ELIGIBILITY

You are required to have a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution in the United States or proof of equivalent training at a foreign university. All applicants must have adequate subject preparation: an academic major or teaching field and a 3.0 overall undergraduate grade-point average. Students whose GPA is below 3.0 must request exemption in writing from this requirement. The request for exemption must provide evidence of other qualifications such as long-term experience or expertise in a related specialized field. The Department of Teaching and Learning in the Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development on the recommendation of the Masters' Programs Committee gives the ultimate approval for admission to graduate study.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

General Requirements:

1. Complete the application form. All questions must be answered with correct information.
2. Enclose a $75 application fee (check or money order) with the application. This fee is non-refundable. Note: If you have previously paid an application fee to a graduate program in the Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development, the $75 fee is waived.
3. Request a set of official "sealed" transcripts, certified and translated if from a foreign institution,* stating the degree and date your undergraduate degree has been conferred directly from the school of higher education you attended and a set of "sealed" transcripts from additional schools of higher education you attended. No copies will be accepted.
4. Request the official scores on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) (within the last 5 years). We require all three parts of the GRE: (a) Analytical Writing (b) Verbal Reasoning (c) Quantitative Reasoning. Total minimum score for combined Verbal and Quantitative Reasoning sections is 1000 and minimum for Analytical Writing is 4.5. Applicants not meeting this requirement must request exemption in writing from this requirement and must also provide evidence of other qualifications, such as long-term experience or expertise in a related specialized field as justification for consideration for admission.
5. Request the official scores for the TOEFL to be sent (if required; see below).
6. Distribute three recommendation forms and ask that they be sent directly to the Department of Teaching and Learning. Select respondents who can attest to your academic ability, your teaching abilities, and your personal qualities. If you are currently teaching, one recommendation must be from your principal or other supervisor.
7. Submit a Statement of Purpose. The Statement of Purpose demonstrates your competence in speaking and writing the English language and your ability to think critically. The Statement of Purpose should be a 2-3 page (500 – 750 words) written statement of how your career goals would be enhanced by realizing the goals of the program. The goals of all programs in the Department of Teaching and Learning are stated in our Conceptual Framework, which can be found on the last page of this Application. At least 3 of the 4 goals must be addressed in your essay.

Additional Requirements for International Students:

8. International students applying from countries where English is not the native language are required to provide scores on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL).
9. As evidence of financial support, foreign students must provide a Certification of Finance Form/Letter of Financial Backing. This should represent that sufficient money will be available to the applicant to cover all expenses while at the University. This letter may be signed by a parent or sponsor but must be certified by a bank. The document must be notarized and on file before the process for visas and passport can proceed. (See next page for additional information regarding foreign applicants.)

General

Admission — Only the Chair of the Department of Teaching and Learning is authorized to notify the applicant of his or her acceptance to this graduate program in the Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development. Applicants should not interpret any statement made in casual correspondence with any University faculty or staff member to mean that he or she has been admitted. Official notification will be sent through the Department of Teaching and Learning office and signed by the Department Chair.

Financial Obligations — Students are responsible individually for their financial obligations to the University through the Office of the University Cashier, SMU, Dallas, Texas 75275, USA. Questions regarding financial procedures at SMU should be taken up with the cashier’s office.

Transfer Students — Graduate students wishing to transfer to Southern Methodist University from another graduate school in the U.S. must have maintained a “B” average on all graduate work previously attempted in addition to satisfying the other admission requirements of the University. Applicants may request transfer of no more than 6 hours earned within the five (5) years prior to acceptance into a graduate program in the Simmons School of Education.

For International Students

Passports and Visas — Before the international student may leave home, both a passport and a visa are required. The government of the student’s home country is responsible for issuing the passport. If the international student is accepted by the Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development, a letter of acceptance will be sent from the Department of Teaching and Learning. The SMU International Advisers’ Office will send an I-20 form (F-1 visa) or IAP-66 (J-1 visa) once the financial support has been verified. It is important that the name on the application matches exactly the name on the student’s passport.

To meet U. S. government regulations, the international graduate student on the F-1 or J-1 visa must take at least nine semester hours each semester to qualify as a full-time student.

Health Insurance — All international students must be covered by hospitalization insurance and must show proof of such insurance at the time of registration. Coverage may be obtained individually or through the University for an annual fee of approximately $1244. In addition, students purchasing this insurance are required to be eligible to use the Student Health Center, which may require an additional amount of approximately $120 per semester. Additional information about this requirement can be obtained through the International Advisers’ Office - smuvisa@smu.edu. Students will need to provide a record of immunizations on the SMU health form, which is mailed to all incoming students.

Degrees from Foreign Universities — International applicants who hold a bachelor’s degree should not assume that these degrees will be automatically accepted in US universities. Decisions will be made on the academic standings of the institutions from which the applicant graduated. Professional diplomas and higher certificates from technical or vocational schools are normally not considered as equal to a bachelor’s degree. *Students submitting transcripts from foreign universities must submit an evaluation of their transcript from an SMU approved evaluation service. Call the Department of Teaching and Learning (214) 768-2346 or email teacher@smu.edu for a list of approved service providers.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

The Department of Teaching and Learning includes educators dedicated to ongoing, rigorous scholarship across a variety of disciplines. Our faculty is committed to educating undergraduate and graduate students to become scholars and leaders. Our teaching and research are grounded in multiple perspectives that encompass behaviorist, cognitive, social-constructivist, and sociocultural approaches to scholarship. We prepare educators who are:

- a. Scholars and Leaders in Professionalism. Our students display intellectual curiosity, engage in critical thinking, and model collaboration in their professional interactions. Through classroom-based and field-based learning experiences, undergraduate students develop and refine the positive attitudes and dispositions, which characterize teacher leaders. Graduate students continue the journey of lifelong learning through reflective and evidence-based practice and informed implementation of innovation.
- b. Educators Committed to High-Quality Teaching. Our students stay well versed in the most current and available research from quantitative, qualitative, mixed methods, and multidisciplinary studies. They use the latest scholarship to guide their classroom practices and instructional design. Our courses in all the degree programs include clearly laid out competency-based requirements that emphasize high-quality teaching.
- c. Leaders in Translating Evidence-Based Research into the Classroom. Undergraduate students implement teaching strategies that have been proven to be effective, becoming leaders in the schools where they teach. Master's students become critical consumers of research and will lead their colleagues in efforts to translate research to practice. Doctoral students become active researchers as they work beside faculty in grant-funded research to expand scientific knowledge and disseminate research findings.
- d. Experts in Differentiated Instruction. Our students are sensitive and responsive to diverse learners. Graduates adapt their educational methods to meet the needs of all students across linguistic, developmental, cognitive, ethnic, gender, and sociocultural variations. They are committed to creating learning environments that address the full range of human potential and human development
