared by the date set by the instructor or by the end of the 12-month deadline, the grade of I will be changed to the grade provided by the instructor at the time the Incomplete was assigned or to a grade of F if no alternate grade was provided. The grade of I is not given in lieu of a grade of F or W, or other grade, each of which is prescribed for other specific circumstances.

If the student's work is incomplete, poor quality and not acceptable, a grade of F will be given. The grade of I does not authorize a student to attend the course during a later term. Graduation candidates must clear all Incompletes prior to the deadline in the Official University Calendar, which may allow less time than 12 months. Failure to do so can result in removal from the degree candidacy list and/or conversion of the grade of I to the grade indicated by the instructor at the time the grade of I was given.

Failing is graded F. After such a grade, credit may be obtained only by repeating the course.

The grade of D represents performance below average expectations. Students receiving a D in a course that is a prerequisite to another course should consult with their adviser about repeating the course so that they will be adequately prepared for work in the following course.

The grade of W cannot be recorded unless completion of the official drop or withdrawal process has occurred by the applicable deadline during the term of enrollment. Only the grade of W may be recorded if the student has officially dropped courses from the schedule or withdrawn (resigned) from the University. The grade of W may not be revoked or changed to another grade because the act of officially dropping/withdrawing is irrevocable.

For graduate students, a maximum of two (six hours) concurrently held grades of Incomplete in courses other than thesis is allowed. If this maximum is reached, the student will be allowed to take only one three-hour course per term until the Incomplete total is reduced. Students who accumulate a total of three grades of Incomplete in courses other than thesis will be put on probation and not allowed to enroll further until the total is reduced.

CHANGES OF GRADES

Excerpt reprinted from the online Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development Graduate Programs Bulletin.

Changes of grades, including change of the grade of I, are initiated by the course instructor and authorized by the academic chair and by the academic dean of the school in which the course was offered. If a student requests a grade change, the instructor may ask the student to provide a written petition requesting the change of grade which may become an official part of any further process at the instructor's discretion. Changes of grades may be made only for the following authorized reasons: to clear a grade of I, to correct a processing error or to reflect a reevaluation of the student's original work. A change of grade will not be based on additional work options beyond those originally made available to the entire class.

Changes of grades of I should be processed within a calendar year of the original grade assignment. Other changes in grade must be processed by the end of the next regular term. No grade will be changed after 12 months or after a student's graduation except a grade successfully appealed, provided that written notice of appeal is given within six months following graduation, and in extenuating circumstances authorized by the academic dean and approved by the registrar.

GRADES FOR REPEATED COURSES

Excerpt reprinted from the online Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development Graduate Programs Bulletin.

Both the initial and the second grades will be on the student's permanent academic record. Both grades will be included in the calculation of the grade-point average and in the determination of academic probation, suspension, honors, and graduation. The courses a student can repeat are determined by the school of record.

GRIEVANCE AND GRADE APPEALS

Excerpt reprinted from the online Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development Graduate Programs Bulletin.

A student who feels that an assigned grade is other than the grade earned must first discuss the matter with the course instructor to determine if the discrepancy is caused by error or misunderstanding. At the time of the initial discussion, the student may be asked to provide a written petition requesting the change of grade.

A student who is not satisfied by the instructor's denial of a request for a grade change, and who maintains that the original grade was capriciously or unfairly determined, may appeal to the chairperson of the department in which the course was offered (or, in the case of a non-departmental course, to a faculty agent designated by the dean for the course). After discussing the matter with the student, and bearing in mind that the final authority in matters of academic judgment in the determination of a grade rests with the course instructor, the chair (or faculty agent) will consult with the course instructor, who will subsequently report to the student the disposition of the appeal.

A student who is not satisfied by the disposition of the appeal may appeal the decision to the Dean for the course. The Dean will take action as he or she deems appropriate. A student may appeal the Dean's decision to the Provost. In their actions, the Dean and the Provost must respect the principle that the determination of a grade rests with the course.

GRADUATION

APPLYING FOR GRADUATION

Once a student begins Practicum they must meet with their academic advisor to receive instruction for the completion of their degree. It is the responsibility of the student to understand procedures and adhere to the published deadlines for their conferral and graduation. Students missing the conferral deadline for a term must defer their conferral date to a future term.

Students submit a formal Application for Candidacy to Graduate (ACG) to the Counseling office well in advance of completing their final course work for a designated conferral term. If the various deadlines for the conferral term are missed, a new ACG must be filed for the future conferral term.

Graduation ceremonies occur twice per year: May and December. Graduates may confer their degree in each of the five terms.

You should contact the Program Specialist when you are ready to submit an ACG.

A fee for regalia (cap, gown, and hood) and diploma must be paid in advance. Filing the form and paying related fees when added to a student's account are the responsibility of the student.

STATEMENT REGARDING REQUIREMENTS

The SMU Program in Counseling provides and administrates a curriculum for earning a Master of Science in Counseling degree. Within this degree program, three tracks of study, LPC, LMFT, and School Counseling Certification, meet or exceed the minimum requirements for licensure or certification in the state of Texas.

The SMU Program in Counseling does not guarantee licensure, certification, or employment upon degree completion. It is the responsibility of each student to continue post graduate work for the desired licensure or certification.

Students should check the state-maintained online site for each license and certification of interest to stay abreast of relevant updates or changes, including important testing dates.

It is the responsibility of each student interested in potential licensure or certification outside of Texas to understand Texas rules of reciprocity as well as the guidelines for their state(s) of interest.

Prior to graduation, all students must meet with the Associate Director of Supervision before taking any of the state certification/licensure exams.

STUDENT RESOURCES

SMU IDENTIFICATION CARD

Every admitted Counseling student receives an SMU ID number. This SMU ID number allows students to access information online for enrollment and research, and to utilize other campus resources like the Blackboard online education system. Students are encouraged to secure a photo SMU ID by going to the main campus and visiting the Park N' Pony office (additional online information available at <http://smu.edu/parknpony/>). Students can receive discounts throughout the DFW area using their SMU ID.

TEXTBOOKS

BOOKSTORE

Required course textbooks are available through the SMU Barnes & Noble Bookstore near main campus on Mockingbird Lane. Students may purchase textbooks at any book retailer or online. A book list for each course is posted during the enrollment period online through the Program in Counseling website at <http://smu.edu/education/counseling/courseseminarschedule.asp>.

RECOMMENDED BOOKS

Students are encouraged to retain their course textbooks for building their professional resource library. Additionally, certain reference materials are recommended to help counseling students throughout their academic program: the current DSM, a pocket version DSM, and a current APA style book.

APA STYLE

Program in Counseling graduate students are expected to understand and adhere to the American Psychological Association Style in all formal writing assignments during their academic tenure at SMU. It is recommended every student purchase an APA style book at the start of their core course work.

MAIN CAMPUS SERVICES

FONDREN SCIENCE LIBRARY

Counseling students may secure materials from the Fondren Library, as well as all other campus libraries, with an SMU ID card. To access online resources at SMU Central University Libraries (<http://www.smu.edu/cul/or/index.html>), students must request a 14-digit barcode at <http://smu.edu/cul/distance/oca/help-no-barcode.html> if they do not have an SMU ID card.

WEB RESOURCES

BLACKBOARD

The Program in Counseling utilizes the SMU online education system Blackboard to communicate with students through Announcements, Discussion Forums, and scheduled Live Chats. Additionally, many Counseling instructors use the Blackboard system as an online teaching tool for course assignments. Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with the system upon admission and refer to the site weekly to stay connected with the Program in Counseling community of learners and educators.

FORMS

Any form that a student will need during their academic program can be found in the Counseling office, online at the SMU website, or on the Blackboard Program in Counseling page. If at any time a student has difficulty locating a necessary form, their academic advisor is available for assistance.

ACCESS

Every student enrolled at SMU must use the online Access software system for enrollment, financial query, personal record maintenance, and grade viewing, as well as other official University business. Instructions for using the system can be found online at access.smu.edu.

SMU EMAIL

Admitted SMU students each receive an official SMU email account. This email account should be used for all school-related correspondence. Notifications from the Counseling office and instructors are delivered through the SMU email system. It is the responsibility of the student to view and maintain this email account on a regular basis.
