

International Law Review Association

The International Law Review Association (ILRA) is responsible for the publication of two journals—The International Lawyer (TIL) and the Law & Business Review of the Americas (LBRA).

- 🌐 The International Lawyer is the official quarterly publication of the American Bar Association's Section of International Law and Practice. It currently enjoys subscriptions of over 17,000 readers (second only to the Harvard Law Review) in more than 75 countries. It focuses primarily on practical issues of international law, including international trade, licensing, direct investment, finance, taxation, litigation, and dispute resolution.
- 🌐 The Law and Business Review of the Americas is a quarterly publication addressing the legal, business, economic, political, and social dimensions of Western Hemispheric integration efforts (e.g. NAFTA, FTAA, MERCOSUR, etc.), their implementation, their future evolution and expansion, and their overall impact on doing business in the Americas.

Given the subject matter of both of its journals, the ILRA offers its members the unique opportunity to interact with a diverse range of issues and sources of international law. ILRA Members are responsible for checking citations and editing articles on topics of international law. During their first year, ILRA Members will also be required to write both a Case Note and Comment on an emerging topic of international law.

ILRA Membership Information:

- ✓ ILRA typically extends invitations to 45 to 50 new editors each year.
- ✓ Offers are automatically extended to those students who are in the top 25 percent of the 1L class who exhibit a good faith effort in the write-on competition.
- ✓ Additional invitations will be extended based upon some combination of (1) performance in the write-on competition, (2) class ranking, (3) a specific interest in international law, and (4) foreign language skills.
- ✓ The ILRA will consider both rising 2Ls as well as rising 3Ls and 3Es in extending invitations to new members.
- ✓ ILRA requires a two-year time commitment from rising 2Ls invited to join.
