

MUGELLO VALLEY ARCHAEOLOGICAL PROJECT and Poggio Colla Field School

2005

Field School Manual

CREDITS

This edition of the Poggio Colla Field manual was compiled by Jess Galloway, based on previous editions and with assistance from Dr. Gregory Warden and Dr. Michael Thomas. The site plan is by Jess Galloway, excavation architect. The archaeo-topographic plan is by Mark Corney, excavation survey consultant. The cover illustration, of a map of the Arx, is by Kathy Windrow.

Articles in the Journal of Roman Archaeology, Etruscan Studies, and the American Journal of Numismatics are copyrighted and may not be reproduced in any form without permission of the authors/publishers.

Sections on ethics, professional standards, institutional standards, and standards for field schools are adapted (slightly) and reprinted from the web page of the Society of Professional Archaeology: <http://www.smu.edu/~anthrop/sopa.html>

The bibliography is a work in progress. Additions and corrections are welcome.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

We would like to acknowledge the support of our three sponsoring institutions: Southern Methodist University, Franklin and Marshall College, and the University of Pennsylvania Museum of Archaeology. At SMU we are grateful to Carole Brandt, Dean of the Meadows School of the Arts, and to Ben Wallace and his staff at the Office of International Programs (Karen Westergaard, Mary Beth Lewis, Jaynell Harrell, and Nancy Simmons). At Franklin and Marshall we owe a debt of thanks to Bruce Pipes, Provost and John A. Fry, President. At the University Museum we wish to acknowledge Jeremy Sabloff, Williams Director, as well as to David Romano, Mediterranean Section.

Our friends in Italy, without whose support our work would not be possible, should also be acknowledged: Dr. Angelo Bottini, Soprintendente Archeologico della Toscana, for permission to work at Poggio Colla, as well to Dr. Luca Fedeli, Archaeological Inspector of the Mugello, for his help and good counsel. Andrea and Lorenza Santoni, their family, and the Gruppo Archeologico di Vicchio, have done so much to help us that it is difficult to thank them properly in this short space. We also wish to express our gratitude to the people and the Comune of Vicchio for all they have done for this project, and to our other friends in Vichio and Dicomano who have helped us in so many ways: Giuseppe Ancarani, Luca and Monika Cateni, and Filippo Viola.
