

COME ABOARD ... SMU IS CASTING FOR AN INSTRUCTOR

SMU CONTINUING AND PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION

SMU's adult education Creative Writing Program seeks a fiction author with at least two published novels to join their teaching crew.

The course is set – curriculum for how to write a novel is provided. Act as a compass: the instructor will share personal experience and knowledge from his or her own writing voyage.

Classes set sail in the evenings and the position is paid.

Preference will be given to candidates with previous teaching experience. Kindly respond to smuthink@smu.edu. Don't miss the boat!

At the 2007 SMU Writer's Seminar in New York, three students entertained four offers for representation – one extended on the spot. Could you be next? At SMU, writers write. Visit smu.edu/creativewriting for more information.
