COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

Megha Tolia

Megha Tolia is president and COO of Shondaland, the television production company founded by renowned Hollywood showrunner, storyteller and writer Shonda Rhimes, creator of Grey's Anatomy, Scandal, Bridgerton and Inventing Anna. She also currently serves as the co-founding director of the William S. Spears Institute for Entrepreneurial Leadership at the Cox School of Business.

Megha began her professional career as a brand manager for Neutrogena, spending the last 20 years building and operating mission-driven, consumer-centric, innovative brands. Prior to Shondaland, Megha spent eight years managing several businesses for SC Johnson, including Method, Ecover, Mrs. Meyers and Babyganics.

Megha holds a bachelor's degree from the University of California, Berkeley and an MBA from Harvard Business School.

Nirav Tolia

Nirav Tolia has spent the last 24 years creating and leading pioneering consumer internet companies. He is currently the co-founder and chief executive officer of Nextdoor, the neighborhood network. He also serves as chairman of Hedosophia, a leading technology investment firm and early investor in Nextdoor.

Before co-founding Nextdoor, Nirav was an entrepreneur-in-residence at Benchmark Capital; chief operating officer of Shopping.com, an online shopping website; and co-founder and CEO of Epinions.com, a consumer review website company. In September 2023, he was named co-founding director of the William S. Spears Institute for Entrepreneurial Leadership at the Cox School of Business.

Nirav holds a bachelor's degree from Stanford University. He returned to his alma mater in 2019 as a visiting instructor for the Stanford in Florence program.

HONORARY DEGREE

Opal Lee

Opal Lee is a retired educator and children's counselor whose activism helped establish June 19 or "Juneteenth" as a federal holiday recognizing the enforcement of the Emancipation Proclamation in Texas.

Known as the "Grandmother of Juneteenth," Lee was born in Marshall, Texas, in 1926. At age 12 – on June 19, 1939 – her family's Fort Worth home was destroyed by a racist mob. This event set in motion Lee's advocacy on behalf of Black Americans, culminating in a symbolic walking campaign at age 89 from Fort Worth to Washington, D.C. to convince lawmakers to designate Juneteenth as a federal holiday. She has served with several boards and organizations, including Citizens Concerned with Human Dignity (CCHD), Habitat for Humanity, and the Tarrant County Black Historical and Genealogical Society, an organization dedicated to preserving the history of the Fort Worth Black populace. As chairman of the Community Food Bank, she secured a $1.3 million facility which now aids 500 families daily.

Lee currently serves on the board of Unity Unlimited, Inc., Transform 1012 N. Main Street, and is also a board member and honorary chair of the National Juneteenth Museum. She has received seven honorary doctorates, has been named 2021 Texan of the Year by The Dallas Morning News, the 2021 Unsung Hero of the Pandemic, Fort Worth Inc.'s 2022 Person of the Year, and was nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize. In 2023, she became the second African American to have her portrait hung in the Texas State Senate. In May 2024, the White House announced her as one of 19 recipients of the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the nation's highest civilian honor. Lee received her bachelor's degree in elementary education from Wiley College and her master's in counseling from the University of North Texas.

For her dedication to promoting the importance of Juneteenth, SMU is honored to confer the degree Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.

Southern Methodist University

In 1911, a Methodist education commission made a commitment to establish a major Methodist university in Texas. More than 600 acres of open prairie and $300,000 pledged by a group of Dallas citizens secured the university for Dallas, and it was chartered as Southern Methodist University. In appreciation of the city's support, the first building to be constructed on the campus was named Dallas Hall. It remains the centerpiece and symbol of SMU. When the University opened in 1915, it consisted of two buildings, 706 students, a 35-member faculty and total assets of $636,540. The original schools of SMU were the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Theology and the School of Music.

Today SMU offers more than 117 undergraduate majors, master's degrees in more than 122 areas, doctoral degrees in 35 fields and more than 77 certificate programs. Enrollment for the 2023-2024 term was 11,853, including 7,126 undergraduate students and 4,727 graduate students. SMU students come from 48 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and 90 countries. About 73% of first-year students received some form of financial assistance.

In addition to preparing students for graduate and professional schools, or more directly for their life's work, the University strives to enhance their social, moral, intellectual and religious development so that they may lead worthy lives as individuals and citizens of the nation and of the world.

Academic Procession, Regalia Tradition and SMU Regalia

The academic procession and the regalia worn by the faculty and officers of the University symbolically represent the continuing link between the modern American university and the founding of the great medieval universities in Europe – chief among them Bologna, Paris and Oxford. As those institutions were derived from the Catholic Church, the universities adopted many of the ceremonial trappings of the church in their official public functions.

The caps and gowns worn in the procession vary from place to place. There are variations in design to indicate the degrees held by the wearers, and many universities in America have introduced colorful gowns and other distinguishing details (in place of the customary clerical black from which all originated). The caps, too, vary according to the customs of the university from which the wearer received a degree. While most American universities adopted the "mortarboard" style of Oxford, others have chosen styles based on other European institutions. The color of the tassel worn with the cap may be black for any degree, or the color may be that of the faculty of the major field of learning (e.g., arts, engineering, law). Persons holding doctoral degrees and governing officials of institutions are entitled to wear tassels of gold metallic thread.

Within the great varieties of styles and colors in gowns and caps, there has been one universally accepted code for the hood worn trailing down the wearer's back. Originally, it was like the hood on the habit worn by monks and very useful for protection against the weather and even for begging for alms. Nowadays, the hood through length and color shows the degree and the specialization of the wearer, and the university that granted the degree.

Candidates for degrees at SMU are robed in custom regalia, designed to incorporate SMU's colors and symbols.

The doctoral gown in dark blue includes velvet chevrons on each of the bell sleeves. The front velvet panels are embroidered in gold thread with the SMU seal, and gold braid outlines the chevrons and panels. An eight-sided, crimson red velvet tam with a gold silk tassel completes the regalia.

The master's gown, also in dark blue, has a front yolk outlined in red braid, and the SMU seal is embroidered in red on the left side. Gowns have a long sleeve through a slit at the wrist. A mortarboard with a colored tassel representing the discipline in which the degree is earned also is worn.

Doctoral and master's candidates wear hoods that are 3½ feet long and 4 feet long, respectively. SMU's hood lining is blue with red chevron.

The bachelor's gowns' distinguishing characteristics are the long pointed sleeves and full front pleats. A red silk Stole of Gratitude embroidered in blue with the SMU seal is worn across the shoulders. It is tradition for graduates to present their stoles to individuals who have made a positive impact in their lives. Bachelor's gowns are worn with a tassel and mortarboard.

Through these colorful ceremonies, SMU symbolically displays the continuity of its educational purposes with the origins of organized learning in the Western world.

The Howard Lantern

The Howard Lantern is dedicated to Professor Lorn Lambier Howard, chief marshal emeritus of SMU from 1978–1987. Crafted out of steel, aluminum and water glass, the lantern depicts the Rotunda of Dallas Hall. Engraved around the base is the University's motto, Veritas Liberabit Vos, which means "The truth will make you free."

Around the top band are the words to Varsity, SMU's alma mater. The lantern serves as a reminder of the important traditions that make up our University life and the light of learning and intellectual curiosity that shines within the students, faculty and staff at SMU.

Presidential Collar and Medallion

Chains of office, also known as collars, were used as badges of office in the Middle Ages. Today they are custom-designed metal necklaces worn by the president during academic ceremonies as part of his or her regalia.

The chain of office designed for the 10th president of SMU, R. Gerald Turner, is made of bronze, a strong and durable metal. The medallion of the necklace is dominated by the University seal design, just as the seal is the centerpiece in the floor of the Rotunda in Dallas Hall, SMU's historic first building.

The bail, joining the medallion and the chain, represents the institution's bond between the faculty and the student body. Equally, the 32-inch chain, a work of art whose two ends are clasped together, represents the joining of the desire to teach and the eagerness to learn demonstrated by SMU's faculty and students.

The University Mace

Staffs that call groups to order are as old as civilization itself. Today's ceremonial maces descend particularly from medieval armor-piercing clubs topped by bludgeoning balls. These fierce weapons swiftly acquired symbolic meaning. By the 14th century, a mace, carried at the front of formal processions, required bystanders to note the authority and integrity of the event. In the 16th century, this formidable weapon lost its battle utility but took a symbolic turn: the spiked head evolved into a decorative orb. The European tradition by which universities presented maces on solemn occasions to signify their independence and protective power was adopted by their successors worldwide. The mace-bearer, who is the president of the Faculty Senate, leads formal ceremonies carrying this visible reminder of the University's history and status.

The 22-pound mace currently in use at SMU is linked to the inauguration of President Willis M. Tate (1954–1972 and 1974–75) and is known as the Tate Mace. The 57-inch staff is topped by a 10½-inch orb that represents not only the University's worldly authority but also echoes its distinctive neoclassical style. The orb is impressed with the seal of the University and is encircled with SMU's motto, Veritas Liberabit Vos ("The truth will make you free"). Surmounting the orb is a cross painted vividly in SMU red, a reminder of SMU's religious heritage.

The Bradley Kent Carter Baton

The Bradley Kent Carter Baton is carried by the chief marshal during academic ceremonies and represents the authority of the collective faculty in the academic life of the institution and of the role of chief marshal as master of ceremonies at formal university convocations.

A tradition dating back 500 years ago to the University of Oxford, the chief marshal oversees the faculty members of the Guild of Marshals. Faculty marshals are responsible for the execution of the ceremony, the upholding of decorum and traditions, and the processions of candidates, faculty and the platform party. SMU's marshals are identified by their bright red gowns with black chevrons.

The Carter Baton is dedicated to Associate Professor Emeritus of Political Science and chief marshal Emeritus Bradley Kent Carter, who served for many years in the Guild of Marshals before serving as chief marshal from 1991–2008. Professor Carter is a staunch supporter of the traditions and customs of academic ceremonies, but also added his own mark in fostering a number of the traditions now celebrated.

Made from rosewood, the Carter Baton initially served as the University's first official academic ceremonial mace until it was replaced in 1954 by the Tate Mace, currently still in use. The orb of the Carter Baton bears the seal of SMU. In the fall of 2017, it was refurbished with bronze bands honoring all known chief marshals in SMU's history. During the ceremony it is placed on a custom stand. The original designer and manufacturer of the baton are unknown. Refurbishment was completed by Medallic Art Company.

SMU

SMU is the nationally ranked global research university in the dynamic city of Dallas. SMU's alumni, faculty and more than 12,000 students in eight degree-granting schools demonstrate an entrepreneurial spirit as they lead change in their professions, communities and the world. Building on its history of excellence, the University has launched SMU Ignited: Boldly Shaping Tomorrow – a multiyear $1.5 billion campaign to empower outstanding students, to enrich teaching and research, and to enhance our campus and community.

A Message from the Young Alumni Chair

Class of '24,

Congratulations, SMU alum! (Did reading that make you smile? I hope so.) As chair of SMU's Young Alumni Board, I want to be among the first to welcome you to the SMU alumni family.

If your Commencement Weekend is anything like mine was, it will feel like a blur. In fact, so will the next few years after graduation. Before you know it, you'll be making plans to attend your five-year reunion. Remember to take it easy as you look to change the world. Take a few deep breaths, live a little and be fully present to enjoy the moments as they come.

Hopefully, reading this letter is a good start. I invite you to reflect on the group of people who assisted you in your life's journey so far – family, friends, classmates, counselors, professors and others. Now include 135,000 more people in that number. The truth is – whether you knew it or not – SMU alumni around the world have been giving their time, talent and treasure to help shape your journey from the moment you were admitted to SMU. Why? Because, much like you, we alumni graduated from SMU believing anything was possible, and we understood the role that other alumni played in helping us maintain that belief through the good and bad times.

So, while we left to play the game we'd been training for, our time on the Hilltop continued to hold a special spot in our hearts, and we continued to Pony Up and push SMU forward in the service of you. We followed the alumni before us in this noble vision, and we won't stop now. The SMU alumni network is strong. In fact, we're even stronger now because you're joining us.

Our greatest strength is that we help shape each other and the world changers who come after us. So, as you begin your alumni journey, here's my challenge for you: Go take risks, help people and change the world, but while you're doing it, don't forget about this vision and the friends you made along the way. Stay connected, informed and invested with your fellow alumni and with SMU.

Join us for alumni events, network for career opportunities (we love to hear from recent grads), cheer on Mustang Athletics, volunteer to recruit future Mustangs, connect with your friends and hit us up to serve on boards like the Young Alumni Board. Follow SMU news and social media channels and keep your alma mater up to date with what's happening in your life. Starting a new business venture or have new contact information? The SMU Office of Alumni Relations and I want to know. Visit smu.edu/update to share it. And when SMU Giving Day rolls around, give back to support the students on campus right now who are still building up their confidence with a gift that shows them you're here for them. Our generosity adds up.

We are excited to see what the future holds for you, world changer. Remember – together, the SMU alumni network is an unstoppable force, and we're stronger because of you.

See you around the Hilltop soon, SMU alum!

Pony Up!
