

DEDMAN COLLEGE

GENERAL INFORMATION

Dedman College is the heart of SMU. It is home to the humanities, social and behavioral sciences, mathematics, and natural sciences – disciplines central to the traditions of higher education.

In 1915 when SMU opened the doors of Dallas Hall to welcome the first class of students, those students matriculated into the College of Arts and Sciences, the academic unit that would eventually become Dedman College. In 1963, with the formulation of the Master Plan, the college became the School of Humanities and Sciences in recognition of its role in the specialized education of students in the liberal arts. From 1963 until 1980, the basic liberal arts education for all SMU students was provided by University College, an independent, nondegree granting academic unit.

The School of Humanities and Sciences was merged in 1980 with University College to create a new entity central to the enterprise of undergraduate education. It would not only provide the basic foundations in liberal arts education to all SMU students through the General Education Curriculum but also serve as a center for the integration of specialized education in the humanities, social sciences and natural sciences. As an indication of its centrality to the educational process, the name was changed from school to college, emphasizing that it is a community of students and teachers, whose life together, no matter how diversified and specialized, is unified by the implicit and explicit values derived from a liberal arts education. In 1981, the newly formed college was endowed by the late Robert H. Dedman, Sr., and his wife, Nancy McMillan Dedman, and became Dedman College.

In addition to being the oldest academic unit at SMU, Dedman College is also the largest. In 2009, some 1,400 undergraduate students majored in Dedman College programs, and the school enrolled just under 350 graduate students. More than 270 full-time faculty are based in the college. Undergraduate students in Dedman College may major in any one of 50 programs and choose from 51 minor programs. The college offers 18 graduate programs leading to a Master's degree and 13 programs leading to a Ph.D. degree. Its 16 academic departments include: Anthropology, Biological Sciences, Chemistry, Earth Sciences, Economics, English, Foreign Languages and Literatures, History, Mathematics, Philosophy, Physics, Political Science, Psychology, Religious Studies, Sociology, and Statistical Science.

Specific degree requirements and additional information for any of these programs can be found in the departmental sections of this catalog.

Dedman College students may also complete minors in other schools on campus, including the Cox School of Business, the Meadows School of the Arts and the Lyle School of Engineering. Interested students should contact the Office of the Dean in those schools concerning specific requirements.

HONORS PROGRAMS

During their first and second years at SMU, a number of Dedman College students participate in the University Honors Program, described in the Academic Programs section of this catalog, and subsequently graduate with "Honors in the Liberal Arts."

DEPARTMENTAL DISTINCTION

Students participating in the University Honors Program are encouraged to join the Departmental Distinction Program to earn the designation of "Liberal Arts Honors With Departmental Distinction" on their transcripts.

During their junior and senior years, students may participate in the honors courses and seminars offered within their major departments. A variety of internships and research programs are also offered in some departments to provide practical exposure and experience within the disciplines. More specific information on the programs in each department can be found in the Courses of Study in Dedman College section.

Successful completion of the departmental honors program earns the student "Departmental Distinction."

PROGRAMS FOR PREPROFESSIONAL STUDENTS

Before arranging a program in Dedman College, the preprofessional student should become familiar with the entrance requirements of the particular professional school that the student intends to enter. Requirements differ to some extent even within the same profession, and the student will find that some schools require that specific courses be included in the preprofessional training.

Prelaw

To be a prelaw student at SMU does not require any particular major or academic program. Prelaw seniors who go on to law school may have majors in all four undergraduate schools. Success in law school requires skills in critical analysis, logical reasoning, and written and oral expression. Students should keep in mind that the spoken and written word are the principal tools of the legal profession. Students who intend to study law must develop an excellent knowledge and grasp of the English language as well as a clear and concise style of expression.

A sound liberal arts education is valuable for prelaw students. Courses in political science, history, economics, statistics and anthropology help a student understand the structure of society and the problems of social ordering with which the law is concerned.

The study of philosophy, literature, fine arts, foreign languages and other cultures imparts familiarity with traditions of universal thought and trends that have influenced or tend to influence legal developments nationally and internationally. The examination of human behavior in sociology and psychology will aid the prospective law student in understanding the types and effects of human behavior with which law is involved.

The systematic ordering of abstractions and ideas acquired by studying logic and the sciences contributes much to a prelaw student's capacity to analyze, understand and rationally organize his or her thoughts. And, in some fields of law practice, it is useful for a student to have a fundamental knowledge of technology, engineering, computers and accounting.

Admission to Law Schools

Candidates for admission to an American Bar Association-approved school of law must take the Law School Admission Test administered by the national Law School Admission Council. Candidates are urged to take the test on the June, October or December testing dates of the fall term in which they apply to law school.

Except in very rare circumstances, all approved law schools require that an applicant for admission has been granted a Bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university.

For additional prelaw information, as well as assistance in the application process, undergraduate students may consult the prelaw services in the Dedman College Advising Center.

Admission to Dedman School of Law

Admission to Dedman School of Law is by selection based upon the academic record of the applicant, the applicant's Law School Admission Test score and other available data. For more information, contact the Admissions Officer, Dedman School of Law, PO Box 750110, Dallas TX 75275-0110, or visit www.law.smu.edu/admissions.

Premedical/Dental

Medical and dental schools seek students who have demonstrated strength in their major – any major of the student's choosing – and in the sciences. There is no preferred major. Honors work is appropriate.

Most medical and dental schools require the following coursework for entry. These courses should be completed by the end of the junior year: English, six hours; mathematics (including calculus), six hours; biology, eight to 14 hours (14 for Texas medical schools); chemistry, 16 hours; and physics, eight hours. In addition, some schools require biochemistry. This coursework may be done as part of a major or minor in the sciences or as electives in a nonscience major or minor. Some will apply toward SMU's general education curriculum requirements.

Candidates for admission to medical school must take the Medical College Admission Test; the test should be taken in the spring of the junior year. Candidates for dental school should take the Dental Admission Test, also in the spring of the junior year. All students intending to apply to medical or dental schools should contact the Health Professions Advising Office in the Dedman College Advising Center.

UNDERGRADUATE INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

The Dedman College Undergraduate Internship Program helps students begin to prepare for employment. Internships are designed to demonstrate and reinforce the valuable and highly marketable skills that our students develop.

The following guidelines apply:

- Credit-bearing internships are supervised by faculty, department or program.*
- Dedman Internship Program Orientation and Standardized University Release of Liability for Education Internship are required.
- Internships are based on a written learning contract signed by the student and faculty supervisor and approved by the department chair or director of undergraduate studies. (Students and site supervisors will complete evaluations of the experience. These evaluations will not be considered in determination of the grade.)
- Internships require a written component based on and reflective of the experiential dimension.
- Internships are available only through approved internship courses.
- Internship credit may range from one to three hours.
- The maximum total internship credit that may be applied toward a degree is three hours.

* Noncredit-bearing internships may either be paid or unpaid and are without faculty, department or program supervision. Internship orientation is strongly suggested. A University Release of Liability is required.

TEACHER EDUCATION

The University offers a program of studies in teacher education and recommends candidates for certification by the State Board of Educator Certification. The recommendation is based on a candidate's successful completion of 24 hours in education (EDU) courses and six hours of student teaching. In addition, candidates must pass the Texas Examinations of Educator Standards. Education courses are designed to include all standards tested on the TExES and to prepare students for the requirements including a major. (Prospective secondary teachers must have majors in appropriate teaching fields.) For more information, contact the Department of Teaching and Learning at 214-768-2346. For a general description of the program in teacher education, see the Annette Caldwell Simmons School of Education and Human Development section of this catalog.

MULTIPLE MAJORS AND MINORS

Students are encouraged to broaden their education by taking full advantage of the University's diverse undergraduate programs. Although only one major is required for graduation, with careful planning students may complete two or more majors and/or multiple minors within the prescribed total hours.

Students may also qualify for baccalaureate degrees from two schools in the University. Some characteristic pairings are: English or political science in Dedman College and journalism in Meadows School of the Arts; physics or mathematics in Dedman College and electrical engineering in the Lyle School of Engineering; and foreign language in Dedman College and a major or minor in the Cox School of Business. Since all requirements for both degrees must be met, students should confer with advisers in both schools at an early date in order to prepare a proposed plan of study.

Students are individually responsible for knowing and complying with all regulations and requirements that may apply to their respective programs.

TRANSFER COURSES FROM OTHER INSTITUTIONS

Once matriculated at SMU, students wishing to enroll for and transfer in courses offered at other institutions in subject areas within the Dedman College curriculum must receive prior approval from their adviser, the chair of the SMU department that normally offers the course, the dean of Dedman College and their dean of record. A maximum of 30 credit hours of post-matriculation transfer work may be approved. Approval may be denied for educational reasons. Post-matriculation work must be completed at accredited, four-year institutions. Post-matriculation transfer from nonaccredited or two-year institutions will not be approved.

ADMISSION

All incoming first-year students to the University are admitted to Dedman College. See the Admission to the University section of this catalog for requirements. Students wishing to pursue majors in the humanities or in the social or natural sciences or in various multidisciplinary programs remain in Dedman College for their undergraduate education. Specific degree requirements and additional information for any of these programs can be found in the departmental sections of this catalog. Admission is open to qualified undergraduate and graduate applicants without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability, veteran status or sexual orientation.

Admission From Other Schools Within SMU

An individual enrolled in another school of the University may apply to the dean of the school in which the student is currently enrolled for permission to transfer into a degree-granting program in Dedman College. A student who has achieved a cumulative GPA of 2.0 on all SMU work attempted will normally be admitted to candidacy for a degree in Dedman College. Additional requirements for programs with subset curriculums may exist. Consult the catalog section and/or the department for more information.

Readmission of Former Students

If three or more years have elapsed since the last enrollment at SMU, the student must meet any new requirements and is subject to any new regulations that have been instituted in the interval.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Dedman College offers four undergraduate degrees: the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science, the Bachelor of Social Sciences and the Bachelor of Humanities. For the degree available in a specific area of study, consult the individual programs of study outlined in the following sections of this catalog.

THE MAJOR

A candidate for a degree must complete the requirements for a major in one of the departments or interdisciplinary programs of the college. The major requirements of each department and program are stated at the beginning of the section describing the courses offered in that department or area. The applicable requirements of the major are those in effect during the academic year in which the major is declared, or those of a subsequent academic year. Coursework counting toward a major must include at least 18 advanced hours in approved SMU credit courses and may not be transferred or taken pass/fail. All advanced courses required for the major must be passed with a grade of C- or better. In addition, Dedman College requires a cumulative GPA of 2.0 for all courses attempted for completion of a major or minor. All courses attempted that could count toward the major/minor are included in determining the major/minor GPA. Majors must be officially declared (or changed) through the Office of the Dean.

THE MINOR

A candidate for a degree may also complete the requirements of a minor, either in Dedman College or in one of the other undergraduate schools of the University. Advisers in the minor programs assist students in selecting a minimum of 15 hours, including at least nine at the advanced level, suitable for meeting requirements for a minor. Coursework counting toward a minor may not be taken pass/fail. All advanced courses required for the minor must be passed with a grade of C- or better. At least half of the advanced hours required by Dedman minors must be completed in approved SMU credit courses and may not be transferred or taken pass/fail. In addition, Dedman College requires a cumulative GPA of 2.0 for all courses attempted for completion of a major or minor. All courses attempted that could count toward the major/minor are included in determining the major/minor GPA. Minors must be officially declared (or changed) through the Office of the Dean.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

Student Responsibility for Completion of Degree Plan

Students are required to schedule a degree-plan conference (New Majors Meeting) in the Dedman College Advising Center at the time of their acceptance into a major in the college. Detailed information concerning academic regulations and degree requirements will be provided at that time. Students are individually responsible for knowing and complying with all regulations and requirements that may apply to their respective programs.

Application for a Degree

Students must submit to the Office of the Dean a formal application for graduation by August 27 for December 2010 graduation, by January 24 for May 2011 graduation or by June 3 for August 2011 graduation.

Credits

A candidate for a degree in Dedman College must have:

- A minimum total of 122 term hours of credit, including the requirements for general education and the requirements for a major.
- A minimum total of 42 advanced hours (3000 level or above).

- A maximum total of 2 hours of Wellness.
- A maximum total of 3 hours of internship credit.

Grades

A candidate for a degree in Dedman College must attain:

- A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 on all work attempted through enrollment at SMU.
- A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 on all equivalent work attempted elsewhere, if any.
- A minimum grade of C- on any advanced course offered in fulfillment of major or minor requirements.
- A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 for all work attempted for completion of major or minor requirements.
- No more than 12 hours with a grade of P (Pass).

Credit Requirement

As minimum requirements, a candidate for a degree in Dedman College must take the following hours as SMU credit (That is, they must be earned in SMU courses or SMU-approved international programs.):

- A total of 60 hours.
- A total of 18 hours of advanced work in the major.
- A total that is equivalent to at least 50 percent of the advanced work required in any minor program selected. Departmental requirements may exceed this minimum.

Requirements for Obtaining Two Degrees Simultaneously

A student who selects two majors in Dedman College that lead to different degrees (B.A. and B.S.) may receive both degrees simultaneously by completing all requirements in each major, along with general requirements for a degree in Dedman College. However, a student may not be awarded more than one baccalaureate degree from the same department.

A student may pursue a program of study leading to a degree from Dedman College along with a degree from the Cox School of Business, Meadows School of the Arts or Lyle School of Engineering. The student must obtain approval for the proposed program of study from the deans of the schools involved.

Graduation Honors

There are three classes of graduation honors: summa cum laude, magna cum laude and cum laude. Eligibility for graduation honors will be based upon a student's total academic program. All academic work attempted at other colleges or universities that is equivalent to SMU work will be included in the calculation of the GPA. For students who have transferred to SMU, two grade-point averages will be calculated: for all work attempted and for work completed through enrollment at SMU. Honors will be based on the lower of the two averages.

Departmental Distinction

By successfully completing a special program of study in the major department, a student may be awarded departmental distinction regardless of eligibility for graduation honors. The program of study normally will be undertaken in both the junior and senior years. This award is conferred by the major department on the basis of certain criteria prescribed by the department, but all programs include the minimum requirements of independent reading and research beyond the regular departmental requirements for a degree and the completion of a senior paper or research report. Further information may be obtained from the individual departments.

COURSES OF STUDY IN DEDMAN COLLEGE

AEROSPACE STUDIES: AIR FORCE ROTC

www.unt.edu/afrotc

Air Force ROTC courses are not offered on the SMU campus. Students at SMU who wish to earn appointments as commissioned officers in the U.S. Air Force may participate in the Air Force general military course and professional officer course through the University of North Texas in Denton. The Air Force ROTC program develops skills and provides education vital to the career officer. Active-duty Air Force personnel provide all instruction and program administration. Students who participate in the UNT Air Force ROTC program are responsible for their own travel and other physical arrangements.

The program is open to all students. First-year students may enroll in the four-year program, and students with at least two undergraduate or graduate academic years remaining may apply for the two- or three-year program. Scholarships, available to qualified students, provide full tuition, fees, textbook allowance and a monthly tax-free $100 subsistence allowance. National competition is based on SAT or ACT test results, Air Force Officer Qualifying Test results or college academic records, and extracurricular and athletic activities. Uniforms and textbooks for AFROTC courses are issued at no cost to cadets.

Students register for the Aerospace Studies courses at the same time and in the same manner as they register for other SMU courses. The AFROTC courses are fully accredited and may be taken as electives in most academic majors. Successful completion of degree requirements and the AFROTC program can lead to a commission as a second lieutenant in the United States Air Force. Students with at least six months' active military service may be granted waivers on a portion of the general military course.

For more information, contact: AFROTC, University of North Texas, PO Box 305400, Denton TX 76203; 940-565-2074; det835@unt.edu.

The Courses (AERO)

1103 (fall), 1104 (spring). Foundations of the United States Air Force. A survey course designed to introduce students to the USAF and the AFROTC. Featured topics include mission and organization of the Air Force, officership and professionalism, military customs and courtesies, USAF officer opportunities, and an introduction to communication skills.

2100, 2200, 2300, 2400, 4100, 4200, 4300, 4400. Cooperative Education in Aerospace Studies. Supervised work in a job directly related to the student's major, professional field of study or career objective. 1-3 hours each week. Prerequisites: Permission of division chair; student must meet employer's requirements. May be repeated for credit.

3431 (fall), 3432 (spring). Air Force Leadership. A study of leadership, management fundamentals, professional knowledge, Air Force personnel and evaluation systems, leadership ethics, and communication skills required of an Air Force junior officer. Case studies are used to examine Air Force leadership and management situations as a means of demonstrating and exercising practical application of the concepts being studied.

4431 (fall), 4432 (spring). National Security Forces in Contemporary American Society/Preparation for Active Duty. Examines the national security process, regional studies, advanced leadership ethics and Air Force doctrine. Special topics of interest focus on the military as a profession, officership, military justice, civilian control of the military, preparation for active duty and current issues affecting military professionalism. Within this structure, continued emphasis is given to refining communication skills.

ANTHROPOLOGY

Professor David Meltzer, Department Chair

Professors: Caroline Brettell, Robert Van Kemper, David Meltzer, Ben Wallace, Ronald Wetherington. Associate Professors: Michael Adler, R. Alan Covey, Victoria Lockwood, Carolyn Smith-Morris, David Wilson. Assistant Professors: Sunday Eiselt, Brigette Kovacevich, Nia Parson, Christopher Roos, Sarah Willen. Adjunct Lecturer: John Phinney. Emeritus Professors: Lewis Binford, Harold Hietala, Anthony E. Marks, Ladislav Novak, Garth Sampson, Fred Wendorf.

Anthropology is divided into four subfields: I) archaeology, II) cultural/social anthropology, III) anthropological linguistics and IV) physical anthropology. In addition to providing the basis for careers in the subdisciplines, anthropology provides a background for professional careers in teaching, research, international affairs, medicine, business or law. A grade of C- or better must be earned in all courses taken in fulfillment of the requirements for the anthropology major. Students majoring in anthropology must achieve a minimum 2.0 GPA in anthropology and are urged to consult their departmental adviser periodically to review their progress.

For Undergraduate Students

Requirements for the B.A. Degree. Intended for students who want general training in anthropology within a liberal arts curriculum. A total of 30 hours of anthropology are required, of which 21 must be advanced. Of the 30 hours, ANTH 2301 is required. However, all candidates for the B.A. major must take at least three hours in each subfield of anthropology (i.e., archaeology, cultural/social anthropology, anthropological linguistics and physical anthropology).

Requirements for the B.S. Degree. Intended for students who want more specialized training in anthropology, it provides a strong foundation for students intending to pursue a graduate degree. A total of 36 hours of anthropology are required, of which 24 must be advanced. Of the 36 hours, the following courses are required: ANTH 2301, 2315, 2363, and 5334 or 5335; six hours of fieldwork-related study (Option 1: ANTH 5381 or 5382, and 4333 or 5681; or Option 2: ANTH 5344, and SOCI 3311 or SOCI 3312); one of the following: ANTH 3361 or 5359; and three hours of independent study (ANTH 4391 or 4392). In addition, three hours of statistics (generally STAT 2331), and six hours of foreign language are required.

Requirements for the Minor. A 15-hour minor may be taken in one of three tracks: archaeology, cultural anthropology and general anthropology; an 18-hour track may be taken in biomedical anthropology. ANTH 2301 is common to all four minors with the remaining courses selected from a list furnished by the department. A grade of C- or better must be earned in all advanced courses taken in fulfillment of the requirements for an anthropology minor.

The Departmental Distinction Program. This program is open to junior and senior anthropology majors with outstanding academic records. Graduation with departmental distinction is designated on the diploma of those who successfully complete the program. To earn departmental distinction, a student must: (a) complete the usual coursework for a B.A. or B.S. degree with at least a 3.5 GPA in anthropology and with at least a 3.0 GPA, overall; (b) with a grade of B or higher, pass ANTH 5334 and 5335 or complete a substantial independent reading program (for three term hours credit that replaces one of these) on the history, conceptual foundations or methodological problems of the discipline; (c) with a grade of A or A-, conduct a research project (for three term hours credit in ANTH 4391 or 4392); and complete a significant research paper that is a minimum of 20 pages of text, includes a bibliography, and is written in appropriate interdisciplinary professional style and format; and (d) pass an oral examination of one hour in length (with at least three departmental faculty members), covering the results of the research project and general issues and concepts in anthropology according to the subfield specialty.

The Courses (ANTH)

1321. First-Year Seminar in Anthropology. Offers beginning students an opportunity to pursue a specific, anthropological topic in depth in a small class setting. It will be both writing- and reading-intensive.

2301. Introductory Cultural Anthropology. Basic theories and methods of cultural anthropology. Explores variations in cultural values, social practices, religion, rules of law, etc. in different cultures around the world. Focuses on understanding the forces that shape cultures and societies, and how they adapt to a rapidly changing world. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

2302. People of the Earth: Humanity's First Five Million Years. Human biological and cultural evolution from the appearance of ancestral humans in Africa to agricultural origins and the rise of the world's great civilizations. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

2315. Human Evolution: Biological and Social Beginnings of Humankind. Topics include mutation, natural selection, primate origins and the human fossil record. Ethical and moral issues of cloning, eugenics and creationism are also treated. Fulfills General Education Curriculum requirements for science/technology.

2321 (ENGL 2371, CFA 3301). The Dawn of Wisdom: Ancient Creation Stories From Four Civilizations. Explores the visions of the cosmos expressed in the art, archaeology and literature of Egypt, Mesopotamia, Greco-Roman civilization and the Maya, emphasizing the role of human beings as central and responsible actors therein. Prerequisite: ENGL 1302 or departmental approval. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

2331 (CFA 3331). The Formation of Institutions: Roots of Society. Explores the nature of social institutions and how they change and become more complex. A case-study approach that examines selected non-Western societies at different levels of complexity. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

2363. The Science of Our Past: An Introduction to Archaeology. Introduces students to how and why archaeologists study evidence of past human behavior. Required labs emphasize hands-on analyses of artifacts and other archaeological material. Fulfills General Education Curriculum requirements for science/technology.

3301 (SOC1 3301, CFB 3301). Health, Healing and Ethics: Cross-Cultural Perspectives on Sickness and Society. A cross-cultural exploration of cultures and organization of medical systems, economic development and the global exportation of biomedicine, and ethical dilemmas associated with medical technologies and global disparities in health. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3302. Monkeys and Apes: The Nonhuman Primates. This course offers an introduction to the study of nonhuman primates, from prosimians to the great apes. It explores questions of taxonomy, aspects of social behavior and patterns of communication.

3303. Psychological Anthropology. Examines the interplay of culture and personality in various Western and non-Western societies. Perception, cognition, dreams, altered states of consciousness and psychological terrorism are analyzed in cross-cultural perspective. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3305. The "Other" in America: Popular Perceptions and Government Policy Through Time. An examination of attitudes during the past 200 years toward "others" in America, as reflected in popular culture (films and fiction), as well as in national and local government policies.

3309 (ARHS 3313). The Etruscans and Iron Age Italy. The art and architecture of early Italy, including Etruscan art, early Roman art and "Italic" art will be studied with respect to the cultural context and environment.

3311. Mexico: From Conquest to Cancun. An introduction to the unity and diversity of Mexican society as it has developed through encounters with other cultures – from 16th century conquistadores to 21st century tourists and emigrants. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3312. Meso-American Archaeology. Examines development of civilizations from village life to the great empires of Mexico. How civilizations begin, grow, change and collapse. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3313. South American Indians of the Past and Present. A survey of the archaeology and ethnology of indigenous South Americans, from c. 13,000 years ago to recent times, focusing on environments, subsistence and related levels of sociopolitical integration from Tierra del Fuego to the Amazon basin and the Andes. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3314. Peoples of Africa. A contemporary study of cultures and social structures of Sub-Saharan African peoples and an examination of the dynamics of contemporary African societies. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3315. Origins of Civilization. Considers those cultural and historic factors that led from the development of agriculture to the first urban states in Egypt and Mesopotamia. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3316. Cultures of the Pacific Islands. Survey of Pacific Island social systems focusing on Melanesia, Micronesia and Polynesia. Explores nature of pre-contact societies and how colonial and missionary influences transformed island cultures. Examines how contemporary Pacific islanders are responding to forces of globalization. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3317. Peoples of Southeast Asia. A comparative study of insular and mainland cultures of Southeast Asia, their history and development, and their social and economic structures. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3333 (CFA 3316). The Immigrant Experience. Course explores historical, social, cultural and political dimensions of the US immigrant experience, and America's attitudes toward immigrants. Controversial issues such as bilingual education and illegal immigration will be examined. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3334 (CF 3334). Fantastic Archaeology and Pseudoscience: Lost Tribes, Sunken Continents, Ancient Astronauts and Other Strange Ideas About the Past. Did ancient astronauts visit the Earth? Are there secrets of the Maya calendar that archaeologists are not revealing? Is Creation a scientific alternative to evolution of humanity? This course investigates these and other claims about our past, and how archaeologists respond to them.

3336 (CFA 3336). Gender and Globalization: Cultural and Ethical Issues. An analysis of the impact of globalizing forces on women's lives and identities, as well as on patterns of gender relations and ideology in various cultures around the world. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3348 (CFB 3348). Health as a Human Right. This course examines the concept of human rights critically, with an eye for cross-cultural variation, and a particular focus on rights that are health-related.

3350 (CFA 3350). Good Eats and Forbidden Flesh: Culture, Food and the Global Grocery Market. A cultural perspective on food that blends biological and medical information about human nutrition and development with an exploration of the global market of eating. Prerequisites: Advanced standing and ANTH 2301 (or permission of instructor).

3351 (CFB 3351). Forensic Anthropology: Stories Told by Bones. Introduction to the identification of human remains, including conditions of preservation and decay. Estimating sex, stature, age and ethnicity. Identifying pathology, trauma and other causes of death.

3355. Society and Culture in Contemporary Europe. Anthropological survey of social and cultural dimensions of contemporary European society. Explores unity and diversity within the region, the role of gender, religion, class, ethnicity and nationalism in structuring the lives of Europeans.

3356. Before Civilization. A survey of the Paleolithic archaeology of the first three million years of human history in the Old World. Emphasis is upon adaptation and cultural change.

3358. Indians of the Southwest From the 16th Century to the Present. An introduction to the non-Pueblo and Pueblo peoples of the Greater Southwest, with a focus on Indian-Indian and Indian-Euroamerican relations and the resultant transformations. Topics will include clash of cultures, tourism, gambling, legal rights and urbanism. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3359. Peoples and Cultures of the Middle East. This course will employ the lens of cultural anthropology to explore the social, cultural, familial, religious, and political lives of Middle Easterners from a wide variety of countries and backgrounds.

3361. Language in Culture and Society. An investigation of social and cultural factors affecting the use of language. Topics include linguistic variation, Black English, women's language and body language. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3365 (CFA 3365). The Rise and Fall of Superpowers: The Dynamics and Ethics of Empire. A comparative introduction to institutions and organizational dynamics of three ancient empires (Roman, Chinese, Inca), with discussions of the lessons that these civilizations can teach American citizens about our own society.

3366 (RELI 3366). Magic, Myth and Religion Across Cultures. A cross-cultural and comparative exploration of religion, ritual, magic and supernatural belief systems. Examines how religion permeates other aspects of society and culture. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3368 (SOC1 3368). Urban Life: A Cross-Cultural Perspective. An introduction to urban life and culture around the world, including how we study cities, who inhabits cities, and the special features of city places and spaces. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3374 (CF 3374). Cultures and Environments of the Southwest. Patterns of land use and resource use in prehistoric and early historic times in the Southwest. Focus is on the mutual influence of cultures and resources in the northern Rio Grande.

3376. Caribbean Transformations: From Columbus to Carnival. An introduction to the anthropology of Caribbean societies, focusing on the social, economic and political influences that have shaped the contemporary Caribbean. Meets Human Diversity and Perspectives corequirement.

3384 (CFA 3384). Paradise Lost? The Archaeology and Ethics of Human Environmental Impacts. Interdisciplinary archaeological, anthropological and historical examination of human impacts on the environment around the world over the last 50,000 years.

3385 (CFA 3385). Sustainable Living. Seminar focused on environmental challenges facing society and strategies for achieving a more sustainable existence.

3388 (CFA 3388). Warfare and Violence: The Anthropology and Ethics of Human Conflict. An examination of the origins and development of human aggression, violence and warfare using interdisciplinary data and theories from prehistory, ethnology, history and political science.

3390 (CFB 3390). The Plundered Past: Archaeology's Challenges in the Modern World. This course will provide an interdisciplinary understanding of the importance societies place on knowing, preserving, and altering evidence of the past. Special emphasis is placed on archaeology's role in understanding and preserving the past.

3399 (CFA 3399). Ice Age Americans. Ice age peopling of America, reconstructed by archaeology, linguistics and molecular biology, among other disciplines, and what that reveals of how people adapted to a truly New World. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

For Undergraduate and Graduate Students

All 4000- and 5000-level courses in anthropology require introductory coursework in the appropriate subdiscipline, or permission of instructor.

4191, 4192, 4291, 4292, 4391, 4392. Independent Study and Research. For advanced undergraduates. Prerequisite: Approval of the director of Undergraduate Studies and a faculty sponsor.

4300. World Archaeology. An archaeological overview of the human trajectory and socio-cultural development over time, beginning with the origins of modern humans and then looking at human interactions with specific environments.

4303. Political Economy of Health. Course explores topics in health and healing from a political economy perspective. Addresses social and economic factors influencing culture change, health and healing practices within a society. Examines health inequities around the globe. Prerequisites: ANTH 2301, ANTH 3301 or approval of instructor.

4304. Migration and Ethnicity. Examines three interrelated topics: migration, ethnicity and nationalism. Focuses on major theoretical positions and on specific ethnographic cases. Prerequisites: 18 hours of anthropology or permission of the instructor for nonanthropology majors.

4305. Applied Anthropology. The application of anthropological theories and methods to problems in contemporary societies, including global business, community development, health care issues, agricultural/environmental programs, urban planning, tourism projects and education policy. Prerequisites: Advanced standing and ANTH 2301 (or permission of instructor for nonanthropology majors).

4307. Seminar in International Health. Provides an overview of issues in international health with a focus on contributions of anthropology and anthropologists to international public health issues. Prerequisites: Advanced standing and ANTH 2301 (or permission of instructor for nonanthropology majors).

4309. Human Rights, Indigenous Peoples and Nation States. An examination of human rights issues among contemporary indigenous peoples, especially the impact of governmental and nongovernmental organizations, large-scale development programs and global tourism on their cultures and societies.

4311. Applied Linguistics. Examination of linguistic theory and data in the context of diverse, especially multilingual, speech communities. Prerequisites: Advanced standing and ANTH 2301 (or permission of instructor for nonanthropology majors).

4325. Zooarchaeology. A lecture and laboratory course focused on the methods, techniques and implications of the analysis of animal remains from archaeological sites. Prerequisites: ANTH 2302 or ANTH 2363 or permission of instructor.

4333. Laboratory Methods in Archaeology. Classification and analysis of archaeological materials (various topics). Prerequisites: Advanced standing and ANTH 5381 or 5382 or permission of instructor.

4336. Concepts of Evolution: A History. Using original writings, interpretive texts and biographies, this seminar will examine the rise of evolutionary ideas from ancient times through the 20th century.

4343. Health and Medical Systems. Examines the epistemology and history of biomedicine, medical bureaucracy, professionalism, medical education, alternative and popular medicine, economics and health care.

4346. Environmental Anthropology and Development. Analyzes the process of globalization from the perspective of environmental anthropology and development. Prerequisite: ANTH 2301.

4350, 4351, 4352. Special Topics in Anthropology. An in-depth look at particular problems and issues in contemporary anthropology. Topics will vary.

4377. The Human Fossil Record. An examination of morphology, classification and evolutionary relationships in the human fossil record. Covers the Pliocene through the emergence of modern Homo sapiens. Comparisons using the departmental fossil collection. Prerequisite: ANTH 2315 or permission of instructor.

4381. Internship in Anthropology. This course offers students experience in varied organizations and agencies where anthropological applications are relevant. These might include a contract archaeology firm, the Natural History Museum, a zoo, health clinics, marketing or PR firms, or corporations involved in international business. Prerequisite: Approval of the director of Undergraduate Studies and a faculty sponsor.

4384. Global Issues and Development: An Overview. An introduction to the major forces driving globalization and economic development today, analyzing how these forces impact the lives, cultures and identities of peoples around the world (with an emphasis on the developing world). Prerequisites: Advanced standing and ANTH 2301 (or permission of instructor for nonanthropology majors).

4390. Current Issues in Anthropology. Seminar on selected anthropological topics.

4399. Senior Seminar in Anthropology. An in-depth examination of current theoretical and methodological developments in the discipline. Recommended for candidates for departmental distinction in anthropology. Prerequisites: Senior standing or permission of instructor and ANTH 2301.

5310. Human Osteology: Biology of the Human Skeleton. Analysis of the human musculoskeletal system in both forensic and ancient contexts. In this laboratory course, students will learn the measurement and assessment of sex, age, race and stature.

5033. Proseminar on Ethics in Archaeology. Focuses on ethical issues in current archaeology, including collaboration with descendant communities, study of human remains, repatriation of cultural property, and research collaboration in international contexts.

5335. History of Anthropology Part Two. Development of modern anthropological paradigms, with intensive readings in science, ethnology and ecological anthropology and a focus on the potential utility of theoretical coherence within the discipline. Prerequisite: Eighteen hours of Anthropology or permission of instructor.

5336. Anthropology and Medicine. Cross-cultural study of the cultural construction and social organization of medical systems in preindustrial and industrialized societies, including political economy of health, ethnomedicine, international health, ethnopharmacology and bioethics. Prerequisite: ANTH 2301 or 3301 or permission of instructor.

5344. Research Methods in Ethnology. Examination of methodologies and techniques appropriate for different types of ethnological research. Prerequisites: Advanced standing and ANTH 2301 (or permission of instructor for nonanthropology majors).

5355. Seminar in the Southwest. This course will focus on the development of archaeology in the American Southwest by placing it in historical context, discussing the social role of archaeology in general, 19th-century exploration and the impact of early archaeological finds, development of museums, tourism, national monuments, field schools and the changing role of the Native Americans.

5359. Linguistics: General. An introduction to modern linguistic science. Topics include phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics, dialects, writing systems, child language, language and the brain, and language in education.

5381, 5382. Field Methods in Archaeology. Methods of excavation, recording and interpretation used in archaeological research. Fort Burgwin Research Center. Summer only. Students may petition to have this course fulfill the lab science requirement.

5681, 5981. Field Methods in Archaeology. Participants are engaged in all aspects of archaeological field and laboratory research, including excavation, recording of finds, survey mapping of sites, laboratory analyses of archaeological materials and interpretation of intact archaeological contexts. Fort Burgwin Research Center. Summer only.

Anthropology Courses by Subfield

Courses listed under ANTH 4350/51/52 or 4390/09 may count for any of the subfields, depending on the topic.

Subfield: General

- 2331 The Formation of Institutions: Roots of Society
- 3319 Human Ecology

BIOCHEMISTRY

www.smu.edu/biochemistry

Professor Steven Vik, Director

The Biochemistry Program offers courses leading to a B.S. degree in biochemistry. This program reflects the interdisciplinary nature of modern biochemistry and includes courses in physics, mathematics, chemistry and biology. Undergraduate research is also highly recommended. These courses will prepare students for graduate study leading to a Ph.D. degree, for entrance to professional schools such as medicine, or for the chemical or biotechnology industry.

The program includes a core of required courses but allows some flexibility in the choice of additional upper-division courses. Note that there are two options for choosing the additional courses. Option 1 has been certified by the American Chemical Society for professional training in biochemistry. Option 2 provides a more traditional curriculum for a biochemistry major. Students planning to attend graduate school are advised to take at least three credits of Undergraduate Research (BIOL 3398, 4398 or CHEM 4397). Students obtaining a B.S. degree in biochemistry may not also obtain a major or minor in chemistry or biology.

Core Courses

(57 credits)

Chemistry (25 credits):

CHEM 3351 Quantitative Analysis

CHEM 5383, 5384 Physical Chemistry

Biological Sciences (11 credits):

BIOL 3304 Genetics

Biochemistry (4 credits):

BIOL/CHEM 5310 Biological Chemistry: Macromolecular Structure and Function

BIOL/CHEM 5110 Biological Chemistry: Laboratory

Mathematics (9 credits):

MATH 1337, 1338, 2339 Calculus

Physics (8 credits):

PHYS 1105, 1106, 1303/1307, 1304/1308 General Physics

Additional Courses

(Choose either Option 1 or Option 2)

Option 1 (11 credits)

Required (5 credits):

CHEM 5185 Laboratory Methods in Physical Chemistry

CHEM 5192 Inorganic Synthesis Laboratory

CHEM 5392 Advanced Inorganic Chemistry

BIOL/CHEM 5311 Biological Chemistry: Metabolism

BIOL/CHEM 5312 Physical Biochemistry

CHEM 5398 Medicinal Chemistry

Option 2 (9 credits)

Required (6 credits):

BIOL/CHEM 5311 Biological Chemistry: Metabolism

BIOL 5304 Molecular Biology: Control and Expression of Genetic Information

The Departmental Distinction Program. A biochemistry major may graduate with departmental distinction by successfully completing a special program of study that includes independent reading and research and a senior thesis under the direction of a member of the faculty. The student must submit an application to the biochemistry adviser by the first term of the junior year. At this time the student must have completed at least 22 hours toward the biochemistry degree, with a GPA of at least 3.5 in courses required for the major. Upon approval from the respective departments, the student must enroll in the following courses: BIOL 4398, 4399 or CHEM 4397. Upon completion of these courses, the student will write a senior thesis and present it orally before a public audience including a faculty committee composed of the student's research adviser, the biochemistry adviser, and at least one additional faculty member. Upon successful completion of the senior thesis and maintenance of a GPA of at least 3.5 in courses required for the major, the B.S. degree will be awarded with departmental distinction.

BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

www.smu.edu/biology

Professor William Orr, Department Chair

Professors: Christine Buchanan, Richard Jones, Paul Ludden, William Orr, Larry Ruben, John Ubelaker, Steven Vik. Associate Professors: Robert Harrod, Pia Vogel. Assistant Professors: Johannes Bauer, James Waddle. Lecturers: Eva Oberdorster, John Wise. Adjunct Associate Professor: Teresa Strecker. Emeritus Professors: Venita Allison, John McCarthy, Franklin Sogandares-Bernal.

Requirements for the B.S. Degree. This degree program is designed for students who plan careers in the biological sciences or further study in graduate or professional schools. A candidate for the B.S. degree must complete a minimum of 10 courses in biological sciences, including BIOL 1401, 1402 and eight additional courses that: 1) total at least 26 advanced hours, 2) include BIOL 3304 and 3350, 3) include at least one course at the 4000 or 5000 level, and 4) include at least two courses with laboratories. The B.S. degree requires 16 hours of chemistry, including Organic Chemistry I and II with labs; eight hours of general physics; MATH 1337; and one additional course chosen from MATH 1338, or STAT 2331 or 5371. Although statistics is used extensively in biological research, preprofessional students should be aware that certain medical schools require a full year of calculus.

Requirements for the B.S.-M.S Degree. This degree program is designed for students with a strong interest in a research career. It is a five-year plan that results in both the B.S. and M.S. degrees. Admission into the program is by petition and occurs during the spring term of the second year. A research mentor must be identified and a minimum 3.2 GPA in science courses is required. The Department Graduate Committee will evaluate interested applicants. Tuition support is provided in the fifth year, and stipend support is provided for summer research and throughout the fifth year. Students in the program must be engaged in research year round and will enroll in BIOL 2101, 2102 in the third year. All of the B.S. degree requirements must be completed and include the following courses: BIOL 3304, 3350, 3398, 3399, 5304, 5310, 5311, 5110. The requirements for the M.S. degree will be met in years four and five. During year four, students will complete BIOL 6121, 6122, 6310, 6322. During year five, students will typically complete BIOL 6123, 6124; two additional graduate courses; and sufficient research credits to total 15 hours in each term of the fifth year. To remain in the program, students will maintain a 3.0 GPA in science courses and exhibit satisfactory progress in their lab work.

The Departmental Distinction Program. A biological sciences major with sufficiently high academic standing may graduate with departmental distinction by successfully completing a special program of study that includes independent reading and research and a senior thesis under the direction of a member of the departmental faculty. To graduate with departmental distinction, a student must be working toward a B.S. degree and must submit an application to the Undergraduate Studies Committee of the department for this designation during the first term of the junior year. At the time of the application, the student must have completed at least 14 hours of biological sciences, including at least six advanced hours, with a GPA in these courses of at least 3.5 and an overall GPA of at least 3.5. For students who have transferred to SMU, two grade-point averages will be calculated, that for all work attempted, and that for work completed through enrollment at SMU. Admission to the program will be based on the lower of the two averages. With departmental approval, the student will enroll for BIOL 4398 in the second term of the junior year. Upon completion of this course with a grade of B+ or better, the student will enroll during the senior year for BIOL 4399 in which a research project will be carried out and a senior thesis written and presented to the faculty. Performance in these courses and maintenance of a 3.5 GPA for all biological sciences courses attempted will determine if the B.S. degree will be awarded “with departmental distinction.”

Requirements for the B.A. Degree. This degree program is designed for students who wish to couple training in the biological sciences with a broad liberal arts program. Students who are preparing for medical or dental school should consult with the premed adviser about additional science requirements. A candidate for the B.A. degree must complete a minimum of eight courses in biological sciences, including BIOL 1401, 1402 and six courses that: 1) total at least 18 advanced hours, 2) include BIOL 3304 and 3350, 3) include at least one course at the 4000 or 5000 level, and 4) include at least two courses with laboratories. The B.A. degree also requires 12 hours of chemistry, including Organic Chemistry I with lab.

Requirements for the B.A. Degree With Teacher Certification. Students interested in the B.A. degree program with teacher certification in secondary education should confer with the Teacher Certification representative in the department to plan a specific program of study.

Requirements for the Minor. Students majoring in other departments may obtain a minor in biological sciences by completing BIOL 1401, 1402 and at least nine advanced hours, which must include BIOL 3304, 3350 and an advanced laboratory course. Each advanced course must be completed through enrollment at SMU. CHEM 1303, 1304, 1113, 1114 also are required for the minor. A student may not earn minors in both biology and the natural sciences.

Courses for Nonscience Majors (BIOL)

The courses outlined in this section are designed to satisfy the curricular requirements of nonscience students. BIOL 1303 is not open to students who have earned prior credit in BIOL 1401, and BIOL 1305, 1308, 1310 are not open to students who have earned prior credit in BIOL 1402. Nonscience majors should note that BIOL 1401, 1402 may also be taken to satisfy distribution requirements.

1303. Essentials of Biology. An introduction to the major concepts of biological thought for the nonscience major. Includes one laboratory session each week.

1305. Our Natural Environment. An introduction to major environments and their resident populations. Offered in summer session at Fort Burgwin, SMU-in-Taos, New Mexico. Includes equivalent of one laboratory session each week.

1308. Plant Biology. An introduction to the economic, social and industrial aspects of plant substances and material. Offered in summer session at Fort Burgwin, SMU-in-Taos, New Mexico. Includes equivalent of one laboratory session each week.

1310. Aquatic Biology. An introduction to the biology of lakes and streams of the Southern Rocky Mountains. Lectures and labs will be conducted at Fort Burgwin, SMU-in-Taos, New Mexico.

Courses for Biology Majors (BIOL)

Students who wish to earn the B.A. or B.S. degree in biology are encouraged to complete BIOL 1401, 1402 and CHEM 1303, 1304 (with labs) in their freshman year. However, with the approval of an academic adviser, a student may postpone BIOL 1401, 1402 for one or two terms. The introductory biology courses are the minimum prerequisite for all advanced biology courses. The general chemistry courses are a prerequisite for most advanced biology courses.

1401, 1402. Introductory Biology. An introduction to the study of living organisms. First term: cell structure, metabolism and genetics; second term: ecology, evolution, diversity and physiology. 3 lecture hours and one 3-hour laboratory each week. This 2-term offering is a prerequisite for all advanced courses in biological sciences.

3222. Molecular Genetics Laboratory. Students will gain experience in investigative methods used in modern medical research, molecular biology, genetics, bioinformatics, forensic science, and the pharmaceutical and biotechnology industries. Prerequisite: C- or better in BIOL 3304.

3303. Evolution. A study of the principles of biological evolution. Includes natural selection, adaptation, molecular evolution, the formation of new species, the fossil record, biogeography and principles of classification. 3 lecture hours each week. Prerequisites: BIOL 1402 and C- or better in BIOL 3304.

3304. Genetics. An introduction to the structure, function and transmission of the hereditary material. 3 lecture hours each week. Prerequisites: BIOL 1401 and CHEM 1304.

3306. Physiology. Homeostatic control mechanisms in vertebrates. 3 lecture hours each week. Prerequisites: C- or better in both BIOL 3304 and 3350.

3307 (GEOL 3307). Ecology. Basic principles and concepts of ecology with emphasis on population and community interactions. 3 lecture hours each week.

3342. Plant Kingdom. A survey of the plant kingdom emphasizing life histories and developmental morphology. 2 lecture hours and one 3-hour laboratory each week.

3350. Cell Biology. The structure and function of cells. 3 lecture hours each week. Prerequisite or corequisite: CHEM 1304.

3354. Parasitology. Comparative study of protozoa and helminthic parasitic organisms and their role in diseases. 2 lecture hours and one 3-hour laboratory each week.

3365. Cancer Biology. Emphasis on the molecular features of oncogenesis and human cancers, including carcinogenesis, metastasis and roles of genetic mutations and chromosomal aberrations during neoplasia. Prerequisite: C- or better in BIOL 3350.

3380. Molecular Mechanisms of Disease. Emphasis on current advances in the understanding of disease processes at the molecular level. Prerequisite: C- or better in BIOL 3350.

3403. Microbiology. The biology of microorganisms, with an emphasis on diversity, disease and the environment. 3 lecture hours and one 3-hour laboratory each week. Prerequisite: C- or better in BIOL 3304. Recommended preparation: CHEM 3371, 3117.

4132. Senior Seminar. Discussion of current problems of biological interest. 1 hour each week. Prerequisites: Senior standing, major in biology.

4160. Toxicology Laboratory. Modern biochemical and molecular techniques will be used to assess the impact of environmental contaminants on liver biomarkers in fish. One 3-hour laboratory each week. Prerequisite: C- or better in BIOL 3350. Prerequisite or corequisite: BIOL 4360.

4331. Developmental Biology. Developmental processes in animals. 3 lecture hours each week. Prerequisite: C- or better in BIOL 3304.

4360. Environmental and Human Toxicology. Introduction to environmental toxicology, focusing on the fate and transport, biotransformation, and biochemical and physiological impacts of pollutants on humans and wildlife. 3 lecture hours each week. Recommended preparation: CHEM 3371, 3372. Prerequisite: C- or better in BIOL 3350.

4370. Biotechnology and Nanotechnology. Introduction to current techniques and emerging applications of biotechnology and nanobiotechnology in medicine, agriculture, forensic and aquatic sciences, and bioremediation. Prerequisites: CHEM 3371 and C- or better in BIOL 3304.

5110 (CHEM 5110). Biological Chemistry Laboratory. One 3-hour laboratory period each week. Prerequisite or corequisite: BIOL 5310.

5166 (GEOL 5166). Vertebrate Anatomy Laboratory. A laboratory course to accompany BIOL/GEOL 5366. Exercises include basic anatomy, dissections and examinations of fossil skeletons. Corequisite: BIOL 5366 (GEOL 5366).

5304. Molecular Biology: Control and Expression of Genetic Information. DNA structure and replication, control of transcription and translation, and techniques in molecular genetics and recombinant DNA technology. Prerequisites: CHEM 3372 and C- or better in BIOL 3304.

5305. Genomics and Bioinformatics. Impact of completely sequenced genomes on current experimental and computational approaches to biomedical research. Introduction to the technology, biology and software exploited by molecular biology, genealogy and medical diagnostic labs. Prerequisites: C- or better in BIOL 3304 and junior standing.

5310 (CHEM 5310). Biological Chemistry: Macromolecular Structure and Function. Introduction to the structure and function of macromolecules of biological importance. Emphasis on nucleic acid and protein structure, enzyme kinetics, carbohydrate and lipid chemistry. 3 lecture hours each week. Prerequisites: CHEM 3371, 3372. The accompanying laboratory (BIOL 5110) is strongly recommended for biology majors.

5311 (CHEM 5311). Biological Chemistry: Metabolism. Introduction to the pathways and regulatory events in the metabolism of carbohydrates, lipids, amino acids and nucleotides. 3 lecture hours per week. Prerequisites: CHEM 3371, 3372.

5312 (CHEM 5312). Physical Biochemistry. Physical chemistry of macromolecules and biological membranes, with an emphasis on the thermodynamics of solutions. Prerequisites: MATH 1338 and CHEM 3372, 5310. (CHEM 5381 or CHEM 5383 is recommended.)

5325. General and Molecular Virology. Emphasis on the molecular aspects of viral replication and pathogenesis, including the roles of viruses in emerging human infectious diseases, cancer and bioterrorism. Prerequisites: C- or better in BIOL 3304 and junior standing.

5358. Ecology of Parasitism. The biotic and abiotic factors influencing parasite communities. Emphasis on the free-living stages of parasites. 2 lecture hours and one 3-hour laboratory each week. Prerequisite: BIOL 3354.

5366 (GEOL 5366). Vertebrate Anatomy and Origins. An introduction to vertebrate anatomy with emphasis on structure and function. Additionally, the course examines processes that have affected the diversity of vertebrate organisms, including origination, biogeography and adaptation. Prerequisite(s): BIOL 1401, 1402 or GEOL 1308. The accompanying laboratory is a corequisite for biology majors and strongly recommended for all other students. Corequisite: BIOL 5166.

Special Courses (BIOL)

2101. Introductory Research I. A minimum of five hours per week doing supervised laboratory research. This course is offered on a pass/fail basis only. Prerequisites: At least sophomore standing, BIOL 1401, 1402 and consent of the instructor.

2102. Introductory Research II. A minimum of five hours per week doing supervised laboratory research. This course is offered on a pass/fail basis only. Prerequisites: BIOL 2101 and consent of the instructor.

3395. Internship in Biology. Biological research at an institution other than SMU. Credit does not apply toward the degree requirement for two laboratory courses. A student cannot have previously completed BIOL 3398.

3398. Undergraduate Research I. A minimum of 9 hours per week doing research in the laboratory of a faculty member. Credit for this course does not apply toward the degree requirement for two laboratory courses nor can a student have previously completed BIOL 3395. Prerequisites: Junior standing, and approval by the faculty sponsor and the Undergraduate Studies Committee of the department.

3399. Undergraduate Research II. This course is offered on a pass/fail basis only and cannot be applied toward the requirements for the major in biological sciences. Prerequisites: BIOL 3398, and approval by the faculty sponsor and the Undergraduate Studies Committee of the department.

4398. Honors Research I. For students in the departmental distinction program. Prerequisite: Admission to the departmental distinction program.

SMU-in-Taos Courses

3343. Field Botany. Identification of vascular plants with emphasis on ecological indicators. Lectures and laboratories conducted at Fort Burgwin, New Mexico.

3347. Systematic Botany. An introduction to the history, nomenclature, family characteristics, identification and biosystematics of the flowering plants. Lectures and laboratories conducted at Fort Burgwin, New Mexico.

5359. Host-Parasite Relationships. Analysis of host-parasite relations from an evolutionary and ecological viewpoint. Lectures and laboratories conducted at Fort Burgwin, New Mexico. Prerequisite: BIOL 3354.

SMU Abroad Courses

3100, 3200, 3300. Special Topics Abroad. Courses offered in SMU-approved international programs. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle. A maximum of 6 credit-hours may be applied toward the B.A. or B.S. degree in biology. May not be applied toward the minor in biology. Prerequisite: Departmental approval.

3308. Biology of Marine Mammals. A comparative study of marine mammal anatomy, morphology, physiology, life history and behavior, and adaptation to marine existence. Includes study of the effect of human activities on marine mammals, with special reference to Northern European waters. (SMU-in-Copenhagen only) Prerequisites: BIOL 1401, 1402.

3309. Marine Biology of European Coastal Waters. Special emphasis on animals and plants living in European coastal waters. Chemical and physical parameters and their effect on community structure, morphology, anatomy and physiology. Functions as well as survival strategies and adaptations of the most important organisms. (SMU-in-Copenhagen only) Prerequisites: BIOL 1401, 1402; CHEM 1303, 1113.

3311. Tropical Ecology and Sustainable Development. Examines the ecological impact of human activity, especially agriculture, in a tropical country. Topics include water pollution, waste management and climate change. (SMU-in-Costa Rica only) Prerequisites: BIOL 3307 and at least one college-level course in Spanish.

3312. Wildlife Ecology. Ecological principles of the East Africa savanna ecosystem. Examines factors underlying distributions, population biology and behavioral ecology, along with competition and predation, using African examples. (SMU-in-Kenya only) Prerequisite: BIOL 3307.

Professor Elfi Kraka, Department Chair

Professors: Edward Biehl, John Buynak, Dieter Crèmer, Elfi Kraka, Michael Lattman, John Maguire, Mark Schell, Patty Wisian-Neilson. Associate Professors: Werner Horsthemke, David Son, Brent Sumerlin. Assistant Professor: Nicolay Tsarevsky. Adjunct Professor: Raj Vempati. Lecturers: Andrea Adams, Helen Babbili. Adjunct Lecturer: Jennifer O'Brien.

The atmosphere of the Chemistry Department is an informal one where students have easy access to the faculty. The advanced classes are small and most advanced laboratories are taught by the professorial staff. This gives the faculty the opportunity to get to know their undergraduate student majors quite well. The department believes that this close personal contact between faculty and students is important to success in undergraduate education. Undergraduate majors are heavily involved in research, working in teams with faculty, postdoctoral fellows and graduate students. Our majors are accepted into the leading graduate and professional schools in the nation. On average, two-thirds of our graduates seek advanced degrees. Those with majors at the Bachelor's level who choose employment find excellent positions.

For Undergraduate Students

Requirements for the B.S. Degree. The completion of a minimum of 44 hours in the department, including CHEM 1113, 1114, 1303, 1304, 3351; Organic Chemistry I and II with labs; CHEM 4397, 5185, 5188, 5192, 5310, 5383, 5384, 5392, 5486; and an additional 5000-level course in chemistry to be chosen in consultation with the departmental adviser. In addition, eight hours of general physics; and MATH 1337, 1338, 2339. This degree is certified by the American Chemical Society for professional training in chemistry.

Requirements for the B.S. Degree in Environmental Chemistry. CHEM 1113, 1114, 1303, 1304, 3351; Organic Chemistry I and II with labs; CHEM 5310, 5383, 5384, 5486, 5390; and either CHEM 5392 or GEOL 3451. In addition, eight hours of general physics; MATH 1337, 1338, 2339; GEOL 6363; at least one introductory environmental science elective, chosen from GEOL 1301, GEOL 1315, GEOL 2320, GEOL 2321, CEE 2304 or CEE 2421; at least one advanced environmental science elective, chosen from BIOL 3307, BIOL 3343, GEOL 3353, GEOL 3366, GEOL 5384 or CEE 5333; and at least three hours of undergraduate research (CHEM 4397 or GEOL 4399) on a topic in environmental chemistry. The research project can be conducted in the laboratory of an SMU faculty member or as an internship with a private company, and will culminate in a written report. Students planning to attend graduate school are advised to complete MATH 2343 or a statistical science course at the 4000 or 5000 level. This degree program is certified by the American Chemical Society for professional training in environmental chemistry.

Requirements for the B.A. Degree. The completion of a minimum of 26 hours in the department, including CHEM 1113, 1114, 1303, 1304; Organic Chemistry I and II with labs; CHEM 5381 (or 5383); plus at least 7 additional hours at the advanced level, to be chosen in consultation with the department adviser. In addition, eight hours of general physics, MATH 1337 and one additional course in math or statistics are required. This degree is not certified by the American Chemical Society.

The Departmental Distinction Program. A chemistry major pursuing a B.S. degree may elect to graduate with departmental distinction. The student must apply to the department for this designation during the junior year, after at least 22 hours of chemistry have been completed with a minimum GPA of 3.5 in those courses. The student will enroll in CHEM 4397 and undertake an independent research project under the supervision of a departmental faculty member. During the senior year, a senior thesis will be written and presented to the department. Upon approval of the departmental faculty at the completion of these requirements, and provided the student maintains a minimum 3.5 GPA in all chemistry courses, the student will be awarded the “departmental distinction” designation.

Requirements for the Minor. Students majoring in other departments may obtain a minor in chemistry by completing CHEM 1303, 1113 and CHEM 1304, 1114 plus three additional advanced courses to be chosen in consultation with the Chemistry Department adviser.

The Courses (CHEM)

1301. Chemistry for Liberal Arts. A course designed for students with weak backgrounds in chemistry and for liberal-arts students.

1303, 1304. General Chemistry. Designed primarily for science majors, premed students and engineering students. Offers an introduction to the fundamental principles and theories of chemistry, including stoichiometry, the structure of matter, energy relationships involved in the transformation of matter, the dynamics of such transformations, and some descriptive chemistry of the important elements. It is a prerequisite to all advanced courses in the department. Withdrawal from CHEM 1303, 1304 requires withdrawal from corresponding labs.

1113. General Chemistry Laboratory. One 3-hour laboratory period each week. Prerequisite or corequisite: CHEM 1303.

1114. General Chemistry Laboratory. One 3-hour laboratory period each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 1113; Prerequisite or corequisite: CHEM 1304.

3117. Organic Chemistry Laboratory. One 3-hour laboratory period each week. Corequisite: CHEM 3371.

3118. Organic Chemistry Laboratory. One 3-hour laboratory period each week. Corequisite: CHEM 3372.

3351. Quantitative Analysis. A course involving the theory and practice of quantitative analytical chemistry techniques including gravimetric, volumetric, electrochemical and spectroscopic analyses. 3 hours of lecture and two 4-hour laboratory periods per week for one-half term. Prerequisites: CHEM 1303, 1304, 1113, 1114.

3371, 3372. Organic Chemistry. Designed to satisfy the requirements of the chemistry major and health-related-professions student. The first term deals primarily with aliphatic chemistry with special emphasis on stereochemistry. The second term emphasizes aromatic substances and the chemistry of biologically relevant molecules. Prerequisites: CHEM 1303, 1304, 1113, 1114.

4000. Research. For students who hold research fellowships but are not enrolled in any credit-hour courses. No tuition.

Courses for Undergraduate and Graduate Students

5108. Special Topics in Chemistry. Special topics of current interest. Content varies from term to term.

5110 (BIOL 5110). Biological Chemistry Laboratory. One 3-hour laboratory period each week. Corequisite: CHEM 5310. If CHEM 5110 is counted toward a chemistry major or minor, it cannot be counted toward a biological sciences major or minor.

5185. Laboratory Methods in Physical Chemistry. Laboratory experiments with emphasis on thermodynamics, chemical kinetics and physical biochemistry. 1/2 hour of lecture and 5-hour laboratory period each week for 5 weeks. Prerequisite: CHEM 5381 or 5383.

5188. Advanced Physical Chemistry Laboratory. Laboratory experiments with emphasis on chemical kinetics and molecular spectroscopy. 1/2 hour of lecture and 5-hour laboratory period each week for 5 weeks. Prerequisite: CHEM 5185. Corequisite: CHEM 5384 or permission of instructor.

5192. Inorganic Synthesis Laboratory. This course introduces students to advanced techniques and methods used in the synthesis of inorganic compounds. Corequisite (or prerequisite): CHEM 5392.

5308. Special Topics in Chemistry. Presentation of advanced special topics in chemistry that are at the forefront of current chemical interest. Content varies from term to term.

5310 (BIOL 5310). Biological Chemistry: Macromolecular Structure and Function. Introduction to the structure and function of macromolecules of biological importance. Emphasis on nucleic acid and protein structure, enzyme kinetics, carbohydrate and lipid chemistry. 3 lecture hours each week. Prerequisites: CHEM 3371, 3372. If CHEM 5310 is counted toward a chemistry major or minor, it cannot be counted toward a biological sciences major or minor.

5311 (BIOL 5311). Biological Chemistry: Metabolism. Introduction to the pathways and regulatory events in the metabolism of carbohydrates, lipids, amino acids and nucleotides. 3 lecture hours each week. Prerequisites: CHEM 3371, 3372.

5312 (BIOL 5312). Physical Biochemistry. Physical chemistry of macromolecules and biological membranes, with an emphasis on the thermodynamics of solutions. Prerequisites: MATH 1338 and CHEM 3372, 5310. (CHEM 5381 or CHEM 5383 is recommended.)

5317. Introduction to Molecular Modeling and Computer-Assisted Drug Design. The course presents a thorough and in-depth overview of methods and techniques in computer-assisted drug design (CADD). It includes topics such as drug discovery and drug design, molecular recognition and docking, ligand-receptor interactions, pharmacophore searching, virtual screening, de novo design, molecular graphics, chemometrics, etc. Prerequisites: CHEM 1303, 1304 or equivalent, or permission of instructor.

5321. Understanding Chemistry with the help of Models and Concepts. The course focuses on a general understanding of chemistry in terms of models and concepts that describe structure, stability, reactivity and other properties of molecules in a simple, yet very effective way. Prerequisites: CHEM 1303, 1304 or equivalent, or permission of instructor.

5322. Introduction to Nanotechnology. Nanotechnology (NT) is expected to change our lives and society more than computer technology and electricity have done together. The course will provide an introduction to NT. Nano-materials and their applications will be discussed. Prerequisites: Minimum of 6 hours of chemistry, physics, engineering or biology.

5333. Introduction to Polymer Chemistry. This course provides basic information on the synthesis, physical properties and solution properties of high molecular weight molecules. Plastics, manufacturing and fabrication of polymers are discussed. Prerequisites: CHEM 3371, 3372.

5381. Physical Chemistry. Introduction to chemical thermodynamics, kinetics, molecular structure, spectroscopy and statistical mechanics. Designed for B.A. majors in chemistry. Prerequisites: CHEM 1304, 1114; PHYS 1106, 1304; MATH 1337.

5383. Physical Chemistry I. Gas laws; kinetic molecular theory; introduction to thermodynamics, with applications to phase transitions and chemical equilibrium; chemical kinetics. Prerequisites: PHYS 1106, 1304, 1114 and MATH 2339, or permission of instructor.

5384. Physical Chemistry II. Elements of quantum mechanics and its description of many electron atoms, bonding, and spectroscopy; intermolecular forces; structure of solids; and transport properties of fluids. Prerequisite: CHEM 5383.

5392. Advanced Inorganic Chemistry. Survey of the bonding, structure and reactivity of inorganic compounds; coordination, organometallic and main group element chemistry. 3 hours of lecture each week. Recommended: CHEM 5384.

5393. Advanced Organic Chemistry. 3 hours of lecture each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 3372.

5396. Advanced Physical Chemistry. 3 hours of lecture each week. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor.

5397. Biotransformations and Biocatalysis. This course will cover the history, application and current trends of biotransformations and biocatalysis with an emphasis on how biocatalysts are developed and used in pharmaceutical research. Prerequisites: CHEM 3371, 3372.

5486. Instrumental Analysis. A course involving the theory, operation and application of instrumentation used in the modern chemical laboratory. 2 hours of lecture and two 3-hour laboratory periods each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 3351 or permission of instructor.

CLASSICAL STUDIES

Associate Professor Melissa Dowling, Director

The classical studies minor offers an integrated program studying the various aspects of the civilization of ancient Greece and Rome. The minor requires 18 hours, of which at least nine hours must be at the advanced level (3000 or above). Course-work for the minor must be distributed as follows:

A. Classical Languages (6 hours)

LATN 2311, 2312 or other advanced Latin courses
Classical Greek at 2000 level, when available

B. Classical Studies (At least one course from each group) (12 hours)

Group 1 (Art History)

ARHS 3303 Archaeological field methods in Italy
ARHS 3307 Art and Society in Late Antiquity, 300–700
ARHS 3312 Etruscan and Roman Art
ARHS 3313 Etruscan and Iron Age Italy
ARHS 3314 The Art and Architecture of Ancient Pompeii
ARHS 3315 Classical Sculpture
ARHS 3316 Art in Rome (SMU-in-Rome)
ARHS 3317 Ancient Painting
ARHS 3319 Art of the Roman Empire
CLAS 3311 (ARHS 3311) Mortals, Myths and Monuments of Ancient Greece

Group 2 (History)

HIST 3353 The History of Ancient Greece
HIST 3354 Warfare and Diplomacy in Antiquity
HIST 3355 Class and Gender in Ancient Society
HIST 3361 Roman History and the Roman Mind
HIST 5391 Athenian Democracy
PHIL 3351 History of Western Philosophy (Ancient)

Group 3 (Other)

ANTH 2321 (ENGL 2371) The Dawn of Wisdom: Ancient Creation Stories From Four Civilizations
ARHS 3318 Currents in Classical Civilization
ARHS 3603 Archaeological Field Methods of Italy

- CLAS 2311 Myth and Thought in the Ancient World
CLAS 2332 Society Expanding – Polis and Empire
CLAS 3312 Classical Rhetoric
RELI 3320 Introduction to Classical Judaism
RELI 3326 Introduction to New Testament
RELI 3349 Early Christianity
RELI 3371 The World of the New Testament

The Courses (CLAS)

2311. Myth and Thought in the Ancient World. Explores the conceptual and philosophical underpinnings of ancient understandings of reality in Western and non-Western cultures in ancient and modern times. Materials for investigation will be primarily textual, including myths, epics, tragedies and philosophical discourse in ancient Greece.

2332. Society Expanding – Polis and Empire. This course presents a case-study approach to the development of cities, civilizations and empires from the appearance of urbanism in Mesopotamia to the end of the European Middle Ages, with special reference to political, economic and religious institutions.

3311 (ARHS 3311). Mortals, Myths and Monuments of Ancient Greece. A visual analysis of the rich tapestry of ancient Greek culture, fountainhead of Western civilization, with emphasis on mythological, archaeological and historical settings in which the art and architecture occur. Touches on various aspects of ancient Greek life, including religious practices, Olympic contests, theatrical performances and artistic perfection, among others.

3312 (CFB 3312). Classical Rhetoric. Readings in the Ancient Sophists, Plato, Aristotle, Isocrates, Cicero, Quintilian, Longinus and St. Augustine; study of the intellectual foundations of the Western world.

EARTH SCIENCES

Professor Robert Gregory, Department Chair

Professors: David Blackwell, Robert Gregory, Eugene Herrin, Louis Jacobs, Lee McAlester, Jim Quick, Brian Stump, John Walther, Crayton Yapp. Associate Professors: Bonnie Jacobs, Neil Tabor. Research Professors: Steven Bergman, Anthony Fiorillo, Roy Mink, John Wagner, Alisa Winkler, Dale Winkler, Pierre Zippi. Research Associate Professor: H. Troy Stuckey. Research Assistant Professors: Jason McKenna, Mihan House McKenna, Yurena Yanes.

The Roy M. Huffington Department of Earth Sciences provides ways of understanding and appreciating dynamic earth processes, the physical environment, and the place of humanity in the long and complex history of the planet and solar system. They also provide the background for rewarding careers in industry, government and academia. The faculty offers exceptional learning and research opportunities in geology, geochemistry, geophysics, resource geology, planetary geology, paleontology, and natural resource and energy management.

Earth sciences attract students with broad interests in geology, chemistry, biology, environmental science, archaeology, physics, astronomy, oceanography, applied mathematics or engineering. The department strongly encourages combined majors. In addition to combinations with the above fields, many undergraduate earth science majors have double majors or minors in business (especially finance, real estate or marketing), economics, prelaw, computer science, archaeology, foreign languages, English, history, journalism and premed. Earth science is an interdisciplinary, applied science that integrates well with other fields.

Academic programs are tailor-made to the educational and career objectives of each student. Because of the heavily funded active research programs within the department and their close ties with the Dallas geological community, students often receive excellent pre- and post-graduation employment opportunities. The department also has some financial aid available for undergraduate majors, including department scholarships and support for off-campus field programs.

The department offers four different majors in earth sciences: geology B.A. and B.S., geophysics B.S., and resource geology B.S. A minor in geology or environmental earth science that can be combined with virtually any other degree program on campus is available. The department is the home of the Environmental Science and Environmental Studies programs. (See the degree program listing in the Dedman College section for details.)

Major in Geology

The B.A. or B.S. degree in geology consists of a core sequence that provides a basic background in plate tectonics, earth materials (mineralogy and igneous, metamorphic and sedimentary rocks) and field methods. Beyond the core sequence, all students are encouraged to include sedimentology and structural geology (required for the B.S.) in their programs. Students, in consultation with a faculty adviser, are encouraged to pursue concentrations in paleontology, geochemistry or resource geology that integrate classroom learning with field and laboratory experience.

Requirements for the B.A. Degree. A minimum of 28 hours in earth sciences, selected from the following:

1. One course chosen from GEOL 1301, 1305, 1307, 1308, 1313, 1315 – 3 hours
2. GEOL 3340, 3451, 3452 – 11 hours
3. Earth science electives at the 3000 level or above – 12 hours minimum
4. Geology field studies (one course chosen from GEOL 3241, 3242, 3243, 3343) – 2 to 3 hours

Required support courses – 9 hours minimum:

1. CHEM 1301 or 1303 – 3 hours
2. PHYS 1301, 1303 (recommended) or 1313 – 3 hours minimum
3. MATH 1337 – 3 hours

NOTE: Participation in a recognized geology summer field camp is strongly recommended for all majors (B.A. and B.S.). Most earth science graduate programs in the United States require that a field course be completed.

Requirements for the B.S. Degree. A minimum of 36 hours in earth sciences, selected from the following:

1. One course chosen from GEOL 1301, 1305, 1307, 1308, 1313, 1315 – 3 hours
2. GEOL 3340, 3451, 3452, 3454 – 15 hours
3. Earth science electives at the 3000 level or above – 12 hours minimum
4. Geology field studies (one course chosen from GEOL 3241, 3242, 3243, 3343) – 2 to 3 hours
5. GEOL 4296 and 4298 or GEOL 4657 – 4 to 6 hours

Required support courses – 17 hours minimum:

1. CHEM 1303, 1113; 1304, 1114 – 8 hours
2. PHYS 1303 – 3 hours
3. MATH 1337, 1338 – 6 hours

NOTES:

- Participation in a recognized geology summer field camp is strongly recommended for all majors (B.A. and B.S.). Most earth science graduate programs in the United States require that a field course be completed.
- Experience with a modern scientific computing language is essential. This experience can be gained in a course such as GEOL 3359 Computer Methods in the Earth Sciences.

- The requirements for the major are considered minimal. Students planning careers in the earth sciences should take additional coursework according to the geoscience emphasis that best fits their goals. Consult a faculty adviser for suggestions.

Minor in Geology

Requirements for the Minor. A minimum of 17 hours in earth sciences, selected from the following:

1. One course chosen from GEOL 1301, 1305, 1307, 1308, 1313, 1315 – 3 hours
2. Earth science electives at the 3000 level or above – 12 hours minimum
3. Geology field studies (one course chosen from GEOL 3241, 3242, 3243, 3343) or an earth sciences elective at the 3300 level or higher, if not used to meet the requirement listed above – 2 to 3 hours

Major in Geophysics

Geophysical techniques are used to understand the physical behavior of Earth, including plate-tectonic processes, earthquake mechanisms and nuclear test-ban verification. The B.S. degree in geophysics provides a strong quantitative background in seismology, geothermics and digital signal processing.

Requirements for the B.S. Degree. A minimum of 33 hours in earth sciences, selected from the following:

1. One course chosen from GEOL 1301, 1305, 1307, 1313, 1315 – 3 hours
2. GEOL 3340, 3451, 3452 – 11 hours
3. GEOL 3454, 5320, 5392 – 10 hours
4. Earth science electives at the 3000 level or above, one of which must be in geophysics – 9 hours minimum

Required support courses – 30 hours minimum:

1. CHEM 1303, 1113 – 4 hours
2. PHYS 1303, 1105; 1304, 1106 – 8 hours
3. MATH 1337, 1338, 2339, 2343, 3337, 3353 – 18 hours

NOTES:

- Participation in a recognized geology or geophysics summer field camp is strongly recommended for all geophysics majors.
- Experience with a modern scientific computing language is essential. This experience can be gained in a course such as GEOL 3359 Computer Methods in Earth Sciences.
- The requirements for the geophysics major are considered minimal. Students should consult a faculty adviser for recommendations on additional coursework that best fits their goals.

Major in Resource Geology

Resource and environmental issues are central to the important challenges facing the world today. As a result, resource and environmental problems are being addressed by a growing number of disciplines, including the sciences, engineering, the legal profession, economics, journalism and ethics. Yet, most of these problems are rooted in geological processes. The B.S. degree in resource geology is intended to provide students with a quantitative understanding of the chemical and physical processes involved in the formation and production of a particular resource and the environmental consequences. The degree is preparation for the practice of geology in the public sector. Because of the multidisciplinary scope of most resource problems, students are strongly encouraged to take appropriate courses in other departments.

Requirements for the B.S. Degree. A minimum of 33 hours in earth science, selected from the following:

1. One course chosen from GEOL 1301 (recommended), 1305, 1307, 1308, 1313, 1315 – 3 hours
2. GEOL 3340, 3451, 3452 – 11 hours

3. GEOL 3330, 5384, 5386 – 9 hours
4. Two electives chosen from GEOL 3343, 3353, 3374, 3454, 3472, 4390, 5459 – 6 to 8 hours minimum
5. GEOL 4296 and 4298 or GEOL 4657 – 4 to 6 hours

Required support courses – 23 hours minimum:

1. CHEM 1303, 1113; 1304, 1114 – 8 hours
2. PHYS 1303 – 3 hours
3. MATH 1337, 1338, 2339, 2343 – 12 hours

NOTES:

- Experience with a modern scientific computing language is essential. This experience can be gained in a course such as GEOL 3359 Computer Methods in Earth Sciences.
- The requirements for the resource geology major are considered minimal. Students should consult a faculty adviser for recommendations on additional coursework that best fits their goals.

Minor in Environmental Earth Sciences

The minor in environmental earth sciences is designed with a two-course geology core as background to an interdisciplinary course of study. The minor is freestanding and is not intended to feed into a major. Instead, it should provide an excellent and substantive background for students heading into the environmental field from other disciplines. The minor is not suitable for a student majoring in the earth sciences. The Department of Earth Sciences is responsible for administration of this minor.

Requirements for the Minor. A minimum of 17 hours, to be selected from the following, with at least nine hours at the 3000 level or above:

1. One course chosen from GEOL 1301, 1305, 1307, 1308, 1313, 1315 – 3 hours
2. One course chosen from GEOL 3330, 3340¹, 3353², 3363, 3366² – 3 hours
3. Four courses to be selected from GEOL 1315, 3241–43, 3307, 3330, 3340, 3343, 3353, 3363, 3366, 5384, 5386 (if not used to meet the requirement listed above); BIOL 1305*, 3307³, 3342³, 3343^{3*}; CEE 5311 – 11 to 12 hours

 Course is taught only at SMU-in-Taos*

Course prerequisites:

² High school chemistry and algebra

³ BIOL 1401 and 1402 or permission of instructor

The Courses (GEOL)

1301. Earth Systems. Examines geologic change within the earth as governed by physical, chemical and biological processes, and interactions between the solid earth, oceans, atmosphere and biosphere. 3 hours of lecture and one 2-hour laboratory each week. Recommended for all geology tracks.

1305. Oceanography. A study of the physical (geological), biological and chemical processes responsible for the existence of the ocean as we know it today. Examines the impact of man on the oceans and oceanography's role in resource development, climatic and environmental modification, and other human concerns. 3 hours of lecture and one 2-hour laboratory each week.

1307. The Solar System. A study of the formation and evolution of the solar system. Discussion of solar system materials, nebular processes, meteorites, the formation and evolution of the planets and their satellites, the origin of stars, and the evidence for the standard model of cosmology. 3 hours of lecture and one 2-hour laboratory each week.

1308. Evolution and Life History. Evolution as observed in the fossil record in light of biological principles. Evolution as a process, origins of life, adaptation and extinction, emphasizing examples from the geological record. One 4-hour field trip each week. Recommended for the paleontology track.

1313. Earthquakes and Volcanoes. Seismic and volcanic activity are two important manifestations of plate tectonics on the earth. They are also two major natural hazards affecting humankind. This course will emphasize the geologic insights provided by earthquakes and volcanoes, and their impact on society.

1315. Introduction to Environmental Sciences. Fundamental principles of ecology, hydrology, geology, population dynamics, land-use management and related fields will be used as the basis for understanding many of the major environmental issues that face our planet – greenhouse climate changes, soil and water pollution, acid rain and related atmospheric pollution problems, habitat destruction and species extinctions, waste disposal, land use management, energy resource development, geologic hazards, and others. 3 hours of lecture and one 2-hour laboratory. Field trips will take the place of some laboratory classes.

2320, 2321. Southwestern Environments: A Geologic Approach. Practice of the scientific method by investigation of the processes affecting geologic and environmental change in the southwestern United States. Offered only through the SMU-in-Taos program. Course will satisfy either the laboratory science requirement (2320) or the second-term writing requirement (2321). Either course can fulfill a 1300-level geology major or minor course requirement.

3107. Departmental Seminar. Students attend and critically evaluate departmental seminars given by visiting scientists, visiting engineers, faculty and graduate students. Prerequisite: Major in geology, geophysics or environmental geology.

3307 (BIOL 3307). Ecology. Basic principles and concepts of ecology with emphasis on population and community interactions. 3 lecture hours each week. Prerequisites: BIOL 1401, 1402 or permission of instructor

3330. Resources and the Environment. A study of earth materials and processes and how they bear on planning, resource, conservation and pollution problems arising from humankind's intense use of the earth. Prerequisites: High school algebra and chemistry, and one 1300-level course in earth sciences, or permission of instructor.

3340. Face of the Earth. A study of the theory of plate tectonics for understanding earthquake, volcano and mountain-belt formations. Specific application of the theory is illustrated in terms of its application to understanding features of the regional geology of North America such as the coastal region and the San Andreas Fault. Prerequisite: One 1300-level course in earth sciences or permission of instructor.

3353. Modern and Ancient Climates. Science of the modern atmosphere, modern climate, and evidence of historical climatic change. Geological evidence for atmospheric and climatic changes throughout Earth's history. Prerequisite: One 1300-level course in earth sciences or permission of instructor.

3359. Computer Methods in Earth Sciences. Solutions to geological, geochemical, and geophysical problems unique to earth sciences using computer methods. Focuses on computer application to geologic mapping, modeling and data analysis. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor.

3360. Process Geomorphology. Analysis of geological processes and other factors that influence or control the origin and development of landforms of the earth. Laboratory exercises and field trips are included. Prerequisite: One 1300-level course in earth sciences or permission of instructor.

3361, 3363. Environmental Geology Seminar. Focuses on timely geoscience-based environmental problems and addresses scientific, environmental, political, economic, legal and social aspects of potential "solutions" through selected readings, seminars, guest speakers and research projects. Prerequisite: One 1300-level earth sciences course or permission of instructor.

3366. Environmental Geology and Geochemical Cycles. An introduction to the physical and chemical processes occurring in the earth's atmosphere, oceans, rivers and groundwater at both a local and a global scale. Prerequisites: High school algebra and chemistry and one 1300-level course in earth sciences.

3369. Paleobiology. A survey of biological diversity, phylogenetic analysis, rates of evolution, extinction, biogeography, taphonomy and paleoecology. Prerequisites: One 1300-level course in earth sciences or permission of instructor; BIOL 1401 is also a suitable prerequisite.

3374. Introduction to Petroleum Geology. An introduction to stratigraphy, sedimentation and petroleum geology. Prerequisite: One 1300-level course in earth sciences or permission of instructor.

3451, 3452. Earth Materials I and II: Mineralogy and Petrology. The study of minerals and rocks: elementary crystallography; crystal chemistry; mineral structures and physical properties; rock classification and identification of rocks and minerals in hand specimen; principles of mineral optics; identification of minerals in thin section; and introduction to relationships among rock textures, origins and rock-forming processes. Prerequisites: One 1300-level course in earth sciences and credit or registration in CHEM 1301 or 1303 (for 3451); credit or registration in GEOL 3340 (for 3452).

3454. Structural Geology. Introduction to the stress-strain relations of rocks, the origin of faults, the brittle to ductile transition, and mechanics of thrusting and folding. Laboratory problems in structure contouring, fault solutions, stereonet manipulation and analysis of folded terrains. Prerequisite: Credit or registration in GEOL 3452, or permission of instructor.

3472. Principles of Sedimentation. A study of the origin and post-depositional modification of sediments, sedimentary structures, and sedimentary rocks. Application to the recognition and interpretation of ancient marine and nonmarine sedimentary depositional sequences. Required weekend field trips. Prerequisite: Credit or registration in GEOL 3451, or permission of instructor.

4321. Internship in Geoscience. Direct experience using applied geoscience techniques in a work environment, including resource recovery companies; environmental companies; law firms; nonprofit organizations; educational institutions; and municipal, state or federal agencies. Prerequisites: Junior or senior standing in a geoscience major, overall GPA of at least 3.0, and completion of GEOL 3452; sponsorship of a professor and approved organization, agency or company.

4390. Introduction to Geophysical Prospecting. Introduction to geophysical exploration techniques. Lecture and laboratory. Prerequisite: MATH 1338 or permission of instructor.

4600. Earth and Planetary Geology. Field camp that provides intensive, hands-on experiences with physical geology and observational planetary geology. Prerequisites: GEOL 3451, 3452 and permission of instructor.

4657. Field Geology. Geologic mapping and field trips in a summer field-camp setting. Prerequisites: GEOL 3454, 3472 or permission of instructor.

5110, 5210, 5310. Independent Study in Geoscience. Independent study of a selected topic in geoscience. Individual study under direction of a faculty member allowed for 5110 or 5210; group projects allowed for 5310.

5166 (BIOL 5166). Vertebrate Anatomy Laboratory. A laboratory course to accompany GEOL 5366. Exercises include basic anatomy, dissections and examination of fossil skeletons. Corequisite: GEOL 5366.

5199, 5299, 5399. Special Topics in Earth Sciences. Topics of special interest not covered by the regular curriculum, taught by visiting scientists and those with temporary appointments at SMU. Can be cotaught together with faculty of the department. Prerequisite: GEOL 3340 or permission of instructor.

5261. Mineral Chemistry. A study of the major rock-forming minerals with emphasis on solid solution, chemistry in relation to crystal structure, conditions of occurrence and stability relations.

5320. Dynamic Earth I. Physical and chemical structure of the earth and its evolution through geologic time. Dynamic processes in the mantle and crust. Development of the theory of plate tectonics as a unifying mechanism for large-scale geologic processes. Implications of plate tectonics, and contemporary applications to geological and geophysical problems. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor.

5360. Electron Microprobe Analysis. Design and operation of the instrument. Correction procedures and computer automation. Analytical techniques and mineral chemistry.

5366 (BIOL 5366). Vertebrate Anatomy and Origins. An introduction to vertebrate anatomy with emphasis on structure and function. Additionally, the course examines processes that have affected the diversity of vertebrate organisms, including origination, biogeography and adaptation. Prerequisites: BIOL 1401, 1402 and GEOL 1308, or permission of instructor. The accompanying laboratory, BIOL 5166, is strongly recommended.

5368. Paleocology. Interactions between the living world and the earth's changing environments through geologic time. Prerequisite: GEOL 3369 or permission of instructor.

5369. Introduction to Palynology. The course provides an overview of palynology: concepts and uses. Taphonomic processes and applications in paleocology, paleoclimatology, archeology, plant taxonomy and plant evolution are considered. No prerequisites. One field trip.

5370. Global Change. An introduction to relatively short-term geologic changes in the earth's environments. Tempo and mode in the three principal sources of such changes – extraterrestrial events, variations in the earth's internal dynamo, and the evolving ocean-atmosphere-biosphere system – will be emphasized. Prerequisite: GEOL 3340 or permission of instructor.

5371. Paleontology of Quaternary Vertebrates. The history of vertebrate life in North America during the last 3 million years, with special emphasis on mammals. Origins, distribution, distinctions, environmental interpretations, and faunal analysis. Prerequisite: GEOL 3369 or consent of instructor.

5372. Principles of Sedimentation. Study of the origin and evolution of sedimentary rocks in terms of interpretation of marine and nonmarine sedimentary record.

5374. Petroleum Geology. Application of geologic principles to the location and recovery of hydrocarbon resources in the crust of the earth. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor.

5382. Igneous and Metamorphic Petrology. The origin, occurrence and classification of igneous and metamorphic rocks. Problems of genesis are considered in the light of chemical equilibria and features of geological occurrence. Lecture, no lab. Prerequisite: GEOL 3452 or permission of instructor.

5384. Hydrogeology. An introduction to the chemical and physical behavior of natural waters and the role of fluids in geologic processes. The course will stress the application of thermodynamics, kinetics, and fluid mechanics to understand such geologic processes as ore formation, sediment diagenesis, isograd formation, acid rain, global warming and groundwater contamination. Prerequisites: MATH 1338 and CHEM 1304, or permission of instructor.

5389. Theory of Digital Data Processing in Geophysics. Linear transform theory, convolution, correlation, linear systems, Shannon sampling theorem, discrete Fourier transform, Fast Fourier Transform, Z transform, inverse filtering, recursive filtering, optimum filtering, deconvolution and power spectrum analysis. Prerequisite: MATH 2343 or permission of instructor.

5391. Potential Field Methods in Geophysical Exploration. Introduction to potential theory in geophysics. The emphasis is on gravity and magnetic techniques with a brief introduction to heat flow and electrical methods. Basic concepts and their application to hard and soft rock exploration are covered.

5392. Introduction to Seismology. Basic principles of seismology. Prerequisites: MATH 2343 and permission of instructor.

5459. Soils and Paleosols. This is a lecture, lab and field-based course about modern and ancient (paleosol) soil description, classification and genesis. The course emphasizes environmental controls on soil formation and distribution across Earth’s landscapes. Recommended: CHEM 1303, 1304, 1113, 1114, 3351; CEE 4385. Prerequisites: One from GEOL 1301, 1305, 1307, 1308, 1313, 1315; and GEOL 3343, 3451, 3452, 3472.

5481. Igneous and Metamorphic Petrology. The origin, occurrence and classification of igneous and metamorphic rocks. Problems of genesis are considered in the light of chemical equilibria and features of geological occurrence. Lecture and laboratory. Prerequisite: GEOL 3452 or permission of instructor.

ECONOMICS

Professor Tom Fomby, Department Chair

Professors: Nathan Balke, Raveendra Batra, Rajat Deb, Tom Fomby, Kathy Hayes, Daniel Millimet, Santanu Roy, Kamal Saggi, Daniel Slotte, Shlomo Weber. Associate Professors: Thomas Osang, Saltuk Ozerturk. Assistant Professors: Bo Chen, Kyle Hyndman, Anna Kormilitsina, Isaac Mbiti. Senior Lecturer: James Cooley. Lecturers: Helen Reynolds, Rupinder Saggi, Elizabeth Wheaton.

Requirements for the Major. The student majoring in economics may choose among four degree plans. Each degree plan requires the student to take six core classes (ECO 1311, 1312, 3301 and 3302, MATH 1309 or 1337, and STAT 2301 or 2331 or 4340). Under each degree plan, the student is expected to take ECO 1311 and 1312 and MATH 1309 and 1337 during their first or second year. Finally, under each degree plan, the student must have a GPA of at least 2.0 in economics courses attempted, and the student must receive at least a grade of C- in all classes counting toward the major. MATH 1309 or 1337 is required prior to enrolling in ECO 3301 or 3302. STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340 is required prior to enrolling in any economics course at the 4000 level or above. Once the major is declared, due progress must be made in terms of course enrollment. If requirements change, the catalog in force at the time the major is declared prevails.

Requirements for the B.A. Degree. The B.A. degree in economics is designed primarily for students who want a liberal arts education with an emphasis on economics but with great breadth. This degree requires the six core classes and 18 hours of advanced economics* (defined as ECO 3355 and any economics course at the 4000 or 5000 level).

Requirements for the B.S. Degree. The B.S. degree in economics offers more specialized training in economics and provides a firm basis for graduate study in business, economics or law. This degree requires the six core courses; 24 hours in advanced economics* (defined as ECO 3355 and any economics course at the 4000 or 5000 level), of which at least six hours must be at the 5000 or above level; satisfaction of at least one of the approved subfields (listed below); and three additional hours of calculus (MATH 1338).

Requirements for the B.S. Degree With Finance Applications. The degree combines specialized training in economics with a concentration in areas significant to financial markets. This degree is particularly suited to those seeking a career in the financial sector. This degree requires the six core courses; 27 hours in advanced economics* (defined as ECO 3355 and any economics course at the 4000 or 5000 level) of which nine hours must be satisfied by ECO 3355, 4368 and 4378; at least six hours must be at the 5000 or above level; satisfaction of at least one of the approved subfields (listed below); ACCT 2301; and CSE 1340, 1341 or ITOM 3306 (only for business majors/minors).

Requirements for the B.S. Degree With Systems Analysis. The B.S. degree in economics with systems analysis offers integrated studies in economics, operations research and computer science. It provides excellent preparation for graduate education in economics, business or public administration and for service in both the public and private sectors where quantitative economists provide assistance in policy formulation. This degree requires the six core courses; 24 hours in advanced economics* (defined as ECO 3355 and any economics course at the 4000 or 5000 level), of which at least six hours must be at the 5000 or above level; satisfaction of at least one of the approved subfields (listed below); MATH 1338 and 2339; CSE 1341, 1342, 2341, 2353 and 3358.

* Excluding ECO 3321

NOTES:

1. ECO 3301 and 3302 require prior completion of MATH 1309 or 1337.
2. All economics courses at the 4000 level or above require prior completion of STAT 2301 or 2331 or 4340.
3. Additional recommended or required preparation for courses is indicated within the course descriptions.
4. Questions concerning specific courses and the undergraduate program in general should be directed to Economics Department personnel.
5. Each student majoring in economics is urged to consult a departmental adviser periodically to review their degree plan and progress.
6. The three B.S. degree plans require the student to satisfy at least one subfield in economics when choosing advanced economic courses. Approved subfields are:

Econometrics (2 out of 4)

ECO 5350 Introduction to Econometrics

ECO 5375 Economic and Business Forecasting

ECO 5385 Data Mining Techniques for Economists

ECO 6352 Applied Econometrics

Economic Growth and Development (2 out of 4)

- ECO 5359 Economic Development: Microeconomic Perspectives
- ECO 5360 Economic Development: Macroeconomic Perspectives
- ECO 5361 Natural Resources and Energy Economics
- ECO 5362 Economic Growth

- ECO 5320 Health Economics
- ECO 5365 Public Finance
- ECO 5370 Cost-Benefit Analysis

Departmental Distinction. The student majoring in economics with sufficiently high standing may graduate with departmental distinction by pursuing a rigorous independent research project under the direction of a faculty sponsor. The research will occur while enrolled in ECO 4398. The project will be presented to the faculty sponsor and director of Undergraduate Studies at the end of the term.

Requirements for the Minor. The student majoring in other departments may obtain a minor in economics by completing the six core courses (ECO 1311, 1312, 3301, 3302, MATH 1309 or 1337, and STAT 2301 or 2331 or 4340) and two advanced courses at the 4000 or 5000 level. In addition, the student must have a GPA of at least 2.0 in economics courses attempted, and the student must receive at least a grade of C- in all classes counting toward the minor. Nonlecture classes cannot be used toward an economics minor.

Students may either obtain a general minor in economics or a minor in a specialized field (international economics, public economics, labor economics, econometrics, economic growth and development, monetary economics, economics of decision-making, and economics of industrial organization). The specialization may be obtained if six hours of 4000- and 5000-level courses constitute one of the above eight fields currently approved by the Economics Department.

The Courses (ECO)

1310. Exploring Economic Issues. Discusses current economic issues and problems in a suitable manner for students not majoring in economics or related sciences. No prerequisites. No credit is allowed for students who have received credit for ECO 1311 or 1312.

1311. Principles: Consumers, Firms and Markets (Microeconomics). Enables a concerned citizen to make an intelligent appraisal of current controversies relating to consumers and producers. Explains tools of economic analysis. No prerequisites.

1312. Principles: Inflation, Recession and Unemployment (Macroeconomics). The second term of a liberal arts education sequence discusses issues such as inflation, unemployment and growth from both national and global perspectives. Tools of economic analysis include models of open economies. Prerequisite: C- or better in ECO 1311.

2301. Topics in Economics. Topics vary. Course may not be used to satisfy requirements for an economics major or minor. Prerequisite: C- or better in ECO 1310, 1311 or 1312.

3301. Price Theory (Intermediate Microeconomics). Considers more advanced problems of microeconomics. The focus is on understanding how consumers behave, how firms make pricing and output decisions, and the structure of markets and how this impacts the behavior of firms and consumers. Economic theory postulates certain behavioral rules for consumers and firm managers, and makes certain assumptions concerning the institutional structure of society (its laws, property rights, customs, etc.). Various testable propositions can be derived from the operation of the society's economic system. These propositions are investigated by working through actual models. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 1311 and 1312, and MATH 1309 or 1337.

3302. National Income and Employment (Intermediate Macroeconomics). This course is designed to investigate the factors that influence the level of aggregate income in an economy. It attempts to study the decision-making that ultimately results in the determination of the levels of consumption, investment or employment. For the most part, primitive general equilibrium models are employed to investigate these questions, as well as to analyze the impact of various government fiscal policies. The behavior of business cycles and patterns across various countries is also analyzed. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 1311 and 1312, and MATH 1309 or 1337. Corequisite: ECO 3301.

3321. International Economic Policy. Examines the facts and theories of international trade and finance. Emphasis is placed on analyzing current issues such as the U.S. trade deficit, policies toward multinational firms, and harmonization of fiscal and monetary policies among countries. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 1311 and 1312. Note: ECO 3321 cannot be taken after or concurrent with ECO 4357, and credit for this course cannot be used toward an economics major or minor.

3355. Money and Banking. Analyzes central and commercial banking for students majoring in economics, business and related sciences. A student may not receive credit for both ECO 3355 and FINA 3330 Money and Capital Markets. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 1311 and 1312. Note: Course enrollment restricted to economics majors/minors only.

4101, 4201, 4301. Topics. (to be specified in title) Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301 and 3302, or permission of instructor.

4351. Labor Economics. This course is an introduction to the study of labor economics. It provides an overview of labor supply and labor demand models, with extensions to models of taxes and tax credits, welfare and social security. The focus then shifts to models of wage determination and extensions such as the effects of minimum wage, performance-based pay, unions and discrimination. This course will be equally devoted to both theoretical and empirical analysis of these issues. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

4357. International Trade. The purpose of this course is to provide an understanding of international trade in goods and services among countries and to develop a framework for analyzing trade policy issues. Major topics covered include the determinants of trade; the gains from trade; the relation between trade and foreign direct investment; trade and labor migration; the effects of trade restrictions such as import tariffs or export subsidies; and the analysis of regional economic integration such as the European Union or NAFTA. The course covers only the real effects of trade; international financial issues will not be treated. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

4358. International Macroeconomic Theory and Policy. This course examines the monetary aspects of international economics. Implications of contemporary banking and foreign exchange practices are explored, as are interpretations given to changes in the structure of a nation's balance of payments. Central attention is given to the macroeconomic interactions among national economies and international systematic adjustments expected from market disturbances and shifting government policies. Students will evaluate the operation of the international monetary system from the gold-standard period to the present. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

4361. Economics of Education. An economic analysis of the state of the U.S. educational system. Topics include trends in academic achievement, educational production functions, teacher labor markets and educational reforms. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

4365. State and Local Government Finance. Many government expenditures and taxes that impact everyday life are provided and largely financed by state and local governments. These include police and fire protection, public education, sanitation and refuse removal, street and road maintenance, water supply, recreation, and environmental protection. In this course, we will study how state and local governments make decisions about what services to provide and make decisions about how to finance them. Prerequisites: C- or better in STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340, MATH 1309 or 1337; recommended: ECO 3302.

4368. Foundations of Financial Economics. This course applies the tools of economic analysis to financial decision-making. Emphasis is placed on developing a framework for understanding the economic nature of these problems and their solutions. Topics include the introduction to financial economics, time value of money, investment decisions, risk and return, capital asset pricing model, capital budgeting, capital structure, dividend policy, hedging, mergers and acquisitions, and international financial management. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, 3355, ACCT 2301, MATH 1309 or 1337, and ITOM 2305 or STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340. Note: ECO 4368 cannot be taken if student has taken FINA 3320. Course enrollment restricted to economics majors/minors only.

4376. Special Topics in Economic History and Development. Economic principles are used to explore important and controversial questions. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

4378. Financial Economics and Investment Behavior. The objective of this course is to give the student a theoretical basis for financial analysis within the context of the total process of investment decision-making. Theoretical foundations will be developed for the analysis of equities and bonds as well as portfolio performance. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, 4368 or FINA 3320, MATH 1309 or 1337, and ITOM 2305 or STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340, or permission of instructor. Note: ECO 4378 cannot be taken if student has taken FINA 4320 or FINA 4326. Course enrollment restricted to economics majors/minors only.

4382. Economics of Regulated Industries. The existence of government regulation of business prompts economists to ask both why such regulations exist and what impact they have on firms' behavior, market structure (in particular, firms' market shares) and social welfare. The parallel goals of the course are to provide 1) a solid analytical foundation for most investigating the above questions and 2) a thorough and detailed description of the most important government regulations (including antitrust, product quality, and patent laws). Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

4385. Macroeconomics: Theory and Policy. The purpose of this course is to take students beyond the traditional macroeconomics course. Among the topics examined are new developments in the analysis of business cycles, the causes and consequences of inflation and the sources of economic growth. Special emphasis is placed on "taking theory to the data," so that students begin to see more clearly how to evaluate current macroeconomic theories and controversies. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

4391. Development of Economic Doctrine. Analyzes the development of modern economics. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

4397. Law and Economics Internship. Similar to ECO 4395, but with a focus on the economic and legal analysis of a particular issue appropriate to the interning firm or organization. Prerequisites: ECO 3301, 3302, 5353, one other advanced economics course (4000 level or above), a 3.0 GPA in economics classes, C- or better in MATH 1309 or 1337 and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

5101, 5201, 5301. Topics. (to be specified in title) Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, 3302, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

5320. Health Economics. An introduction to the economics of health and health care policies and how they have affected the structure, function and cost-effectiveness of the health care industry, principally in the United States. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

5337. Urban Economics. This course applies economic concepts to an understanding of urban form, urban growth, trends in size and structure of urban areas, and the predominant urban public issues of transportation, housing, land-use planning, and environmental controls. This course provides an opportunity to study particular topics in depth. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

5340. Decision-Making Under Uncertainty. Provides a basis for the modeling of decision-making under conditions of incomplete information. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, 3302, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

5341. Strategic Behavior. This course introduces the basic concepts and tools of game theory, with applications to various areas of economics. In particular, we study how individuals and firms behave when they are well aware that their decisions affect the behavior of others. The areas of application are numerous and diverse: technology adoption, bargaining between labor unions and management, insurance, welfare policies, optimal pricing and location, division of an estate, strategy on the battlefield, etc. The various topics are unified by the techniques employed for determining the outcome in particular situations. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

5350. Introductory Econometrics. Discusses the economic analysis of quantitative data and introduces computer analysis. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, 3302, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340 or ITOM 2305.

5353. Law and Economics. Dick's advice in Henry VI, "Let us first kill all the lawyers," is well taken, but impractical. For better or for worse, laws and lawyers are becoming more and more important in defining how we live and how our economy operates. This course is designed to apply the tools of economic analysis to legal questions. The primary purpose of this course is to examine economic theories that explain the development of common law and constitutional law. Secondly, the course will look at the economic implication of certain laws, particularly laws regulating contracts, antitrust laws and liability rules. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

5355. Political Economics. This course is a study of both methods and applications of political economics models via theoretical and empirical investigation of various topics with emphasis on asymmetric information, income redistribution and fairness, federalism and formation of institutions, and strategic behavior of special interest groups. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

5357. Economics of Human Resources. This course examines several topics of interest to modern labor economists: individual labor supply and time allocation, human capital investments and the return to education, unemployment, job search, minimum wage, children and marriage, inequality, income mobility and immigration (both legal and illegal). The course will be equally devoted to theoretical modeling and interpreting empirical evidence, and to the analysis of policies such as subsidizing education, unemployment insurance, minimum wage, and restriction of immigration. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340. Recommended: ECO 4351.

5360. Economic Development: Macroeconomic Perspectives. A macroeconomic examination of the economic issues faced by developing countries. Topics include population growth, national savings, capital accumulation, human capital formation, government institutions and international integration. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3302, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

5361. Natural Resources and Energy Economics. This course is designed to develop an understanding of the economics of energy and natural resource use and policy. Topics include natural resource supply and demand, the economics of renewable and non-renewable resource usage, sustainable economic growth, the environmental effects of natural energy conservation, energy security and the (de)regulation of U.S. electricity and natural gas markets. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, 3302, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

5362. Economic Growth. This course examines the facts and theories of economic growth, the economics of technological change and the role of governments and markets in promoting or impeding economic development. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, 3302, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

5365. Public Finance. This course covers the theories of the public sector. Applications of these theories will vary year to year. Problems of market failures, externalities, and preference revelation will be examined. Specific government expenditure policies will be analyzed. The course also develops the principles to be used when evaluating a specific tax. This framework includes efficiency and equity considerations. These concepts are used to investigate specific revenue sources such as taxes on personal income and corporate income. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340. Recommended: ECO 3302.

5370. Cost-Benefit Analysis. Individual economic decisions coordinated through a fully functioning set of competitive markets guarantee an efficient outcome. However, in a large number of instances markets may fail to operate satisfactorily, requiring the government to intercede to promote efficiency and/or equity. This course introduces students to the tools for evaluating alternative methods of government intervention. In particular, it develops a framework for evaluating costs and benefits of economic projects from the government's point of view. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 3301 or graduate standing, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

5375. Economic and Business Forecasting. Presentation of methods used by economists to forecast economic and business trends and ways of evaluating the usefulness of these methods. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 2301, 2331, or ECO 4340 or ITOM 2305.

5390. Mathematical Finance: Theory and Applications. A study of selected topics in finance (such as capital asset pricing, options and their valuation, analytics of credit derivatives) that combines theory with actual applications in the financial profession. Prerequisites: C- or better in ECO 4368, 4378 and 5350, MATH 1309 or 1337, and one of the following: STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340.

Associate Professor Nina Schwartz, Department Chair

Professors: Timothy Crusius, Dennis Foster, Ezra Greenspan, Ross Murfin, Jasper Neel, C.W. Smith, Willard Spiegelman, Steven Weisenburger. Associate Professors: Richard Bozorth, Darryl Dickson-Carr (Director of Graduate Studies), David Haynes (Director of Creative Writing), Michael Holahan, Beth Newman, Timothy Rosendale (Director of Undergraduate Studies), Rajani Sudan, Marjorie Swann, Bonnie Wheeler (Director of Medieval Studies). Assistant Professors: Angela Ards, Irina Dumitrescu, Daniel Moss, Jayson Gonzales Sae-Saue, Martha Satz, Lisa Siraganian. Senior Lecturers: Carolyn Channell, Jo Goyne, Pamela Lange, Tom Stone. Lecturers: Elizabeth Dwelle, Diana Grumbles (Director of First-Year Writing), Marta Harvell, Vanessa Hopper, Diana Howard, Mary Jackman, Harold Knight, Pauline Newton, Ona Seaney, Nancy Srebro, Lori Ann Stephens, Vicki Tongate. Professor Emeritus: John Lewis.

The B.A. in English offers a rich intellectual experience through the study of American, British and other literature written in English. The course of study engages with contemporary modes of literary inquiry in order to arrive at an understanding of how language, culture and society work. At the same time, it emphasizes the aesthetic, emotional and intellectual pleasures of imaginative writing. The degree is appropriate for students who wish to obtain a broad liberal education as a foundation for careers or further study, and is especially recommended as preprofessional training for fields such as law, administration and business that require high proficiency in written and oral communication and in analytical thinking.

Requirements for the B.A. Degree. The major requires a minimum of 33 hours of English courses, including no more than 12 hours at the 2000 level and below (of these hours, no more than three hours at the 1000 level) and at least 12 hours of 4000 level courses, distributed as follows:

A. Fundamentals (6 hours total):

ENGL 2311 Poetry or ENGL 2314 Doing Things With Poems

ENGL 2315 Introduction to Literary Study

B. Reading Historically – one course at the 3000 or 4000 level from each group (12 hours):

1. Medieval Literature (c. pre-1500)

2. Early Modern Literature (c. 1500–1775)

3. Literature in the Age of Revolutions (c. 1775–1900)

4. Modern to Contemporary Literature (c. 1900–present)

C. Criticism and Theory (3 hours)

D. Major Electives (12 hours)

The following courses are not acceptable as major electives: ENGL 1300, 1301, 1302, 2302 and 2305.

Creative writing courses at the 4000 level do not fulfill the 4000-level literature requirement.

A grade of C- or better must be earned in all courses fulfilling major requirements, and English majors must attain a minimum GPA of 2.0 among all courses attempted for the major.

The department strongly recommends 12 hours of foreign language for all English majors. Students expecting to undertake graduate study in English should be advised that graduate schools require knowledge of at least one foreign language.

Secondary-school certification candidates must fulfill the departmental requirements described above. They should consult the departmental advisers on teacher training about further nondepartmental requirements for certification. (Revisions of these requirements may be mandated by the State of Texas; candidates should be alert to the possibilities of changes.)

Creative Writing Specialization Within the English Major. Students pursuing a creative writing specialization within the English major must fulfill all requirements for the English major. All 12 elective hours within the regular major will be devoted to courses selected from the list below. No more than 12 of these hours will be credited toward the requirements for the major, though additional English courses of all kinds are encouraged.

ENGL 2391 Introductory Poetry Writing

ENGL 2392 Introductory Fiction Writing

ENGL 3391 Intermediate Poetry Writing (Prerequisite: ENGL 2391 or permission of instructor)

ENGL 3392 Intermediate Fiction Writing (Prerequisite: ENGL 2392 or permission of instructor)

ENGL 4391 Advanced Poetry Writing (Prerequisite: ENGL 3391 or permission of instructor)

ENGL 4392 Advanced Fiction Writing (Prerequisite: ENGL 3392 or permission of instructor)

ENGL 4393, 4395 Directed Studies in Poetry Writing (Prerequisite: Permission of instructor)

ENGL 4394, 4396 Directed Studies in Fiction Writing (Prerequisite: Permission of instructor)

ENGL 4397 Craft of Poetry I (Prerequisite: ENGL 2391 or permission of instructor)

ENGL 4398 Craft of Fiction I (Prerequisite: ENGL 2392 or permission of instructor)

Students may apply to individual instructors for directed study in poetry or in fiction only if they have completed 12 hours in creative writing courses, with at least nine of those hours in the genre in which the student is applying.

The Departmental Distinction Program. This program is open to seniors by invitation. To enter the program, a student ordinarily must earn an overall GPA of at least 3.0 by the middle of the junior year, and a 3.5 average or better in courses fulfilling requirements for the major. Candidates for distinction must take ENGL 5310 Seminar in Literary Theory in the fall of the senior year. Candidates completing ENGL 5310 with a grade of B+ or better will then choose from the following options: ENGL 5381 Independent Studies (culminating in a senior thesis); or a graduate proseminar in English numbered 6320–6380 (requires permission of instructor); or (for creative writing specialists only) ENGL 4393, 4395 Directed Studies in Poetry Writing or 4394, 4396 Directed Studies in Fiction Writing. Candidates must earn a B+ or better in the option selected, and attain a 3.5 GPA in all courses counting toward the major and distinction. ENGL 4393–4396, 5381, 5310 may not be used to satisfy the 12 hours required in 4000-level courses. A minimum of 36 hours is required to graduate with departmental distinction.

Requirements for the Minor in English. The minor in English requires 15 hours of coursework, no more than six of them in courses numbered below 3000. Minors must take ENGL 2311, 2314 or 2315. A grade of C- or better must be earned in each course taken to fulfill the requirement for the English minor. (Note: ENGL 1300, 1301, 1302, 2302 and 2305 may not be used to fulfill minor requirements.)

The Courses (ENGL)

1302. First-Year Seminar in Rhetoric: Contemporary Issues. Introduction to public intellectual life through inquiry into texts and discursive art. Multidisciplinary and multicultural. Analytical-argumentative writing. Research and oral communication components. Students must earn C- or better. Prerequisite: ENGL 1301.

1305. Perspectives of Thought. Focus on analytical writing while exploring major modes of interpreting the world and defining what constitutes knowledge in the 21st century. Restricted to Hilltop Scholars placing out of ENGL 1301.

Note: Courses numbered 1320–1385 have no prerequisites.

1320. Chivalry. The development of the ideal of chivalry from its origins in the medieval legends of King Arthur to modern literature.

1330. The World of Shakespeare. Introductory study of eight or nine of Shakespeare's important plays, placed in historical, intellectual and cultural contexts.

1360. The American Heroine: Fiction and Fact. Images of the American heroine in popular and traditional literature, studied in terms of their reflection of the evolving roles of American women.

1362. Crafty Worlds. An introductory study of selected 20th-century novels emphasizing both ideas of modernity and the historical or cultural contexts that generate these ideas.

1363. The Myth of the American West. The myth and reality of the American West as seen through key works of history, folklore and fiction, including study of the serious Western novel and the subliterate “western.”

1365. Literature of Minorities. Representative works of African-American, Hispanic-American, gay, Asian-American and Native-American literature, both in their immediate cultural context and against the background of the larger American culture.

1370. Tragedy and the Family. The study of individual tragedies and kindred texts in various genres and from various periods.

1380. Introduction to Literature. An introduction to the study of literature including a range of literary genres and periods, varying by term.

1385. History of British Literature. A survey of the history of British literature, from its medieval beginnings to the 20th century.

2305. Interpreting, Understanding and Doubting. Insights from literature, linguistics, philosophy, psychology and science that explore major modes of interpreting the world in the 20th century and that define what constitutes knowledge in the 21st century. Open only to students in the University Honors Program.

2306. The Ethical, the Catastrophic and Human Responsibility. Study of ethical questions derived from history, literature, psychology, anthropology and philosophy, focused on what constitutes a meaningful life, historical challenges to the bases of ethics, racism, individual freedom and community responsibility. Open only to students in the University Honors Program. Prerequisite: ENGL 2305.

2406. Ethical Issues and Community Action. Exploration of major ethical ideas and problems through literary texts and testing, and reflecting upon them through practical involvement in the community. Requires a commitment of time to volunteer community activities. Open only to students in the University Honors Program. Prerequisite: ENGL 2305.

Note: ENGL 1301 or 2305 or departmental approval is a prerequisite for all courses listed below.

2302. Business Writing. Introduction to business and professional communication, including a variety of writing and speaking tasks, and the observation and practice of rhetorical strategies, discourse conventions, and ethical standards associated with workplace culture.

2310. Imagination and Interpretation. An introduction to literary studies based on topics that will vary from term to term.

2311. Poetry. Analysis, interpretation and appreciation of poetry, with attention to terms and issues relevant to the genre.

2312. Fiction. Analysis, interpretation and appreciation of fiction, with attention to terms and issues relevant to the genre.

2313. Drama. Analysis, interpretation and appreciation of dramatic works, with attention to terms and issues relevant to the genre.

2314. Doing Things With Poems. Introduction to the study of poems, poets and how poetry works, focusing on a wide range of English and American writers. Some attention to matters of literary history. Open only to students in the University Honors Program.

2315. Introduction to Literary Study. An introduction to the discipline for beginning English majors, covering methods of literary analysis in selected texts spanning a range of genres and historical periods.

2322. Guilty Pleasures. Examination of classic and not-so-classic detective fiction from Sophocles to the present, focusing primarily on 19th- and 20th-century British and American traditions. Prerequisite: ENGL 1301 or 2305 or departmental approval.

2361. Fortune, Fame and Scandal: The American Dream of Success. A survey of the pursuit of fame and fortune in classic American novels of business, politics, sports and show business, with attention to contemporary parallels.

2371 (ANTH 2321, CFA 3301). The Dawn of Wisdom: Ancient Creation Stories From Four Civilizations. The visions of the cosmos expressed in the art, archaeology and literature of Egyptian, Mesopotamian, Greco-Roman and Mayan civilizations, emphasizing the role of human beings as central and responsible actors therein.

2391. Introductory Poetry Writing. Workshop in which student poetry and directed exercises in basic techniques form the content of the course.

2392. Introductory Fiction Writing. Workshop in theory and technique and writing of fiction.

ENGL 1302, 2306 or departmental approval is a prerequisite for all of the courses listed below:

3189. Directed Studies. Directed readings in a coherent area of a student's choice to be approved by the director of Undergraduate Study and the instructor.

3301. Advanced Expository Writing. Emphasis on styles and formats appropriate to academic writing, and on individual problems and needs.

3305. Writing and the Public Intellectual. Study and practice of writing for a broad, well informed public, including history and current status of the public intellectual. Includes advanced practice in revising and editing expository prose.

3308. English Studies Internship. Work experience related to English studies, with instruction in professional communication. Workshop format and one-on-one consultation with instructor. Prerequisite: Open only to junior and senior English majors by permission of instructor.

3310. Contemporary Approaches to Literature, Language and Culture. Introduction to contemporary methods of interpreting literature and to linguistic, cultural and theoretical issues informing these methods. Readings of literary works to develop awareness of differences and limitations in approaches.

3320. Topics in Medieval Literature. Study of a theme, issue or topic in English literature from its beginnings to 1500, varying by term. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.

3330. Topics in Early Modern Literature. Study of a theme, issue or topic in writers from c. 1500 to 1775, varying by term. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.

3331. British Literary History I: Chaucer to Pope. Introduction to earlier periods of English literature through the study of major authors in their historical context and from varied critical and thematic perspectives.

3332. Shakespeare. Studies of Shakespeare's major works in context with English history, society and culture, including literary and theatrical conventions and practices. Topics vary by term; may be repeated for credit under different subtitle.

3335. Transatlantic Encounters I. Comparative studies in British and American literature during the early modern period (c. 1500–1775), with attention to issues of first contact, colonization and cultural interrelations. Topics vary by term; may be repeated for credit under different subtitle.

3340. Topics in British Literature in the Age of Revolutions. Study of a theme, issue or topic in British literature c. 1775–1900, varying by term. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.

3341. British Literary History II: Wordsworth Through Yeats. Introduction to later periods of English literature through the study of major authors in their historical context and from varied critical and thematic perspectives.

3344. Victorian Gender. The literature and social history of the period, exploring the perceived "truths" about gender that prevailed in 19th-century Britain and contrasting those "truths" with the responses of contemporaries as well as with the realities that contradict them.

3345. Transatlantic Encounters II. Comparative studies in British and American literature during the age of revolutions (c. 1775–1900), with attention to cultural interrelations during a period of rapid social change. Topics vary by term; may be repeated for credit under different subtitle.

Comparative studies of British and American writing in the period of modern and contemporary literature (c. 1900 to the present), with attention to cultural interrelations during the period. Topics vary by term; may be repeated for credit under different subtitle.

3359 (CF 3359). American Narratives of Discovery. This course focuses on the generic process of culture, integrating methods from various disciplines. It considers aesthetic questions about how narratives engage in intercultural dialogue and ethical questions about the implications of ongoing American “discoveries” of the Southwest.

3360. Topics in Modern and Contemporary American Literature. Study of a theme, issue or topic in American literature from c. 1900 to the present, varying by term. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.

3362. African-American Literature. Major African-American writers and their works, and various social and historical influences.

3363. Chicana/Chicano Literature. A broad examination of major 20th-century Mexican-American writers and their works in the context of various social, geographic, political and historical influences. Some knowledge of Spanish will be helpful to students, but is not a prerequisite for the course.

3364 (CF 3370, WGST 3370). Women and the Southwest. A study and exploration of women writers, artists and thinkers in the American Southwest and their vision of this region as singularly hospitable to women’s culture.

3365 (CF 3398). Jewish-American Literature and Culture. An interdisciplinary introduction to Jewish culture through literature, especially in the American environment, as well as to the issues in studying any distinctive ethnic and cultural literature.

3366. American Literary History II. Introduction to later periods of American literature through the study of major authors in their historical context and from varied critical and thematic perspectives.

3367 (CF 3364). Ethical Implications of Children’s Literature. Examination of children’s literature with emphasis on notions of morality and evil, including issues of colonialism, race, ethnicity, gender and class.

3368 (CFA 3378). Literary and Artistic Taos: The Town Seen Through Multiple Lenses. Survey of the literary and artistic heritage of early 20th-century Taos, centered on the Native Americans, the artistic and literary salon of Mabel Dodge, and D.H. Lawrence.

3370. Special Topics. Examination of a subject that includes material from a range of historical periods. Examples could include “Pastoral Literature,” “Shakespeare in England and India,” and “Irony, Satire and Politics.” Topics vary by term; may be repeated for credit under different subtitle.

3373 (FL 3359). Masculinities: Images and Perspectives. The representation of male sex roles in Western literature, from Achilles to James Bond. Open to juniors and seniors; sophomores by permission of instructor.

3374 (CF 3345). Literature of Religious Reflection. Issues of faith and doubt in British and American literature, drawn from texts reflecting Christian humanism, secular rationalism, individualistic romantic faith, and scientific modernism and other modern alternatives.

3375. Expatriate Writers: The Invention of Modernism. Introduction to the rise of literary modernism in early 20th-century Europe through selected readings of expatriate authors working in Paris.

3376. Literature of the Southwest. Nineteenth- and 20th-century Anglo, Hispanic and Native-American literature of the southwestern United States.

3377. Literature and the Construction of Homosexuality. Examination of same-sex desire in modern literature, as considered in the context of philosophical, religious and scientific texts since the ancient world.

3378. Studies in the English Language. Linguistic introduction to the history of English and to present-day American English as spoken and written. Topics include theory and description, basic grammatical structures, and their application to writing and regional and stylistic variation.

3379 (CFA 3379). Literary and Cultural Contexts of Disability: Gender, Care and Justice. An examination of disability as a cultural construct, with attention to how literary, ethical and political representations bear upon it, and in relation to gender, race and class issues.

3380 (CF 3380). The Literature of Vision. An examination of the ways in which prophets and imaginative writers have sought to communicate the source, content, and meaning of “things invisible to mortal sight,” whether as a consummation of or a challenge to the leading ideas of their time.

3381. Semiotics of Culture. Analysis of form, technique and meaning in literary and textual representation, in comparison – or conjunction – with other representational media such as painting, photography and cinema. Topics will vary by term; may be repeated for credit under different subtitle.

3382. Heroic Visions: The Epic Poetry of Homer and Vergil. The literature of classical heroism in works by Homer and Vergil that influenced the epic traditions of English literature.

3383 (CF 3305). Literary Executions: Imagination and Capital Punishment. The literary treatment of capital punishment in drama, poetry, novel and biography.

3389. Directed Studies. Directed readings in a coherent area of a student’s choice, to be approved by the director of Undergraduate Studies and the instructor.

3391. Intermediate Poetry Writing. Prerequisite: ENGL 2391 or permission of instructor.

3392. Intermediate Fiction Writing. Prerequisite: ENGL 2392 or permission of instructor.

Note: A total of 12 hours of English, including ENGL 2311 or 2314 and including ENGL 2315 (excluding 1300, 1301, 1302, 2302, 2305), or instructor’s approval is prerequisite for all courses numbered 4310–4370.

4310. Studies in Literary Theory and Criticism. An advanced study of a theoretical or critical problem in literary study and interpretation. Topics could include questions of history, major theoretical movements and cultural studies. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.

4320. Medieval Writers. Intensive study of one or two medieval writers. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.

- 4321. Studies in Medieval Literature. Advanced study of medieval literature focused on a specified problem, topic or theme. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4323. Chaucer. Advanced studies in the poetry of Geoffrey Chaucer in relation to historical contexts, medieval poetics and Middle English language. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4330. Renaissance Writers. Intensive study of one or two major writers from the period in context with English social and cultural history. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4331. Restoration and Enlightenment Writers. Intensive study of one or two major writers from the period. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4332. Studies in Early Modern British Literature. Advanced study of British literature from c. 1500 to 1775, focused on a specified problem, topic or theme. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4333. Shakespeare. Advanced studies in Shakespeare's poetry and plays, in historical, cultural and theatrical contexts. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4336. Studies in Early Modern American Literature. Advanced study of American literature from c. 1500 to 1775, focused on a specified problem, topic or theme. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4339. Transatlantic Studies I. Intensive study of a theme, genre or topic in trans-Atlantic literature in English from the early modern period (c. 1500–1775). May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4340. Romantic Writers. Intensive study of one or two major British writers from the period. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4341. Victorian Writers. Intensive study of one or two major British writers from the period. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4343. Studies in British Literature in the Age of Revolutions. Intensive study of British literature from c. 1775 to 1900, focused on a specified problem, topic or theme. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4345. American Writers in the Age of Revolutions. Intensive study of one or two major writers from the period. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4346. Studies in American Literature in the Age of Revolutions. Advanced study of American literature from c. 1775 to 1900, focused on a specified problem, topic or theme. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4349. Transatlantic Studies II. Intensive study of a theme, genre or topic in trans-Atlantic literature in English during the age of revolutions (c. 1775–1900). May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4350. Modern and Contemporary British Writers. Intensive study of one or two major writers from the period. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4351. Studies in Modern and Contemporary British Literature. Advanced study of British literature from c. 1900 to the present, focused on a specified problem, topic or theme. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4356. Modern and Contemporary American Writers. Intensive study of one or two major writers from the period. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4360. Studies in Modern and Contemporary American Literature. Advanced study of American literature from c. 1900 to the present, focused on a specified problem, topic or theme. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4369. Transatlantic Studies III. Intensive study of a theme, genre or topic in trans-Atlantic literature in English from the modern to contemporary period (c. 1900–present). May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.
- 4370. Special Studies. Intensive study of a theme, genre or topic that includes material from a wide range of eras. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle.

4391. Advanced Poetry Writing. Advanced course for students seriously interested in the composition of poetry. Prerequisite: ENGL 3391 or permission of instructor. May be repeated for additional credit.

4392. Advanced Fiction Writing. Advanced course for students seriously interested in writing the short story or novel. Prerequisite: ENGL 3392 or permission of instructor. May be repeated for additional credit.

4393, 4395. Directed Studies in Poetry Writing. Prerequisite: Open only to advanced students by permission of instructor.

4394, 4396. Directed Studies in Fiction Writing. Prerequisite: Open only to advanced students by permission of instructor.

4397. Craft of Poetry. Examination of various readings for their usefulness from a poet's point of view. Emphasis on observation of technique rather than on interpretation. Prerequisite: ENGL 2391.

4398. Craft of Fiction. Examination of various readings for their usefulness from a fiction writer's point of view. Emphasis on observation of technique rather than on interpretation. Prerequisite: ENGL 2392.

5301. Discourse in the Social Sciences. History, characteristics and functions of scientific writing with a focus on the rhetoric of inquiry and science as persuasion. Practice in editing scientific prose. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor.

5309. Seminar in Teaching Writing. Contemporary theory and practice of teaching writing: discourse and rhetorical theory, conferencing and small-group work, designing composition curricula, writing in all disciplines. Special emphasis on argumentation and persuasion.

5378. Linguistics: General. Introduction to the study of language as a part of human culture.

5381, 5382, 5383, 5384. Independent Studies. Directed readings in an area of the student's choice, to be approved by the director of Undergraduate Studies and the instructor. A substantial amount of critical writing will be required. Open only to candidates for departmental distinction and to graduate students.

Associate Professor Bonnie Jacobs, Director

Coordinating Committee: Associate Professor and Director: Bonnie Jacobs (Earth Sciences). Professors: Michael Lattman (Chemistry), Larry Ruben (Biological Sciences), Robert Gregory (Earth Sciences). Chemistry: Professors: Edward Biehl, John Buynak, Michael Lattman, John Maguire, Mark Schell, Patty Wisian-Neilson. Associate Professors: Werner Horsthemke, David Son, Brent Sumerlin. Earth Sciences: Professors: David Blackwell, Robert Gregory, Eugene Herrin, Louis Jacobs, James Quick, Brian Stump, John Walther, Crayton Yapp. Associate Professors: Bonnie Jacobs, Neil J. Tabor. Biological Sciences: Professors: Christine Buchanan, Richard Jones, William Orr, Larry Ruben, John Ubelaker, Steven Vik. Associate Professors: Robert Harrod, Pia Vogel. Assistant Professor: James Waddle.

The natural systems that constitute Earth's environment are in continuous mutual interaction. These interactions occur on spatial scales that range from microscopic to global and on temporal scales that range from fractions of a second to millions of years. Scientific efforts to understand how the activities of humans affect the workings of such a complex arrangement must properly involve the identification and study of the fundamental processes operating at present in Earth's environment. Furthermore, to apply such knowledge with skill, insight and perspective, information must also be acquired on the extent to which ancient environmental conditions on Earth may have differed from those observed today and how such changes affected life on the planet. An intellectual and practical scientific problem of such vast scope must be approached in an interdisciplinary manner. This interdisciplinary requirement is important not only for students who will become professional environmental scientists, but also for those who want a solid scientific foundation for post-graduate training in environmental law, public policy, business and other fields.

The program includes a set of core courses that provide the student with the necessary background in chemistry, earth science, physics, biology and mathematics to move into an earth science, chemistry or biology emphasis in the upper division courses. All environmental science majors will come together their senior year in a multidisciplinary seminar in environmental science. Juniors and seniors may do an internship (e.g., with an environmental lawyer, an assessment and remediation company or a nonprofit agency) for course credit and by special arrangement.

Requirements for the B.S. Degree. The environmental science major requires 68 total hours, consisting of 50 hours of core classes and 18 hours of electives taken with an emphasis in chemistry, earth science or biology.

SMU Abroad Courses (ENSC)

3100, 3200, 3300. Special Topics Abroad. Courses offered in SMU-approved international programs. Prior departmental approval is required. May be repeated for credit under different subtitle. A maximum of 6 credit hours may be applied toward the B.S. degree in environmental science.

3311. Principles of Resource Management. Class will introduce practical tools used in addressing complex environmental problems, including coastal zone planning, guidelines for ecologically sustainable development, environmental impact assessment, fisheries management, and protected area planning and management. (SMU-in-Costa Rica only)

3312. Directed Research. Scientific writing, oral, graphic and tabular presentation of results derived from experimental design, field techniques, basic descriptive statistics, and parametric and nonparametric quantitative analysis. (SMU-in-Costa Rica only)

3313. Techniques in Wildlife Management. Class will focus on the introduction of laboratory techniques for monitoring ungulate populations and optimizing management practices, while studying behavioral, physiological and social responses of animals to a changing environment. (SMU-in-Kenya only)

Internship Course

3322. Internship in Environmental Science. Students experience work in a business or organization concerned with environmental issues. Opportunities may be found in environmental law, assessment and remediation companies, or among nonprofit or government agencies.

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

www.smu.edu/environmentalstudies

Associate Professor Bonnie Jacobs, Director

The B.A. in environmental studies provides students with the tools necessary to address society's environmental problems through careers in government, non-governmental or educational organizations, public policy, business and related fields. It is an interdisciplinary program that incorporates courses from numerous departments and three schools around the University. The environmental studies major can be tailored to emphasize an area of interest (e.g., environmental biology, sustainability and globalization, environmental policy) and would be complemented by minors or other majors in environmental earth science, economics, business, environmental science, biology, anthropology, journalism, corporate communications and public affairs, advertising, sociology and many of the disciplines in the humanities and social sciences.

Requirements for the B.A. Degree. The environmental studies major requires 36 total hours, consisting of 21 hours of core classes and 15 hours of electives. The core classes provide the student with the appropriate concepts and tools to understand the scope of global, regional and local environmental issues.

Majors are strongly encouraged to take advantage of opportunities for study abroad and to seek relevant internships. Internship courses are offered in many departments and can be counted toward the major by petition.

Core Courses

- BIOL/GEOL 3307 Ecology (Prerequisite: BIOL 1402 or permission of instructor)
GEOL 1301 Earth Systems or one 1000-level GEOL class of student's choice
GEOL 3353 Modern and Ancient Climates (Prerequisite: GEOL 1301 or permission of instructor)
HIST 3309 North American Environmental History
PP 3310 Environmental Policy
STAT 2331 Introduction to Statistical Methods (Dallas and SMU-in-Taos) or STAT 2301 Statistics for Modern Business Decisions (Prerequisite: CEE Math Fundamentals or equivalent)

A senior thesis is required, with a field, research or other practical component taken in a department relevant to the student's interests. For example:

- ANTH 4391 or 4392 Independent Study (Prerequisites: Approval of the director of Undergraduate Studies and a faculty sponsor)
CCJN 5308 Honors Thesis
ECON 4398 Departmental Distinction in Economics (Prerequisites: 3.7 GPA in economics classes and 3.5 GPA overall, and approval of a faculty sponsor)
GEOL 4399 Integrative Research (Prerequisite: Permission of faculty adviser)

Elective Courses

A total of 15 credit hours required, a minimum three credit hours at 3000 level or above. In consultation with an academic adviser, choose at least one course from each group.

Natural Sciences and Statistics (Minimum of 3 credit hours required)

- BIOL 3303 Evolution (Prerequisites: BIOL 1401, 1402 and 3304)
BIOL 3308 Biology of Marine Mammals (SMU-in-Copenhagen) (Prerequisites: BIOL 1401 and 1402)
BIOL 3309 Marine Biology of European Coastal Waters (SMU-in-Copenhagen)

ETHNIC STUDIES

Professor Kenneth Hamilton, Director

The Ethnic Studies Program offers an interdisciplinary program that examines the African-American and Mexican-American experiences through the social sciences and humanities. The program offers instruction in important periods of African, Mexican and American history, probing the roots of traditions beginning in early African and pre-Columbian cultures, as well as examining minorities in contemporary U.S. society.

This program provides good preparation for graduate work in the social sciences, the humanities, and professional schools, as well as jobs and careers in many fields. Education, law, journalism, urban planning, business, social work and politics are a few of the fields for which ethnic studies provides a strong background.

Requirements for Majors and Minors. The following options are offered under the Ethnic Studies Program:

- The major leading to the B.A. in ethnic studies with specialization in either African and African-American studies (33 hours) or Mexican-American studies (34 hours).
- The major leading to the B.S. in ethnic studies with specialization in either African and African-American studies (36 hours) or Mexican-American studies (37 hours).
- The minor in African and African-American studies (18 hours).
- The minor in Mexican-American studies (19 hours).

Courses to fulfill the requirements for the above should be selected in consultation with the director.

I. Bachelor of Arts. The B.A. option focuses more on the humanities than on the social sciences and, consequently, requires less work in methodology and statistics.

A. Foundation. A total of 6 hours required of all students majoring in ethnic studies.

SOCI 3370 Minority-Dominant Relations

B. Basic Courses. A total of 18 hours comprised of the minor in African and African-American studies, and 19 hours comprised of the minor in Mexican-American studies form the basis of the ethnic studies major.

1. African and African-American studies minor (9 of the 18 hours required must be at the 3000 level or above):

a. Nine hours of core courses are required.

HIST 2392 Modern Africa

HIST 3313 African Americans in the United States, 1607 to 1877

HIST 3314 African Americans in the United States, 1877 to the Present

- b. A total of 9 hours of additional basic courses, of which six must be outside history.
- ANTH 3314 Peoples of Africa
 - ARHS 3390 Traditional Arts of Africa
 - ENGL 3362 African-American Literature
 - HIST 2391 Africa to the 19th Century
 - HIST 3304 Blacks and the Civil Rights Movement
 - HIST 3378 Problems in African History
 - HIST 3388 The African-American Urban Experience, 1865–1980
 - HIST 5341 Seminar in American History: African Slavery in the U.S.
 - MUHI 3340 Jazz: Tradition and Transformation
2. Mexican-American studies minor (10 of the 19 hours required must be at the 3000 level or above):
- a. A total of 10 hours of core courses are required.
- ETST 4352 Conversations and Community (Colisted SPAN 4352)
 - HIST 3324 The Mexican Americans, 1848 to the Present
 - SOCI 3372 Chicanos in the Southwest
 - SPAN 1401 Beginning Spanish (or higher level)
- b. A total of 9 hours of additional basic courses selected from the following:
- ANTH 3312 Meso-American Archaeology
 - ARHS 3383 The Ancient Maya
 - ARHS 3385 The Aztecs Before and After the Conquest: Mesoamerica, 1400–1600
 - ENGL 3363 Chicana/Chicano Literature
 - FL 3306 The Heart of Aztlán: Chicano Literature of the Southwest
 - HIST 3305 The Hispanos of New Mexico, 1848 to the Present
 - HIST 3308 History of Hispanics in the U.S. Through Film
 - HIST 3382 History of Mexico
 - HIST 5330, 5331 Seminar in Mexican-American History
- C. Cross-Cultural Requirement. Ethnic studies majors in the African and African-American option are required to take 3 hours in Mexican-American studies. Majors in the Mexican-American studies option are required to take 3 hours in African-American studies.
- D. Supporting Courses. A total of 6 hours of other courses related to ethnicity must be selected from the following:
- ANTH 3353 Indians of North America
 - ANTH 3361 Language in Culture and Society
 - ANTH 3368 (SOCI 3368) Urban Life: A Cross-Cultural Perspective
 - ENGL 1365 Literature of Minorities
 - ENGL 3354 Non-Western Culture and Literature
 - ENGL 3365 (CF 3398) Jewish-American Literature and Culture
 - ETST 2305 Internship in Ethnic Studies
 - HIST 2380 Ethnic Regions in the Western World
 - PLSC 4337 Civil Rights
 - RELI 3324 The Jewish Experience in America
- II. Bachelor of Science. A total of 36 hours are required to complete the B.S. option in African and African-American studies, and 37 hours are required to complete the B.S. option in Mexican-American studies. The same pattern of courses is required as for the B.A. degree, with the addition of 6 hours of required methods courses, three of which may substitute for 3 hours of supporting courses:
- SOCI 3311 Qualitative Research Methods
 - STAT 2301 Statistics for Modern Business Decisions or
 - STAT 2331 Introduction to Statistical Methods

The Courses (ETST)

2301 (SOCI 3305, CFA 3310). Race and Ethnicity in the United States. An interdisciplinary seminar designed to introduce students to the analysis of race and ethnicity in the United States within a global context. No prerequisites.

2305. Internship in Ethnic Studies. This course offers students experience in varied careers serving ethnic communities. Opportunities include advertising for public service, community organizing, nonprofit economic development, local historical preservation and more. Department consent.

4352 (SPAN 4352). Conversations and Community. Advanced Spanish course that brings oral and written language to the center of students' learning by bringing them in contact with native Spanish speakers from a variety of Dallas communities. Field work, away from campus, will include a maximum of 2 hours per week in addition to the required three contact hours in the classroom. Prerequisites: C- or better in SPAN 2302 and approval of instructor for language majors. Approval of instructor for all other candidates.

EVENING DEGREE PROGRAM

www.smu.edu/dedman/eveningstudies

The Evening Degree Program offers multidisciplinary Bachelor of Humanities and Bachelor of Social Sciences degrees for students who wish to complete their undergraduate education in the evening on a part-time basis and who were admitted to the program prior to fall 2009.

Bachelor of Humanities. The B.H. degree requires the completion of 36 term hours in coursework taken from art history, English literature, history, philosophy and/or religious studies. Courses are selected in consultation with the major adviser and include the following:

- First concentration (15 term hours, including 6 hours advanced).
- Second concentration (9 term hours, including 6 hours advanced).
- Third concentration (9 term hours, including 6 hours advanced).
- Fourth concentration (3 term hours).

Bachelor of Social Sciences. The B.S.S. degree requires the completion of 36 term hours in coursework taken from anthropology, economics, political science, psychology and/or sociology. Courses are selected in consultation with the major adviser and include the following:

- First concentration (15 term hours, including 6 hours advanced).
- Second concentration (9 term hours, including 6 hours advanced).
- Third concentration (9 term hours, including 6 hours advanced).
- Fourth concentration (3 term hours).

As of fall 2009, SMU is no longer accepting students into the Evening Degree Program. For more information concerning program requirements, contact the Dedman College Dean's Office, Southern Methodist University, 214 Dallas Hall, PO Box 750235, Dallas TX 75275-0235; phone 214-768-2298.

Professor Kathleen Wellman, Department Chair

The William P. Clements Department of History offers three types of courses: introductory, survey and more advanced courses that explore large areas of human history; intermediate thematic courses that mix lectures and small group discussions to explore more closely defined topics; and seminars that probe deeply into given areas. Each student should devise a program of study that meets individual interests and needs and also achieves a balance between diversification and specialization. Except where specified, there are no prerequisites, and interested students are invited into all courses.

Requirements for the B.A. Degree. A total of 33 hours in history are required for the major, including HIST 4300 Junior Seminar in Research and Writing and one three-hour course at the 5000 level. In addition, majors must take at least six hours in each of the following three areas: 1) United States; 2) Europe; and 3) Africa, Asia or Latin America. Any combination of courses in these areas is acceptable (HIST 4300 will not fulfill these area requirements). At least 18 hours in courses at the 3000 and higher levels are required. History majors must earn 2.0 minimum GPAs in their history coursework. Six hours of advanced-placement credit can be applied toward the history major.

Twelve term hours of foreign language are recommended.

The Departmental Distinction Program. A history major candidate with sufficiently high standing may graduate with honors in history by applying for the degree “with departmental distinction.” During their senior year, candidates for distinction will pursue an individual research project under the direction of a particular professor (while enrolled in HIST 4375). This major research project will develop from the 5000-level seminar or HIST 4300, the junior seminar. The project will be presented as a thesis before the end of the term. The successful honors graduate must also pass an oral examination on the thesis.

Requirements for the Minor. Students with a general interest in history may pursue a minor by taking 15 hours of departmental coursework. Nine term hours must be taken at the 3000-5000 level. Students intending to take a minor in the department should design a program of study in consultation with the director of Undergraduate Studies.

The Courses (HIST)Foundation and Special Courses

1301, 1302. World Cultures and Civilization. A survey of world cultures from the earliest times to the present. The development of individual civilization will be studied within a comparative framework emphasizing the themes common to all human history.

1311. Western Civilization to 1527 A.D. A survey of the cultural phenomenon often called Western civilization, from its prehistoric roots in western Asia as well as Europe, through ancient Mesopotamian and Egyptian civilization to the Greeks, the Romans, and the medieval experience up to the Renaissance. Lecture course, with much reference to literature and visual arts.

1312. Western Civilization Since 1527. An introductory survey of Western civilization from about the time of the Reformation to the present.

4300. Junior Seminar in Research and Writing. Consists of a common body of readings on research methods and writing and a relatively small core of required readings that will be different in each section and organized around a topic chosen by the instructor. Closely supervised writing assignments, based upon the required readings, will grow into a major research project by the end of the term.

4375, 4376. Departmental Distinction. Honors program open to qualified seniors by invitation of the department.

4398, 4399. Independent Study. Students majoring in history may apply in their junior year to the director of Undergraduate Studies to pursue a personally designed course of study under the guidance of an appropriate professor during the junior or senior year.

United States History

Students majoring in history and planning a concentration in the U.S. history field are advised to begin their program with one of the "problems" or advanced survey courses (at the 3000–4000 level), not HIST 2311, 2312.

1321. First-Year Seminar in American History. Offers the beginning student an opportunity to explore particular topics in American history intensively in a small class setting.

HUMAN RIGHTS MINOR

Rick Halperin, Director

The human rights minor, which is appropriate for all majors, is an interdisciplinary program introducing students to the study of universally recognized civil, political, economic, social and cultural human rights.

The minor requires a minimum of six courses (18 term hours), of which at least four courses must be at the advanced level (3000 or above). HIST 3301 Human Rights: America’s Dilemma is required for this minor. In addition to this foundation course, no more than two courses from any department may be taken unless preapproval is given by the director of the Human Rights Education Program.

In addition to classes, the minor also requires a commitment of students’ effort, time and talent in defense of or in advocacy for human rights. Students will either complete a 20-hour service-learning placement with a human rights community-based agency (as a component of HIST 3301) or will receive independent credit (HIST 4398, 4399) by participating in an SMU Human Rights Education Program group tour to a location where recent human rights violations have occurred (e.g., Cambodia, Rwanda, Poland) and completing a research paper on a human rights topic related to the site.

Course Requirements

ANTH 1321 First-Year Seminar in Anthropology

INDIVIDUALIZED STUDIES IN THE LIBERAL ARTS

Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, Director

The individualized studies major in the liberal arts provides students an opportunity to design an interdisciplinary program of study that brings fields of inquiry together in unique combinations not currently offered as a program in the curriculum.

Interested and academically qualified students are invited to explore this possibility with the associate dean for Academic Affairs of Dedman College, 214-768-2168. If the student's plan of study appears to have merit, the dean will suggest faculty members in appropriate departments and divisions of the University who can provide further assistance in designing the program. Students must ask at least three faculty members to constitute a Faculty Supervisory Committee, with one serving as chair.

Program Description

Students with at least a 3.5 GPA in the first 24 term hours taken through enrollment at SMU are eligible to pursue the Individualized Studies program.

The program consists of individually designed majors in the liberal arts of at least 36 term hours, with a minimum of at least 24 term hours of advanced courses (3000 level or above). The program must satisfy the General Education Curriculum requirements and all other University and Dedman College graduation requirements. Students are responsible for fulfilling all prerequisites for courses taken.

The degree will be identified as a B.A. The transcript will refer to the major as "Individualized Studies in the Liberal Arts." A note on the transcript will denote the specialization. Students intending to seek admission to graduate schools are encouraged to include at least 30 hours of a coherent set of courses in an identifiable disciplinary field.

The following should be submitted to the program's director:

1. Formal plan of study (including goal statement and major plan).
2. Transcript.

With the director's approval and written approval of the Faculty Supervisory Committee, materials will be submitted to the Dedman College Undergraduate Council for action.

Administrative Procedures

The Dedman College Undergraduate Council shall have the final authority to approve all individualized programs. The associate dean for Academic Affairs will act as the director of the Individualized Studies program.

Prior to declaring the major, a number of steps must be completed:

1. The student, with the assistance of the director, must form a Faculty Supervisory Committee with a minimum of three members. The committee will provide advice and guidance to the student. At least two members, including the chair of the committee, shall be resident members of the Dedman College faculty.
2. The student will submit a plan of study to the director and to each Faculty Supervisory Committee member. If the committee and the director approve the plan of study, the plan is then submitted for approval by the Dedman College Undergraduate Council.
3. The plan is transmitted to the Office of the Associate Dean for Student Academic Affairs and to the Dedman College Dean's Office.

The plan of study must be submitted to the Dedman College Undergraduate Council for approval before the completion of 60 total term hours of coursework.

The chair of the Faculty Supervisory Committee and the Dedman College Dean's Office will recommend candidates for graduation. The dean of Student Records will be responsible for verifying and certifying graduation requirements.

INTERNATIONAL AND AREA STUDIES

www.smu.edu/internationalstudies

The International and Area Studies programs provide students with the opportunity to design interdisciplinary programs of study that will give them an understanding of the human experience in a global perspective, while at the same time allowing them to develop in-depth knowledge and expertise in specific geographical areas. These programs include 1) a major or minor in international studies, 2) a minor in Asian studies, 3) a minor in European studies, and 4) a major or minor in Latin American and Iberian studies. Descriptions of each of these programs along with their degree requirements are listed below.

To succeed in an international career, students need expertise in the politics, economics, history, language and cultures of societies other than their own. The curricula for the International and Area Studies programs are designed to provide students with a foundation for this expertise, requiring coursework in the social sciences, business, language and humanities. To maximize the educational experience in these degree programs, all majors are strongly encouraged to spend at least one term or summer studying abroad. The University offers numerous study-abroad opportunities around the world; most of these courses may be applied to the international and area studies major or minor. For more information, see the Study Abroad section in this catalog, as well as the requirements for each of the programs listed below.

International Studies

Professor Stephen Wegren, Director

The major in international studies requires 33 hours of study in specific courses in addition to prerequisites for certain courses; this includes 15 hours of study from the International Studies basic curriculum. At least 18 hours from the basic and Area Studies curriculums (listed below) must be in courses at the 3000 level or above. A cocurricular requirement for the B.A. degree in international studies is two years of college-level study of a foreign language or equivalent. The language requirement may be met through examination, the transfer of language study credit from another university or by taking courses on campus. The final three-hour requirement for the B.A. in international studies is the seminar that must be taken on campus; students normally take the seminar in their senior year.

INTL 4388. Seminar: International Government and Politics. An overview of the central questions in the study of international government and politics. This senior seminar in international studies is a required course for all international studies majors. The purpose of the seminar is to provide students with an opportunity to integrate studies. The topic of the seminar is thematic and will vary depending upon the instructor.

The minor in international studies requires 15 hours of study from the basic curriculum, nine hours of which must be in courses at the 3000 level or above. A cocurricular requirement for the minor is one year of college-level study of a foreign language or equivalent.

Basic Curriculum

The first 15 hours (constituting a minor in international studies) must include one course from the category Introduction to World Cultures, one course from International Politics, one course from International Economics and two courses from Global Perspectives (listed below). Of the 15 hours required in the basic curriculum, at least six hours must be in courses at the 3000 level or above. A total of five classes must be taken from the basic curriculum.

Area Studies Curriculum

The Area Studies curriculum requires international studies majors to specialize in a particular geographical region, defined by a common historical and cultural experience. Students may choose to specialize in Asian, Latin American and Iberian, European, or African and Middle Eastern studies. A total of 15 hours must be taken in one of the Area Studies programs listed below. Nine hours must be taken from Group I: Social Sciences, and six hours must be taken from Group II: Humanities and Arts, in the same geographical area.

Special Undergraduate Offerings

Opportunities for independent study and research are available to international studies majors. Students must have the director's approval prior to registering for these courses. Prerequisites are stated for each independent study course below. No more than two such courses may be counted toward overall major or minor requirements. The director will indicate where these courses fit in the different sections of the major or the minor.

INTL 4302. Directed Readings in International Studies. Students develop and execute independent reading or research projects under the guidance of an International Studies faculty member, culminating in a written report. Prerequisites: Written approval of the instructor and the program director or a designate, at least sophomore standing, and appropriate introductory and advanced course preparation.

INTL 4306. Internship in International Studies. Undergraduate students who arrange for part- or full-time jobs in fields associated with international studies relate these experiences to their academic curriculum through research and writing, under the guidance of an International Studies faculty member. Prerequisites: Written approval of the instructor and the program director or a designate, at least sophomore standing, and appropriate introductory and advanced preparation.

INTL 4307. Departmental Distinction Thesis. Candidates for departmental distinction write a thesis under the direction of an International Studies faculty member, culminating in an oral examination over the field of the thesis. Prerequisite: Admission to departmental honors candidacy.

Asian Studies

Professor Johan Elverskog, Coordinator

The minor in Asian studies provides students with an opportunity to design an interdisciplinary program of study that will give them an in-depth knowledge of the history, politics, society and culture of traditional and contemporary Asia. The program embraces all of the subregions of Asia, including East Asia (China, Japan and Korea), South Asia (India, Pakistan and Bangladesh) and the many countries of Southeast Asia. To maximize the educational experience, students are strongly encouraged to spend at least one term or summer studying in Asia. Most of the courses taught in University Study Abroad programs in Asia may be applied to the Asian studies minor.

The minor in Asian studies requires 15 hours of study in specific courses. The first six hours must be chosen from the four categories of the International Studies basic curriculum (see above). Each of the two courses must be from a separate category: either World Cultures, International Politics, International Economics or Global Perspective. The next nine hours must be chosen from the Asian Studies curriculum (listed below), with at least one course in each of the two groups: Group I: Social Sciences or Group II: Humanities and Arts. At least nine hours must be at the 3000 level or above. If a student is an international studies major, only one course from the Area Studies curriculum may be double-counted. A cocurricular requirement for the minor in Asian studies is one year of college-level study of an Asian language. This requirement may be met through examination, the transfer of language study credit from another university or by taking courses on campus.

European Studies

Professor Daniel Orlovsky, Coordinator

The minor in European studies provides students with an opportunity to design an interdisciplinary program of study that will give them an in-depth knowledge of European history, culture, politics and society. The program embraces all of Europe, from the Atlantic (including Great Britain and Ireland) to the Urals (including Russia), from 1700 to the present. In the last half of the 20th century, but especially since the end of the Cold War, Europe has been integrating economically, culturally and politically; the program is designed to take account of specific national cultures and traditions. To maximize the educational experience, students are strongly encouraged to spend at least one term or summer studying in Europe. Most of the courses taught in University Study Abroad programs in Europe may be applied to the European studies minor.

The minor in European studies requires 15 hours of study in specific courses. The first six hours must be chosen from the four categories of the International Studies basic curriculum (see above). Each of the two courses must be from a separate category: either World Cultures, International Politics, International Economics or Global Perspectives. Latin American and Iberian Studies

Professor Alan Covey, Coordinator

The Latin American and Iberian Studies program provides students with an opportunity to design an interdisciplinary program of study that will give them an in-depth knowledge of Ibero-American history, culture, politics and society. The program embraces all of the countries of Latin America and the Iberian Peninsula. It is designed to take account not only of specific national cultures and traditions, as they have developed in Latin America, but also of the importance of Latin cultures and Hispanic traditions in the United States. To maximize the educational experience, students are strongly encouraged to spend at least one term or summer studying in Latin America, Spain or Portugal. Students wishing to attend study-abroad programs offered by other universities may have courses credited toward their major upon previous consultation with the coordinator of Latin American and Iberian Studies.

The major in Latin American and Iberian studies requires 27 credit hours plus a language requirement as follows:

1. A prerequisite of two years of college-level Spanish or Portuguese.
2. Six hours from the first three categories of the International Studies basic curriculum (see above). The two courses must be from a separate category: either World Cultures, International Politics or International Economics.
3. A mandatory sequence of six hours, which constitutes the core curriculum for the whole major.
 - a. First sequence: HIST 2384 Latin America: The Colonial Period or HIST 3380 Problems in Ibero-American History (or SPAN 3374 Spanish-American Civilization).
 - b. Second sequence: HIST 2385 Latin America in the Modern Era or PLSC 3348 Governments and Politics of Latin America.
4. Fifteen hours in 3000-level or above courses concentrating in one of the following groups: Group I: Social Sciences and Group II: Humanities and Arts. Students who want to take a course from the group in which they do not concentrate may do so upon the permission of the director of Latin American and Iberian Studies. Courses taken in the first and second sequence once taken do not double count for the group requirement. If a student is also majoring in international studies, only two courses from the Area Studies curriculum may be double-counted.

The minor in Latin American and Iberian studies requires 15 hours of study in specific courses. The first six hours must be chosen from the four categories of the International Studies basic curriculum (see above). Each of the two courses must be from a separate category: either World Cultures, International Politics, International Economics or Global Perspectives. The next nine hours must be chosen from the Latin American and Iberian Studies curriculum (below), with at least one course in each of the two groups: Group I: Social Sciences or Group II: Humanities and Arts. At least nine hours must be at the 3000 level or above. If a student is an international studies major, only one course from the Area Studies curriculum may be double-counted. A cocurricular requirement for the minor in Latin American and Iberian studies is two years of college-level study of Spanish or Portuguese.

MARKETS AND CULTURE

Professor Linda Brewster Stearns, Director

The B.A. in markets and culture provides students the opportunity to learn about the world's market places from an interdisciplinary study in the social sciences and the humanities. Students will explore the economic principles of markets, the values and history of commerce, and the motives and myths that move people. By choosing from courses in a wide range of disciplines, including sociology, economics, anthropology, political science, history, psychology, literature and foreign languages, students will gain an understanding of the multiple institutions and cultures that shape the world's markets.

Requirements for the B.A. Degree. The markets and culture major requires 36 total hours, consisting of 24 hours of core classes and 12 hours of electives. Only six of the 12 elective hours may be double counted in another major or minor. The core classes provide the student with the appropriate tools to understand the social basis of economic behavior as well as basic business concepts and practices. A grade of C- or better must be earned in all courses fulfilling the major requirements, and markets and culture majors must attain a minimum GPA of 2.0 among all courses attempted for the major.

A cocurricular requirement for a degree in markets and culture is one year of college-level study of a foreign language or equivalent. Student majors are strongly encouraged to take advantage of opportunities for study abroad and internships to broaden their classroom experience.

Requirements for Departmental Distinction. The major offers graduation with distinction to select student majors of high academic achievement. The program is open to junior and senior majors. Interested students with a minimum 3.0 overall GPA and a 3.5 GPA in the major may consult with the director of the Markets and Culture Program for admission to the distinction track. If the director determines that the student has satisfied the requirements, the student may then request a faculty member to direct a distinction paper. The candidate's distinction paper must be a substantial piece of independent and original research. The research will be presented and evaluated by a distinction committee. Upon positive recommendation from this committee, the student will be awarded graduation with distinction.

1. A minimum 3.0 overall GPA at graduation.
2. A minimum 3.5 average in courses taken for the markets and culture major.
3. Preparation of a distinction thesis under the supervision of a faculty member while enrolled in SOCI 4396. SOCI 4396 will be taken in addition to all other requirements for the major. The faculty adviser's grade for the thesis must be A- or higher.
4. Pass an oral examination conducted by a faculty distinction committee, which reviews the candidate's thesis. The distinction committee includes the faculty adviser, the director of Markets and Culture, and one additional faculty member selected by the faculty adviser in consultation with the student.
5. Must have completed SOCI 2377, 3377 and ENGL 2302, with an average GPA of 3.5.

SOCI 2377 Markets and Culture

SOCI 3377 Organizations and Their Environment (Prerequisite: SOCI 2377)

SOCI 4377 Contemporary Markets and Culture (Prerequisites: SOCI 2377, 3377)

FINA 3330 Money and Capital Markets (Prerequisite: FINA 3320)

CSE 2337 Introduction to Data Management (ITOM 2308 may substitute) (Prerequisite: EMIS 1305; Prerequisite or corequisite: SOCI 2377)

ENGL 2302 Business Writing (Prerequisite: SOCI 2377)

STAT 2301 Statistics for Modern Business Decisions (STAT 2331 or ITOM 2305 may substitute)

Elective Courses

A total of 12 advanced hours required. Courses must be selected from at least three departments, with no more than six hours in any one area.

Requirements for the B.S. Degree With a Major in Mathematics. The B.S. degree in mathematics reflects contemporary trends in mathematics by incorporating computer science, mathematical and computational modeling, natural science and statistics courses. This degree is particularly appropriate for students who wish to proceed toward careers in industry concentrating on analytical problem solving, or toward graduate schools in any mathematical science area. Computer science, economics, electrical engineering, mechanical engineering, management science, physics and chemistry provide attractive opportunities as areas for a double major with mathematics. With a minimum of 21 approved advanced hours in the major, the following courses are required:

	Term Hours
Fundamental Mathematics: MATH 1337, 1338, 2339, 2343	12
Natural Science: Choose two from PHYS 1303, 1304; CHEM 1303, 1304; BIOL 1401, 1402 ; one GEOL 1300-level course	6
Computer Science: CSE 1341 or 1342	3
Statistics: STAT 4340/CSE 4340/EMIS 4340 (Students may substitute STAT 5340/EMIS 5370 or EE 3360)	3
Advanced Mathematics Elective: MATH 3000+ course	3
Specialization: In each specialization, five courses must be taken – with a minimum of two courses at the 4000+ level, including at least one MATH 4000+ course.	15

Choose one of the following seven areas:

- Applied and/or Numerical Mathematics
MATH 3315/CSE 3365 (mandatory)
Four from MATH 3334, 3337, 3353, 4335, 5315, 5316, 5331, 5332, 5334, 5353; EMIS 3360
- Computer Science and Computer Engineering
MATH 3315/CSE 3365 (mandatory), CSE 4381 (mandatory)
Three from MATH 3353, 5315, 5316, 5332
- Engineering
MATH 3315/CSE 3365 (mandatory), MATH 3337 (mandatory)
One from MATH 5315, 5331, 5332, 5334
Electrical Engineering
Two from EE 3322, 3330, 3372, 5330, 5332, 5336, 5360, 5362, 5372
Mechanical Engineering
Two from ME 4360, 5302, 5320, 5322, 5336 (MATH 6336), 5361, 5386
- Civil Engineering
MATH 3315/CSE 3365 (mandatory), MATH 3337 (mandatory)
One from MATH 5315, 5331, 5332, 5334
Two from CEE 5361, 5364; ME 5322

5. Environmental Engineering
MATH 3315/CSE 3365 (mandatory), MATH 3337 (mandatory)
MATH 6336/ME 5336 (mandatory)
 One from MATH 5315, 5331, 5332, 5334
 One from CEE 5331, 5332, 5334
6. Operations Research
MATH 3315/CSE 3365 (mandatory), EMIS 3360 (mandatory)
 Two from MATH 3353, 5315, 5316, 5332, 5353
 One from EMIS 5361, 5362, 5369; STAT 5344/EMIS 5364
7. Pure Mathematics
 Five from MATH 3308, 3337, 3353, 4338, 4351, 4355, 4381, 5331, 5332, 5353

Requirements for the B.A. Degree With a Major in Mathematics. The B.A. degree in mathematics is designed for students who need a traditional mathematics degree leading to careers in teaching, industry, business and government. It is particularly attractive when combined with liberal arts, social science or business administration as a double major. The requirements are the same as for the B.S. degree except that there is no natural science requirement. In exceptional circumstances, the Department of Mathematics may choose to waive one course (three credit hours) in mathematics.

MATH 6000-level courses may also be taken for either the B.S. or B.A. major by students who have fulfilled the prerequisites and have departmental permission.

NOTE: All mathematics majors, either B.S. or B.A., must receive a grade of at least C- in all courses taken in fulfillment of the requirements for the mathematics major.

Requirements for the Mathematics Minor. MATH 1337, 1338, 2339 and nine hours selected from mathematics courses at the advanced (3000+) level. MATH 2343 Elementary Differential Equations may replace an advanced-level mathematics course. All courses in the minor must be passed with a grade of C- or higher.

For All Undergraduates: After a student matriculates to SMU, transfer credit for MATH 1307, 1309 or 1337 will not be approved.

The Courses (MATH)

1303. Precalculus for Business. Inequalities, absolute value, graphs, functions, basic analytic geometry, polynomials, logarithms, exponentials, linear equations and mathematics of finance. Prerequisite: High school algebra. No credit given if taken after any calculus course. Credit not given for both 1303 and 1304. Intended for students planning to take MATH 1309.

1304. Precalculus Mathematics. Graphs, functions, basic analytic geometry, exponentials, logarithms, trigonometry and inverse functions. Prerequisites: High school algebra and trigonometry. No credit given if taken after any calculus course. Credit not given for both MATH 1303 and 1304. Intended for students planning to take MATH 1337.

1307. Introduction to Mathematical Sciences. Permutations and combinations, probability, Markov chains, linear programming, elementary statistics, and mathematics of finance. Prerequisite: High school algebra.

1309. Introduction to Calculus for Business and Social Science. Derivatives and integrals of algebraic, logarithmic and exponential functions, with applications to the time value of money, curve sketching, maximum-minimum problems and computation of areas. Applications to business and economics. (Natural science and engineering students must take MATH 1337. Credit not allowed for both MATH 1309 and 1337.) Prerequisite: Placement out of MATH 1303 or a grade of C- or higher in MATH 1303.

1337. Calculus I. Differential and integral calculus for algebraic, trigonometric and transcendental functions, with applications to curve sketching, velocity, maximum-minimum problems, areas and volumes. (Credit not allowed for both MATH 1309 and 1337.) Prerequisite: Placement out of MATH 1304 or a grade of C- or higher in MATH 1304.

2339. Calculus III. A continuation of MATH 1338 including parametric equations, polar coordinates, partial differentiation, multiple integrals and vector analysis. Prerequisite: A grade of C- or higher in MATH 1338.

2343. Elementary Differential Equations. First order equations, linear equations, Laplace transforms and phase plane. Prerequisite: A grade of C- or higher in MATH 1338.

3308. Introduction to Discrete Mathematics. An introduction to logic, set theory, graph theory, recurrence relations and combinatorics. Mathematical foundations and applications of these subjects are presented. Credit not allowed for both CSE 2353 and MATH 3308. Prerequisite: A grade of C- or higher in MATH 1338.

3315 (CSE 3365). Introduction to Scientific Computing. An elementary survey course that includes techniques for root-finding, interpolation, functional approximation, linear equations and numerical integration. Special attention is given to MATLAB programming, algorithm implementations and library codes. Prerequisites: A grade of C- or higher in MATH 1338. Corequisite: CSE 1340 or 1341; students registering for this course must also register for an associated computer laboratory.

3334. Mathematical Modeling and Applications. Discussion of modeling principles such as conservation laws, dimensional analysis and scale, model validation, and the continuum hypothesis. Applications may include vibrations, traffic flow, population dynamics and optimization. Prerequisite: A grade of C- or higher in MATH 2343.

3337. Advanced Mathematics for Science and Engineering. Elements of vector integral calculus, Fourier series and boundary-value problems in partial differential equations. No credit given if taken after MATH 5334. Prerequisites: Grades of C- or higher in MATH 2339 and 2343.

4300. Independent Study in Math. Independent study of a selected topic in mathematics. Prerequisite: By arrangement with faculty sponsor and with departmental approval.

4335. Mathematical Biology. Introduction of mathematical models of biological systems. Population dynamics, infectious diseases, population genetics, and molecular and cellular biology. Prerequisites: Grades of C- or higher in MATH 2343 and 3353.

4381. Introduction to General Topology. Elementary topology of the line and plane, metric spaces, and general topological spaces: continuity of mappings, connectedness, compactness, completeness and fixed-point theorems. Prerequisites: Grades of C- or higher in MATH 3308 and 3353, or instructor's permission.

5315. Introduction to Numerical Analysis. Numerical solution of linear and nonlinear equations, interpolation and approximation of functions, numerical integration, floating point arithmetic, and the numerical solution of initial value problems in ordinary differential equations. Student use of the computer is emphasized. Prerequisites: Grades of C- or higher in MATH 3315/CSE 3365 and MATH 2343; a programming course (e.g., C, FORTRAN or MATLAB).

5316. Introduction to Matrix Computation. The efficient solution of dense and sparse linear systems, least squares problems, and eigenvalue problems. Elementary and orthogonal matrix transformations provide a unified treatment. Programming will be in MATLAB, with a focus on algorithms. Prerequisites: Grades of C- or higher in MATH 3353; MATH 3315/CSE 3365.

5331. Functions of a Complex Variable. Complex numbers, analytic functions, mapping by elementary functions and complex integration. Cauchy-Goursat theorem and Cauchy integral formulas. Taylor and Laurent series, residues and evaluation of improper integrals. Applications of conformal mapping and analytic functions. Prerequisite: A grade of C- or higher in MATH 3337.

5332. Wavelet Transforms. A mathematical introduction to sampling, data compression, multiresolution analysis, Fourier analysis and wavelet theory, including biorthogonal wavelets and spline wavelets. Prerequisites: Grades of C- or higher in MATH 3337, 3353 and 3315/CSE 3365.

5353. Linear Algebra. Spectral theory of Hermitian matrices, Jordan normal form, Perron-Frobenius theory and convexity. Applications include image compression, Internet page rank methods, optimization and linear programming. Prerequisite: A grade of C- or higher in MATH 3353.

www.smu.edu/medievalstudies

Associate Professor Bonnie Wheeler, Director

Ranging from the fourth century A.D. to 1485, from Celtic Britain to Visigothic and Islamic Spain, Byzantium to Persia and the Caliphate, from script to print, from feast to fast, from fine arts to liberal arts, from Augustine to Saladin and beyond, this program offers an intense and condensed liberal education. Studies reveal how the historical shapes, institutional structures, literary visions and artistic forms that emerged from the Middle Ages have colored our concepts of God, society, self, love, individualism and success.

The Medieval Studies Program affords the student an opportunity for a “classically” liberal education within a broad subset of “Western” (Celtic, Franconic, Italic, Germanic, Visigothic) and “non-Western” (Byzantine, Islamic, Persian) contexts. It is appropriate for preprofessional training in multiple fields, ranging from business to religious studies and from biology to music theory and foreign languages and literatures. It can also lead to graduate work in medieval studies or (more usually) in such disciplines as literature, history and art/music history.

The Dallas Medieval Consortium makes it possible for students at SMU, the University of Dallas and the University of Texas-Dallas to enroll in selected medieval studies courses on the other campuses. Through the consortium, SMU students can elect no more than a total of 15 hours in medieval subject courses at any other consortium university.

Requirements for the B.A. Degree. Medieval studies is an interdisciplinary major of 30 hours in medieval subjects, and Latin language and literature, distributed over at least three broad subject areas in medieval studies: 1) history, 2) literature, and 3) music and visual arts (art/music history), with no fewer than six hours in each area. Latin language and literature courses after the second year may, with the approval of the director, count toward hours for the medieval studies major. Students are encouraged to take courses in philosophy, religious studies and church history, as they are available. Individual student programs are approved by the director of Medieval Studies and a committee of two other members of the SMU Medieval Studies faculty.

Distinction in Medieval Studies. The major offers graduation with distinction to select student majors of high academic achievement. Interested students with a minimum 3.0 overall GPA and a 3.5 GPA in the major may consult with the director of the Medieval Studies Program for admission to the distinction track. If the director determines that the student has satisfied the requirements, the student may then request a faculty member to direct his/her distinction paper. The distinction paper must be a substantial piece of independent and original research. The research will be presented and evaluated by a distinction committee. Upon positive recommendation from this committee, the student will be awarded graduation with distinction.

1. A minimum 3.0 overall GPA at graduation.
2. A minimum 3.5 average in courses taken for the medieval studies major.
3. Preparation of a distinction thesis under the supervision of a faculty member while enrolled in MDVL 5399. MDVL 5399 will be taken in addition to all other requirements for the major. The faculty adviser's grade for the thesis must be A- or higher.
4. A passing grade on an oral examination conducted by a faculty distinction committee, which reviews the candidate's thesis. The distinction committee includes the faculty adviser, the director of Medieval Studies and one additional faculty member selected by the faculty adviser in consultation with the student.

Requirements for the Minor. A student must complete 15 hours from the courses listed, including at least three interdisciplinary and nine advanced hours. No more than six hours at the introductory (1000 or 2000) level may be counted; some of the MDVL and CF (Cultural Formations) courses listed below are also interdisciplinary. Other courses may satisfy the interdisciplinary component. Individual student programs are approved by the director of Medieval Studies.

As a model, the following is a typical Medieval Studies Program major sequence for SMU students:

The Courses (MDVL)

3321. The Birth of the Individual. Examines several basic notions pertaining to selfhood, including consciousness, cognition, motivation, personal identity and decision, as found in medieval texts.

3323. Tales of Wales. Survey of native Welsh literature (in translation) from the sixth to the 20th century. Primary focus is on medieval and Arthurian texts and their influence on the British and European literary imagination.

3327. The Unicorn: Understanding Varieties of the Truth in the Middle Ages. Investigates the question of how history and fiction were perceived in the Middle Ages.

3351. The Pilgrimage: Images of Medieval Culture. An exploration of the medieval world through one of its own literal and metaphorical images, moving from Jerusalem to the empire of New Rome, to Rome itself and across Europe on the pilgrimage roads of the Middle Ages.

3352. Ideas and Ideals of Gender in the Middle Ages. Focuses on the status of women in the Middle Ages and the impact of ideas regarding the feminine on the development of (mostly) Western thought.

3353. Medieval Ideas. Presents some of the classic achievements of the medieval mind. While the main focus will be on Medieval Europe and the adjacent Muslim world, wherever possible students' attention will be drawn to developments in other cultures.

3398, 3399. Directed Study.

NATURAL SCIENCES

Professor Christine Buchanan, Director

A minor in the natural sciences offers students a systematic exposure to biology and chemistry. It is particularly suitable for engineering majors who are interested in medicine, dentistry or other biomedical careers. This interdisciplinary minor may not be selected by students majoring or minoring in the biological sciences, biochemistry or chemistry. Each advanced course must be taken in residence.

Required Courses

BIOL 3350 Cell Biology

CHEM 1303, 1113, 1304, 1114 General Chemistry

Select one of the following:

www.smu.edu/philosophy

Associate Professor Steven Sverdlik, Department Chair

Professors: Eric Barnes, Doug Ehring. Associate Professors: Robert Howell, Steven Sverdlik, Brad Thompson. Assistant Professors: Philippe Chuard, Justin Fisher, Soraya Gollop, Matthew Lockard, Luke Robinson. Lecturers: Ken Daley, Giovanni Mion, Nenad Popovic. Adjunct Professors: Scott Bartlett, Stephen Hiltz, Jean Kazez, James Lamb.

Requirements for the B.A. Degree. At least 30 term hours in the department, including at least 21 term hours of advanced work (courses 3000 and above). The 30 hours must include PHIL 1301, 3351, 3352 and at least one course from the sequence PHIL 3310–3319. At least 12 hours of a foreign language are strongly recommended.

The Departmental Distinction Program. Departmental distinction is awarded to philosophy majors graduating with at least a 3.5 GPA in philosophy and who successfully complete a writing project under the guidance of a faculty member.

Requirements for the Minor in Philosophy. Students majoring in other departments may obtain a minor in philosophy. The minor will consist of 15 hours of work in the department. No more than six hours may be from 1000-level courses, and at least three hours must be chosen from PHIL 3351 or 3352. It is recommended that each student minoring in philosophy take one of the department's general introductory courses.

Requirements for the Minor in Ethics. Students majoring in departments other than the Philosophy Department may obtain a minor in ethics. The minor consists of at least 15 hours and must include PHIL 1305 or 1306; one of PHIL 1316, 1317 or 1318; and three from the sequence PHIL 3371–3381.

The Courses (PHIL)

1300. An Introduction to Practical Reasoning. Learning to analyze, evaluate and present information in order to better assess one's own beliefs and to persuade others more effectively.

1301. Elementary Logic. An introductory course in symbolic logic. Logic provides a means for determining whether the purported conclusion of an argument really does follow from the premises. In symbolic logic, mechanical procedures are developed for determining whether a given argument is valid. The techniques and skills acquired through logic have important applications not only within other academic areas such as the sciences and humanities but also within various professional areas such as law.

1305. Introduction to Philosophy. A general introduction to the central questions of philosophy. Topics include the theory of knowledge, philosophy of religion, metaphysics, philosophy of mind, ethics and political philosophy. Typical questions might include: Can we know the world outside our minds? Is it rational to believe in a God who allows evil to exist? Do the laws of physics allow for human freedom? Is morality more than a matter of opinion? Can there be unequal wealth in a just society? Readings will include classical authors such as Plato, Descartes, Locke, Hume and Mill, as well as contemporary philosophers. The focus of the course will be on arguments for and against proposed solutions to key problems of philosophy.

1306. Introduction to Philosophy: Minds, Machines and Persons. A focused introduction to the central questions of philosophy, with an emphasis on the mind and the self. Typical questions might include: Does the soul exist? Is the mind the same thing as the brain? Can animals feel pain? Can they think? Can a computer think? Might the mind be a computer? What is consciousness? Can we understand experiences radically different from our own? What is the self? Can we survive the death of our body? The focus of the course will be on arguments for and against proposed solutions to philosophical problems concerning mind, machines and persons.

1316. Introduction to Ethics. An introduction to philosophical ethics focusing on questions in ethical theory. Topics vary, but the following are representative: Is morality merely conventional – and hence historically and culturally relative – or is there an objective morality? If there is an objective morality, what is its content? And what is its basis: reason, human nature or divine command? Why be moral? If the demands of morality conflict with our own self-interest, why should we comply with them? And what exactly is in our own self-interest: in what does human happiness or well-being consist? We will read, discuss and write about philosophical arguments for and against proposed answers to questions like these.

1317. Business Ethics. A discussion of the moral and political issues surrounding a free-enterprise system. Students will be introduced to basic moral theory. Further topics will include distributive (or economic) justice; the moral preferability of capitalism and socialism; and selected concrete moral issues such as truth in advertising, worker safety and affirmative action.

1318. Contemporary Moral Problems. An introduction to philosophical ethics focusing on questions in applied ethics. Students will explore ethical theories, philosophical methods and their application to some of the most controversial and pressing issues confronting contemporary society. Topics vary, but the following are representative: abortion, animal rights, affirmative action, capital punishment, economic justice, euthanasia, sexuality, war and terrorism, and world hunger. Class discussion is an important component of the course, as is reading and writing argumentative essays about these issues.

3301. Intermediate Logic. Students are introduced to the formal theory of the logical systems they have already learned to use: namely, sentential logic and predicate logic. Students will learn to prove the completeness and soundness of both of these systems. In addition, they may also learn some simple nonstandard logical systems, such as modal, epistemic or deontic logic, if time permits. Prerequisite: PHIL 1301 or its equivalent.

3302 (RELI 3302). Problems in the Philosophy of Religion. The philosophy of religion, considering such problems as religious experience, human freedom, good and evil, belief in God, and immortality.

3305. Philosophy and Gender. A consideration of whether or not there are differences between the sexes; whether or not Western science, philosophy and ethics have been dominated by “male thinking;” and current issues such as pornography, censorship, rape, reproductive technologies, etc. Writings by feminist philosophers as well as their critics will be examined.

3310. Advanced Topics in Philosophy. (May be repeated for credit.)

3311. Twentieth-Century Philosophical Analysis. An examination of the method of philosophical analysis as practiced by such 20th-century philosophers as Moore, Russell, Wittgenstein, Quine, Austin and others.

3312. Introduction to the Philosophy of Language. A systematic treatment of such topics as the nature of linguistic reference, meaning, synonymy, truth, vagueness and metaphor. The course will also examine issues relating to the goals and methodology of linguistics, such as the status of semantic descriptions, and the “nature versus nurture” controversy in language-acquisition theories.

3313. Epistemology. A systematic treatment of such topics as skepticism, analyses of factual knowledge, theories of epistemic justification, foundational versus coherence theories of knowledge, and the relationship between psychology and a philosophical account of knowledge.

3314. Metaphysics. A study to acquaint the student with traditional metaphysical issues such as the problem of universals, the existence of other minds, continuants, the mind-body problem and the existence of God.

3315. Philosophy of Mind. A systematic treatment of the nature of consciousness, self and person.

3316. Minds, Brains, and Robotics. Topics may include neural networks, artificial intelligence, perception and action, consciousness, robotics, dynamical systems, embodied cognition, game theory, and the evolution of cognition. Prerequisites: Two courses in cognitive-science-related fields (philosophy, computer science, engineering, psychology, linguistics, biology or anthropology).

3333. Topics in Philosophy. (May be repeated for credit.)

3351. History of Western Philosophy (Ancient). A study of the major philosophers from Thales to Plotinus, including Plato and Aristotle.

3352. History of Western Philosophy (Modern). This is a survey course in the history of modern philosophy. The modern period as we are considering it begins with Descartes; includes Leibniz, Spinoza, Locke and Hume; and ends with Kant. Many seminal writings on central areas of philosophy occurred in this period, and this course provides an introduction to, and background for, these areas. We will be examining key writings from major figures on such issues as: rationalism and empiricism, the nature of external reality and our knowledge of it, the existence and nature of God, the relation between mind and body, causation, induction, rationality and rational action, and the nature of morality and moral action. This course satisfies one part of the history requirement for philosophy majors and may be used to satisfy the history requirement for philosophy minors.

3362 (CF 3341). Creativity, Discovery and Science. This course considers central issues in the history and philosophy of science with a special emphasis on the nature of creativity and discovery in scientific thought. General questions are: what is science, and what is the nature of scientific method? What is the nature of evidence and explanation in science? The course will address in some detail the question of how new ideas – such as theories and problem solutions – are produced and assessed in scientific thinking. Is creativity essentially a random or blind process, or is it rule-governed in some way? What is the nature of a scientific discovery? This course will combine literature in the history and philosophy of science together with psychological literature on the nature of creativity to answer these and other questions. No previous coursework in science is required, but students with some science background will be well equipped to appreciate the relevant issues.

3363 (CF 3308). Aesthetic Experience and Judgment. A good deal of attention is devoted to these questions: What is beauty? Are there any standards or rules concerning what is beautiful? What is art? Why is art an important part of human culture? The course will also consider the role of emotion in art, the problem of correct interpretation and the nature of tragedy.

3364. Philosophy of Biology. A survey of topics including evolution versus creationism, fitness, units of selection, adaptationism, biological taxonomy, evolution in humans, cultural evolution and niche construction. Prerequisite: A background in philosophy or biology is strongly encouraged.

3366. Philosophy in Literature. A nontechnical introduction to philosophy by an examination of traditional philosophical problems embodied in great works of fiction.

3370. Nineteenth-Century Philosophy. A detailed study of selected major thinkers from the 19th century, such as Kant, Hegel, Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, Schopenhauer, Fichte, Feuerbach and Marx.

3373. Punishment and Responsibility. By what right does society punish some people? What is the correct amount of punishment? Who ought to be punished? Various philosophical responses to these questions are examined. Other topics include the morality of capital punishment, excuse and justification, the morality of self defense, and the justifiability of punishing “self-regarding” acts such as drug use.

3374 (CF 3307). Philosophy of Law. An examination of central questions in philosophy of law. Topics vary, but the following are representative: What is law? What is the relationship between law and morality? To what extent may or must judges make value judgments in deciding what the law is? To what extent can or should “legislative intent” or “original meaning” constrain judicial interpretation of constitutional provisions? Whom should we punish, why should we punish them and how much should we punish them?

3375. Topics in Moral Philosophy. A topics offering that seeks to take advantage of the wide variety of issues that can be fruitfully explored in a course on moral philosophy. (May be repeated for credit.)

3377 (CFA 3377). Animal Rights. An examination of the moral status of nonhuman animals, and its implications for the common use of animals as food and experimental subjects for humans.

3379. Environmental Ethics. A course exploring our ethical obligations concerning the natural world. Topical issues like climate change, endangered species, recycling and the population explosion are covered from a variety of philosophical perspectives.

3380. Ethical Theory. An examination of the more fundamental – and more abstract – questions in philosophical ethics. Topics vary, but the following are representative: What is the “good life”: in what does human happiness or well-being consist? What is truly worth valuing: are pleasure, knowledge and virtue valuable in themselves? What are the basic principles that determine or govern our moral rights and obligations? Are moral judgments descriptions of some features of the world, or are they merely expressions of approval and disapproval? If they are descriptions of the world, what features of it do they describe? How do we know whether an action is morally right or wrong? We will explore questions like these through a close and critical examination of classical and contemporary works in philosophical ethics.

3382. Twentieth-Century European Philosophy. An examination of some methods and principles of European philosophies in the 20th century. Philosophical schools studied include the following: phenomenology, existentialism, neo-Kantianism, life-philosophy, hermeneutics and neo-Marxist critical theory.

3383. American Philosophy. Historical development and contemporary themes in American philosophy. Varying emphasis may be placed on trends (e.g., pragmatism), historical figures (e.g., Dewey), or influential contemporary figures (e.g., Quine).

4381. Philosophy in the Iber-American World. A survey of Latin American philosophy as it relates to the social and cultural development of Latin America. (SMU-in-Madrid only)

4393, 4394. Independent Study and Research. Special topics to be selected by the student in consultation with the department. Prerequisites: Senior standing and departmental approval.

5310. Phenomenology. An explication of the main features, concepts and methods of phenomenology, and its relation to the history and problems of philosophy and other disciplines. Prerequisite: PHIL 3352 or permission of instructor.

6311, 6312. Philosophical Studies. Independent work on special topics.

PHYSICS

Professor Fred Olness, Department Chair

Professors: Fred Olness, Ryszard Stroynowski. Associate Professors: Thomas Coan, Kent Hornbostel, Robert Kehoe, Roberto Vega, Jingbo Ye. Assistant Professors: Jodi Cooley-Sekula, Pavel Nadolsky, Stephen Sekula. Senior Lecturer: Randall Scalise. Lecturer: Simon Dalley. Adjunct Lecturers: John Cotton, Cas Milner. Research Professors: Marc Christensen, Gary Evans, Peggy Gui, Tiankuan Liu. Emeritus Professors: Jeff Chalk, George Crawford, Vigdor Teplitz.

The Physics Department offers a program consisting of course studies in broad areas of classical and modern physics, and research studies in both experimental and theoretical physics.

The research activities of the faculty are focused primarily in high energy, elementary particle physics and related fields. The advanced classes are small, so there is ample opportunity for students to work closely with Physics Department faculty, particularly in the advanced laboratories where students become familiar with state-of-the-art equipment. Undergraduate physics majors are strongly encouraged to participate in research activities. A majority of majors go on to pursue advanced degrees upon graduation from SMU.

B.S. Degree. This degree program is designed for students who plan careers in physics in industry, laboratories or academia. A candidate for the B.S. degree must complete a minimum of 40 hours in physics, including PHYS 1105, 1106, 1303, 1304 (or 1307 and 1308), 3305, 3340, 3344, 3374, 4211, 4321, 4392, 5382 and 5383. (PHYS 3345 may be substituted for 4321.) Additional courses may be chosen from a variety of physics electives or in related fields with departmental permission. A candidate for the B.S. degree must also complete 15 hours of courses in mathematics, including MATH 1337, 1338, 2339, 2343 and one advanced mathematics course. STAT 4340 also counts as an advanced mathematics elective. Finally, degree candidates must complete a minimum of three hours in computer science and engineering by completing CSE 1341 or 2341. Students planning to pursue graduate studies are encouraged to complete more than the minimum 40 credit hours in physics and 15 credit hours in mathematics.

B.A. Degree. This degree program is appropriate for students who wish to combine a physics curriculum with a broad liberal arts program with the aim of pursuing careers in medicine, teaching, business or government. A candidate for the B.A. degree must complete a minimum of 30 hours in physics, including PHYS 1105, 1106, 1303, 1304 (or 1307 and 1308), 3305, 3344, 4211, 4392 and 5382. Additional courses may be chosen from the available physics electives or in related fields with departmental permission. Additionally, a candidate for the B.A. degree must complete 15 hours in mathematics, including MATH 1337, 1338, 2339, 2343 and one advanced mathematics course.

Minor in Physics. A minor in physics is particularly appropriate for majors in the natural sciences, including premed, mathematics and engineering. The departmental requirement for a minor in physics is 17 hours in physics, including PHYS 1105, 1106, 1303, 1304 (or 1307 and 1308), and nine hours of advanced coursework.

The Departmental Distinction Program. A physics major achieving a B.S. degree may graduate “with departmental distinction” by successfully completing a special program of study in addition to the requirements stated above, while maintaining a minimum GPA of 3.5. The special program consists of independent reading, research and senior thesis under the direction of a departmental faculty member. The student must apply to the department for this designation during his or her junior year. The student will enroll in PHYS 4375 or 4390 during the program, and a senior thesis is to be written and presented to the faculty.

Simultaneous Degree Programs. It is also possible to earn simultaneously a B.S. degree in physics from Dedman College and a degree in engineering from the Lyle School of Engineering. The undergraduate adviser of the Department of Physics should be consulted for detailed information on the simultaneous degree programs.

Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering and Bachelor of Science in Physics

The Electrical Engineering Department and the Physics Department offer an integrated curriculum that enables a student to obtain both a B.S. degree in electrical engineering and a B.S. degree with a major in physics.

Curriculum Notes

The minimum requirements for the dual degrees of B.S. in electrical engineering and B.S. in physics are as follows:

Curriculum Requirements	Term	Credit Hours
College Requirements:	ENGL 1301, 1302; Perspectives courses, including ECO 1311; and Cultural Formations and Wellness courses	23
Mathematics:	MATH 1337, 1338, 2339, 2343; and a 3-hour elective course at the 3000 level or above	15
Science:	CHEM 1303; PHYS 1105, 1303, 1304, 3305, 3344, 4211, 4321, 5337, 5382, 5383; and PHYS 3374 or ME 3341	33
Computer Science:	CSE 1341	3
Engineering Leadership:	Two of EMIS 3308, 3309; CEE 3302; or CSE 4360	6
Core Electrical Engineering:	EE 1382, 2122, 2170, 2181, 2322, 2350, 2370, 2381, 3360	21
Junior Electrical:	EE 3122, 3181, 3322, 3381; EE 3330 or PHYS 4392; and EE 3311 or 3372	14
Advanced Electrical Engineering Electives		12
Senior Design Sequence:	EE 4311 and 4312	6
Minimum total hours required		133

Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering and Bachelor of Science in Physics

The Mechanical Engineering Department and the Physics Department offer a curriculum that enables a student to obtain both a B.S. degree in mechanical engineering and a B.S. degree with a major in physics.

Curriculum Notes

The minimum requirements for the dual degrees of B.S. in mechanical engineering and B.S. in physics are as follows:

Curriculum Requirements	Term	Credit Hours
General Education:	ENGL 1301, 1302; and Perspectives and Cultural Formation courses	21
Mathematics:	MATH 1337, 1338, 2339, 2343; and STAT 4340	15
Sciences:	PHYS 1303, 1304, 3305, 3344, 3374, 4211, 4321, 4392, 5382, 5383; two advanced physics electives; and CHEM 1303	38
Mechanical Engineering:	ME 1202, 1102, 1305, 2310, 2331, 2131, 2340, 2140, 2342, 2142, 3332, 3132, 3340, 3370, 4338, 4360, 4160, 4370, 4380, 4381 and 5322	50
Leadership Elective:	Select one from EMIS 3308, 3309; CEE 3302; or CSE 4360	3
Wellness I and II		2
Minimum total hours required		129

Any deviation from the ME and/or PHYS curricula requires approval of a petition submitted by the student to the appropriate faculty prior to the beginning of the term during which the student expects to complete the requirements for graduation.

The Courses (PHYS)

1105. General Physics Laboratory. One 3-hour laboratory period per week. Taken with PHYS 1303, 1307 if 8 hours of credit, including laboratory, are needed.

1106. General Physics Laboratory. One 3-hour laboratory period per week. Taken with PHYS 1304, 1308 if 8 hours of credit, including laboratory, are needed. Prerequisite: PHYS 1105 or self-test.

1301. The Ideas of Modern Physics. Presents cosmology, relativity, quantum mechanics and particle physics in an essentially descriptive, nonmathematical framework accessible to all SMU students.

1303. Introductory Mechanics*. For science and engineering majors. Vectors kinematics, Newtonian mechanics, gravitation, rotational motion, vibrations, waves and fluids. Prerequisite: Concurrent registration in MATH 1337 is allowed based upon satisfactory completion of a calculus course in high school and approval of instructor.

1304. Introductory Electricity and Magnetism*. For science and engineering majors. Electricity, magnetism, electromagnetic radiation, optics and special relativity. Prerequisite: PHYS 1303. MATH 1338 recommended.

*Students with a strong high school preparation in physics may take a departmental placement examination to acquire credit for either PHYS 1303 or 1304; the placement exam must be taken during the student's first term at SMU.

1307, 1308. General Physics. Principles and concepts of physics; applications in the life sciences. Mechanics, thermodynamics, sound, optics, electricity, magnetism and modern physics. Prerequisite: MATH 1337.

1311. Elements of Astronomy. A course in planetary and stellar astronomy, including laboratory and observations.

1313. Fundamentals of Physics. Contemporary concepts of physics, including Newtonian mechanics, gravitation, rotational motion, fluids, the gas laws, vibrations and waves, and sound. Intended for the nonscience major. No prior knowledge of physics is assumed.

1314. The Physical Perspective. Principles and concepts of physics, including electricity, magnetism, the nature of light, Einstein's theory of relativity, quantum theory, atomic physics and the Big Bang. Intended for the nonscience major. No prior knowledge of physics is assumed.

1320. Musical Acoustics. Covers both the acoustics (physical sound properties) and the psycho-acoustics (psychological, perceptual properties) of music. Topics include sound in general, sound of musical instruments (including voice), sound characteristics of rooms, electronic production (synthesis) and reproduction of sound. No prior knowledge of physics is assumed. While this course requires no previous formal training in music theory, it is helpful if students have a basic understanding of musical scales and notation.

1404. General Physics. Equivalent of PHYS 1304 and 1106.

1407. General Physics. Equivalent of PHYS 1307 and 1105. Prerequisite: MATH 1337

1408. General Physics. Equivalent of PHYS 1308 and 1106. Prerequisite: MATH 1337.

3305. Introduction to Modern Physics. For science and engineering majors. Special relativity. Elements of quantum physics. Structure of atoms, molecules and solids. Nuclear physics. Elementary particles. Prerequisite: PHYS 1304.

3310. Introduction to Relativity and the Physics of Waves. One-dimensional harmonic oscillator, coupled oscillators, longitudinal and transverse waves, sound and electromagnetic waves, interference and diffraction, Lorentz transforms and invariants, time dilation, length contraction, equivalence principle, and black holes. Prerequisites: PHYS 3305 (can be taken concurrently), MATH 2339, MATH 2343 (can be taken concurrently).

3320. Physics of Music. Covers the acoustics (physical sound properties) of music. Topics include sound in general, sound of musical instruments, acoustics, electronic synthesis, Fourier transforms, interference, diffraction and resonance. Prerequisites: PHYS 1303 and 1304 or equivalent. PHYS 3344 recommended. While this course requires no previous formal training in music theory, it is helpful if students have a basic understanding of musical scales and notation.

3333. The Scientific Method (Debunking Pseudoscience). Provides students with an understanding of the scientific method sufficient to detect pseudoscience in its many guises: paranormal phenomena, free-energy devices, alternative medicine, creationism and many others.

3340. Computational Physics. Introduction to the modeling of physical systems. Emphasis is on algorithm selection and implementation for simulating classical and quantum physics. Prior programming experience recommended.

3344. Classical Mechanics. The motion of a particle and of systems of particles, including oscillatory systems, accelerated coordinate systems, central-force motion, rigid-body dynamics, gravitation and Lagrangian mechanics. Prerequisites: PHYS 1303 and MATH 2339 (or taken concurrently).

3345. Advanced Mechanics. Topics in classical mechanics, including the motion of a system of particles, the two-body central-force problem, small oscillations of coupled systems, collision theory, Lagrange's and Hamilton's formulations, the vibrating string, and the special theory of relativity. Prerequisite: PHYS 1303.

3368. Principles of Astrophysics and Cosmology. Cosmic distance scales. Physics of stars. Expansion of the universe. Cosmic nucleosynthesis. Selected other topics as appropriate. Prerequisite: PHYS 3305.

3374. Thermodynamics and Statistical Mechanics. Basic concepts of thermodynamics and statistical mechanics with emphasis on quantum statistics. The laws of thermodynamics, entropy, Maxwell-Boltzmann, Bose-Einstein and Fermi-Dirac statistics. Prerequisites: PHYS 3305. MATH 2343 recommended.

4112. Laboratory Physics II. Intermediate-level experimental physics. Approximately one experiment per week. One 3-hour laboratory period per week. Prerequisites: PHYS 1106, 3305.

4190, 4290, 4390. Special Projects in Physics. Directed study of special topics. For physics majors only. Prerequisites: Junior or senior classification and permission of department.

4375. Research. For physics majors. Students will participate in physics research with a member of the faculty of the Department of Physics. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor.

For Undergraduate and Graduate Students

5337. Introduction to Solid State Physics. Crystal lattices and the reciprocal lattice. The free-electron model of metals. Crystal binding. Lattice vibrations phonons. Thermal properties of solids. Energy bands in solids.

5380. Concepts of Experimental Particle Physics. Principles of elementary particle physics and the experiments by which we learn laws obeyed by these particles, with reading of scientific papers. Prerequisite: PHYS 3305 or equivalent; PHYS 5382 recommended.

5382. Introduction to Quantum Mechanics. A study of the development of quantum theory, including blackbody radiation, the Bohr atom and the photoelectric effect. Wave-mechanics and matrix-mechanics approaches will be studied, as well as a brief introduction to the Dirac formalism. Solutions to the Schrödinger equation for a variety of one-dimensional problems and for the hydrogen atom are discussed. Prerequisites: PHYS 3305 and MATH 3353.

5395. Introduction to Elementary Particles. Modern theories of elementary particles, including relativistic kinematics, Feynman diagrams, quantum electrodynamics, quarks, weak interactions and gauge theories. Prerequisite: PHYS 5383.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

Professor Harold Stanley, Department Chair

Professors: Seyom Brown, James Hollifield, Dennis Ippolito, Calvin Jillson, Michael Lusztig, Harold Stanley, Stephen Wegren. Associate Professors: Bradley Carter, Joseph Kobyłka, Luigi Manzetti, Dennis Simon, Matthew Wilson. Assistant Professors: Karisa Cloward, Hiroki Takeuchi. Professor Emeritus: James Gerhardt.

For Undergraduate Students

The department offers undergraduate courses of three types. Introductory courses (at the 1000 level) survey each of the broad fields of study in the discipline. Advanced courses (at the 3000 and 4000 levels) explore more closely defined topics within each of those fields – 3000-level courses examine relatively broad subjects; 4000-level courses examine more specific topics, but are not inherently more demanding than 3000-level courses. Introductory-level preparation or at least sophomore standing is recommended for students undertaking these advanced courses. Independent study courses (at the 4000 level) are offered to majors with sophomore or higher standing; prerequisites for these courses are stated in the course descriptions that follow. For purposes of distribution and concentration, courses are grouped in their broad fields in the listings below, as indicated by the last two digits of their course numbers:

American Government and Politics	20–39
Comparative Politics	40–59
Political Theory	60–79
International Relations	80–99

Requirements for the B.A. Degree. The B.A. degree in political science requires a total of 33 hours with two introductory courses (six hours) of choice and 27 advanced hours (3000 and above). Advanced coursework must include at least six hours in each of two distribution fields and three hours in a third.

Minors in Political Science. Four minor concentrations are offered: a general program in political science and three specifically focused programs in political thought, comparative and international politics, and American politics. Each concentration requires 18 hours of political science courses, including three or six hours at the introductory level and 12 or 15 advanced hours.

Departmental Distinction. The department offers graduation with distinction to select majors of high academic achievement. Interested students may consult with an appropriate faculty member and apply to the director of Undergraduate Studies for admission to the distinction track. Eligible students must have completed two introductory departmental courses and 24 hours of departmental credit before applying for candidacy.

1. A minimum 3.0 overall GPA at graduation.
2. A minimum 3.5 average in courses taken for the political science major.
3. Preparation for a departmental distinction thesis under the supervision of a faculty thesis adviser. The faculty adviser's grade for the thesis must be A- or higher. This work will be accomplished by taking PLSC 4307 and will be in addition to all other requirements for the major.
4. Passing with distinction an oral examination of at least one hour, conducted by a faculty distinction examination committee, which reviews the candidate thesis and major curriculum.
5. A minimum 3.5 average in at least two advanced courses related to the topic of the thesis; one of these may, but need not, be a course taken outside the requirements of the political science major.

Students advanced to the distinction track must write a substantial piece of independent and original research (PLSC 4307) and present it to a distinction committee composed of faculty selected by the distinction adviser in consultation with the student. Upon positive recommendation of this committee, the department will award the student graduation with distinction.

Eligible students will be admitted to the distinction track upon recommendation of the director of Undergraduate Studies in consultation with the faculty member who has agreed to chair the distinction committee and oversee the student's research and writing. The department does not require candidates for distinction to take PLSC 4376, but strongly advises students interested in empirical research to do so.

Notes of Importance. Students must receive at least a C- in all classes counting toward the major or minor.

No course may be counted more than once toward meeting departmental major or minor requirements. In unusual circumstances, a student may petition, through his or her adviser, to the department chair for exceptions to the above requirements. Only the department chair may grant such a written waiver.

The Courses (PLSC)

American Government and Politics

1320. Introduction to American Government and Politics. The organization, functions and processes of our national government, with particular attention to parties, pressure groups and other forces that influence its course. Attention will also be given to the Texas Constitution.

3320. Principles of Public Policy. Public policy is the study of the outcome of the political process. Parties, pressure groups, bureaucracies and legislative bodies create the decisions that govern domestic social policy, international economic policy and defense policy. Prerequisites: ECO 1311 and PLSC 1320. Recommended: ECO 1312 and PLSC 1340 or 1380.

3321. Congress and the Legislative Process. The powers, organization, and rules and procedures of legislatures in the United States. Emphasizes the U.S. Congress: its constitutional responsibilities, committee and staff systems, and legislative procedures in the House and Senate.

3322. The American Presidency. An evaluation of the office of president in the American political system with emphasis placed upon the functional and institutional development of the office and presidential leadership in policy making.

3326. State Government and Politics. A comparative study of the structure, procedure and functional services of state, county and municipal governments with emphasis upon inter-governmental relations in the federal government and Texas government.

3327. Texas Politics. This course focuses on government and politics in Texas both by exploring its processes, institutions and policies, and by placing them within the broader context of the U.S. federal system.

3329. Bureaucracy and Regulatory Politics. Examines the "fourth branch" of government, including the rise of regulatory policymaking in the twentieth century, its instructions and organization, the role of administrative law, the behavior of civil servants and interest groups, and the relationship between bureaucracies and other branches of government.

3330. Law, Politics and the Supreme Court. An introduction to the uniquely political and legal role played by the Supreme Court in elaborating the scope of governmental power and in defining individual rights and liberties.

3331. Media and Politics. Examines how the media influence the American institutional governing process and citizen engagement in democratic practices such as acquisition of political knowledge and political decision-making.

3333 (PP 3310). Environmental Policy. Overview of governmental environmental policies designed to provide a foundation for future application and study in the growing environmental field.

3334. Public Opinion and American Politics. Focuses upon the influence of public opinion on American politics and policy making. Topics for the course will include public opinion and democratic theory, the methods of survey research, the use of the polling "industry," and the influence of polls on politicians and policy.

3335. Judicial Process. Examines the role played by courts in the American system of government. Ranges from the generation of disputes, to the tools used by the judiciary to resolve them, to the ways judges are selected and make decisions, and to the impact of those decisions on society and government.

3336. Congress, the President and the Constitution. An examination of how constitutional interpretation, precedent and politics affect presidential and congressional powers, as well as the separation of powers with respect to war and foreign affairs, legislation and administration, and budgetary and fiscal policies.

4320. Special Studies in American Government and Politics.

4321. Basic Issues in American Democracy. An analysis of current American public policy issues within a theoretical framework. Examines the foundations of concepts and value orientations within which policy considerations are made.

4323 (CFA 3334). The Politics of Change in America, 1930–2000. Focuses on American politics and society from 1930 to the present. Examines how America has changed, explains why changes occur and assesses the consequences of these changes.

4324. Political Dynamics. Use of political parties in formulating political opinions, pressure groups, propaganda, measurement of mass opinions and political leadership.

4325. Practical Electoral Politics. An exploration of techniques of political organization drawing on studies of recent campaigns and examining the political pressures that affect policy making in government.

4327. Urban Politics. Traces ideas and beliefs about the nature and purpose of local political arenas in the American experience from New England townships to modern metropolises.

4328. Seminar: American Government and Politics. An overview of the central questions in the study of American government and politics.

4329. The Politics of Economic Policy. Analysis of interactions among political beliefs, economic theories, political processes and public policies that shape and change the American political economy.

4330. Politics and Film. This course will use films as a vehicle for understanding politics, leadership and the political process in the United States. The class involves substantial reading and writing by students.

4331. Government and Business. Analysis of the roles of business in American policies and the impacts of political and governmental decisions on business activity.

4332. Politics of Litigation. An examination of the interaction between law and politics and, in particular, of the role interest groups have played in the litigation process.

4333. Policy, Politics and the Budget. Examines the federal budget's historical evolution and contemporary significance. Topics include the constitutional division of the power of the purse between the legislative and executive branches, presidential-congressional conflicts over control of budget policy, major policy issues relating to the size of the federal budget, spending and tax policy priorities, and deficit and debt problems.

4334. Politics and Legacies of the Civil Rights Movement. Examines the politics and legacies of the movement that destroyed the social system known as "Jim Crow" and removed barriers to political participation by African Americans.

4335. Constitutional Law. Examines the scope of constitutional power in the American governmental system, questions of separation of powers between the branches of the national government, and the federal relationship between the national government and state governments.

4336. Civil Liberties: First Amendment and Privacy. Examines the place and treatment of expression, religion and personal autonomy in the American Constitution and in the cases in which the Supreme Court has defined and applied the Constitution.

4337. Civil Rights. Examines changes wrought in the American system of governance by the addition of the Fourteenth Amendment, particularly its Equal Protection Clause, and the ways the Supreme Court has interpreted and applied it over time. Topics include racial discrimination, sex discrimination and equality in the political process.

4338. Criminal Process Rights. Examines the application of the principles of “ordered liberty” and the Bill of Rights to criminal process disputes. The course’s concerns extend through initial police investigation, trial preparation, trial and jury concerns, and the post-trial determination of punishment.

4339. Women and the Law. The status of women in the American legal system, including an assessment of women defined as a legal category and the impact of increasing numbers of women lawyers, judges and criminals.

Comparative Politics

1340. Introduction to Comparative Politics. Analyzes and contrasts different patterns of national political development in Western, Marxist-Leninist and Third World countries. Examines political dilemmas confronting each type of system.

3340. Western European Politics. The political development of Britain, France, Germany and Italy. Topics include the emergence of parliament and parties, democratic breakdown and the rise of Fascism, modern parties and interest groups, state economic planning, corporatism, and extraparliamentary oppositions.

3341. Politics of Participation and Representation in Western Democracies. Focuses on the numerous avenues through which citizens influence politics and policy making in advanced industrial democracies. Considers the implications of formal institutional structures, such as electoral and party systems, the impact of organized groups, as well as more informal forms of participation, such as protest movements and citizen initiatives.

3342 (CF 3388). Making Democracy Work. Aims to answer the fundamental question of why democracy thrives in some nations while it struggles in others, and in many more it has not yet taken root.

3345. Governments and Politics of the Middle East. A survey of modern Middle East governments and politics. Topics include the historical, ideological, and economic and social influences on their domestic and foreign policies, analysis of emerging political forms, and modernization problems.

3347. Governments and Politics of Africa. The politics of Black Africa in an international context, emphasizing the problems of race, nationalism and economic development.

3348. Governments and Politics of Latin America. The structure, functions and operations of governments in Latin American countries with emphasis on political practices and institutions.

3349. Politics of Major Latin American Countries. An introduction to the problems of political development in some of the major countries of Latin America: Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Mexico.

3352. Chinese Politics. Chinese contributions to Marxist-Leninist theory and analysis of Chinese institutions and policy making, with emphasis on recent political developments.

3355. The Political Economy of the Welfare State. Focuses on the origins, evolution and management of industrial democracy in Europe and America. Emphasizes the interconnections between political and economic challenges inherent in policy making, and the economic implications of public policy.

3358. Government and Politics of Russia. Examines attempts to reform the former Soviet Union since 1985. Analyzes, in particular, the social and political processes behind the demise of the Soviet system. Emphasis is placed on sources for support of, as well as obstacles to, political, economic and social reform in post-communist Russia.

3359 (CFA 3359). From Communism to Democracy. The rise and fall of communist regimes and the transition to democracy in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union, emphasizing social, economic and political influences affecting divergent paths to democracy.

4340. Special Studies in Comparative Government and Politics.

4341 (CFA 3304). Comparative Rights and Representation. Examines the tension that exists between rights and democratic representation. Explores judicial social-policy making, individual versus collective rights, aboriginal rights and affirmative action.

4342. Why Nations Revolt. Provides an introduction to revolutions by surveying the major theories that have been developed to explain the occurrence of revolutions. Various revolutions will be examined as case studies, including the French, Russian, Nazi and Chinese revolutions. In addition, at least one peasant revolution in the Third World will be covered.

4348. Seminar: Comparative Government and Politics. An overview of the central questions in the study of comparative government and politics.

4353. Governments and Politics of East Asia. Analysis of various aspects of social change and modernization and their effects on mass and elite political behavior and political processes in selected countries of East Asia.

4354. The Third World and North-South Relations. An inquiry into problems and theories of the political economy of development and dependency in the Third World countries.

4355 (CFA 3355). Comparative Political Economy of Industrialized Democracies. Examines the nature and workings of the political economies of industrialized democracies of North America, Europe and the Pacific in comparative perspective. Recommended: Prior completion of one introductory political science and/or economics course.

4356. Latin American Political Economy. Focuses on the challenges facing public policy in the Latin American region and how to interpret that region's politics and economic frustrations. Attentive to the basic rules of the Latin American political game and the lack of agreement on them.

4358. Soviet Politics: Revolution to Revolution. A survey of Soviet political history from 1917–1991. Special attention is devoted to the way in which each Soviet leader attempted to change the political and economic system.

Political Theory

1360. Introduction to Political Theory. An introduction to political theory through an examination of classical and modern approaches to the study of politics. Addresses questions concerning how we get knowledge about politics and what we do with that knowledge.

3360. Foundations of Political Thought. Main currents of political thought in their historical settings from Plato to the 17th century, with a critical evaluation of those elements of continuing worth.

3362. Twentieth-Century Political Thought. Analysis of the political implications of selected responses to the problems of modern mass society.

3363. American Political Thought. A historical and analytical survey of the thinkers, actors and main currents of American political thought from the founding of the first European colonies to the present day.

3365. Communism and Post-Communism. Theoretical foundations of communism and its variant forms in practice, explanations for the collapse of Eastern European communist systems, and possible futures of communism.

3370. Women and Politics. An analysis and critique of women's role in politics, theories on women's status and power, political activities, ideologies, and programs of feminists, past and present.

4360. Special Studies in Political Theory.

4361. Political Regimes: Understandings of Rome. Focuses on the various understandings of “Rome” as developed in the writings of Plutarch, St. Augustine and Machiavelli. Addresses three fundamentally different conceptions of the regime – beginning with the Roman Empire, considering the effects of the Christian order, and addressing the new modes and orders introduced by Machiavelli.

4362. Medieval Political Philosophy. Introduces students to the tradition of political philosophy represented by various thinkers of the medieval period. Through an analysis of Islamic, Jewish and Christian authors, students attempt to come to an understanding of the fundamental issues at stake in their works. The course also examines closely the alternative solutions proposed for solving what has been termed the “theological-political problem.”

4363. Religion and Politics. Analysis of the relationship between religious faith and civil government in the Western tradition. Focuses on thinkers and controversies from the late Roman Empire to contemporary United States.

4369. Republicanism and the Good Society. Our understanding of liberal democracies owes a great deal to republican thought. This course seeks to examine the intellectual history of republicanism, its uneasy alliance with liberalism, and its various contemporary manifestations – particularly in the United States and Canada.

4371. Jurisprudence. An introduction to alternative ways of viewing the sources, functions and uses of law. Attention is given to various understandings of the concepts of justice and rights.

4376. Research Design and Data Analysis in Political Science. Focuses on the “art” and “science” of designing and conducting empirical research in political science. The topics covered include research design, measurement, data analysis and hypothesis testing.

International Relations

1380. Introduction to International Relations. A basic survey of the elements of international relations, including the nation-state system, international organizations, international law, diplomacy, foreign policy and various nonstate actors such as multinational corporations.

3351. Russia Under Putin. A study of contemporary Russia. The goal is to prepare a multifaceted assessment of the superpower that is and was Russia. How will it develop, politically, economically and militarily? The course is part of the SMU-in-Copenhagen program.

3381 (CFA 3381). Current Issues in International Politics. An interdisciplinary survey of contemporary issues and challenges in the international arena. The student will research and propose solutions taking into account the multidimensional aspects of these international challenges.

3382. International Organizations: Global and Regional. A study of the United Nations and other international agencies in their attempts to deal with the great international political problems of our times.

3383. The American Foreign Policy Process. A survey of the contemporary content and the conduct of American foreign policy.

3387 (CF 3303). Political Geography. An examination of topics in international political rivalries within the nation-state system. Major emphasis will be given to the adaptations within that system since 1850 for spatial distributions of physical terrain, populations, economic resources and activities, and political and social divisions.

3389 (CF 3389). International Political Economy. Introduces students to the study of international political economy. The expansion of trade and foreign direct investment and the increase in international migration are indicators of a new interdependence and globalization. How do nation-states respond to globalization and manage international economic relations?

3390. Negotiating International Trade. Examines the means by which countries negotiate international trade. In part, the course is theoretical, examining standard theories of trade.

In part it is empirical, with hemispheric trade as the substantive focus. Finally, in part the course is practical. Students are engaged in a computer-based simulation exercise with students from other universities.

4380. Special Studies in International Relations.

4381. National Security Policy. The historical background and development of national security policy in the United States. Emphasizes war powers and defense policy; the constitutional framework, precedents and presidential-congressional authority; and Cold War and post-Cold War national security strategies and defense policy issues.

4382. The Politics of Military Force. An examination of uses of U.S. military force as a political instrument and an attempt to judge its effectiveness as a tool of American foreign policy since the end of World War II.

4385. Inter-American Relations. A survey of the diplomatic and commercial relations between the United States and the republics of the Western hemisphere with particular attention to involvement in the Caribbean area.

4386. Issues of U.S.-East Asia Relations. Analysis of politics of trade imbalance, regional collective security, technology transfer, and other problems of bilateral and multilateral relations between the United States and East Asian countries.

4388. Seminar: International Government and Politics. An overview of the central questions in the study of international government and politics.

4391. NAFTA and Free Trade in the Americas. Exploration of the domestic politics of the three NAFTA countries leading to the North American Free Trade Agreement, the effects of the agreement, and possibilities for expanding free trade in the Americas.

4398. Nuclear Weapons and World Politics. Focuses on the nuclear rivalry between the U.S. and the USSR, and on how this rivalry has transformed the nature and conduct of world politics. Emphasis is placed on theoretical and analytical perspectives, including deterrence theory, bargaining and game theory. Attention is also given to the implications stemming from both the vertical and horizontal proliferation of nuclear weapons.

Special Undergraduate Offerings

Opportunities for independent study and research are available to majors in political science. Students must have departmental approval prior to registering for these courses. Prerequisites are stated for each independent-study course below. Such courses may not be counted toward departmental distribution requirements, and no more than two such courses may be counted toward overall major or minor requirements.

4102, 4202, 4302. Directed Readings. Students develop and execute independent reading or research projects under the guidance of a departmental faculty member, culminating in a written report. Prerequisites: Written approval of the instructor and the department chair, or a designate; at least sophomore standing; and appropriate introductory and advanced course preparation.

4301, 4401, 4402, 4403, 4404. Washington Term. Intensive study of national political institutions. Includes a four-hour research project (4401), a four-hour internship (4402), and an 8-hour seminar (4403 and 4404). Prerequisites: Two courses in political science, at least one at the upper level, that are relevant to the selected program. Available for political science, public policy or international studies majors or minors.

4304. Departmental Seminar: Scope and Methods of Political Science. An overview of the enterprise of political science. It canvasses the areas of interest to the discipline, the questions political scientists pursue, and the ways scholars have addressed these questions.

4306. Internship in Political Science. Undergraduate students who arrange for part- or full-time jobs in government, political parties, interest groups or other organizations relate these experiences to their academic curriculum through research and writing, under the guidance of a departmental faculty member. Prerequisites: Written approval of the instructor and the department chair, or a designate; at least sophomore standing; and appropriate introductory and advanced preparation.

4343. Nationalities and Minorities in Europe. A study of minority issues in Europe. The Balkans, the Baltics, the Basques: why are they fighting? In modern Europe, minority issues are constantly debated and acted upon, both by majorities and minorities. The course is part of the SMU-in-Copenhagen program.

4363 (CFA 3363). Religion and Politics in the Western Tradition. Analysis of the relationship between religious faith and civil government in the Western tradition. Focuses on thinkers and controversies from the late Roman Empire to contemporary United States.

5341. European Politics: The European Union. Europe is in a period of transformation, emerging as a major player on the world scene, while internally developing a novel balance between unification of countries and the rise of local identities. What are the forces that shape the new Europe? How does European policy materialize and who makes the decisions? The course is part of the SMU-in-Copenhagen program.

5383. Seminar on Regional Conflicts. A study of the problems of European security, with a particular emphasis on the issues confronting populations and policy makers after the Cold War, on the search for a new European security order, and on the emergence of new threats to security. The course is part of the SMU-in-Copenhagen program.

Requirements for the Minor in Psychology (18 hours)

PSYC 1300 must be successfully completed before declaring a psychology minor. Nine hours of the 18 hours needed for the minor must be at the 3000 level or above. The minor requires three PSYC courses chosen from the following: PSYC 2301, 2314, 2319, 2351, 3310, 3360, 4320, 3370.

The student must also complete two elective courses in psychology (six hours) at the 3000 level or higher. Practicum, individual research and independent study courses (PSYC 3099, 3199, 3299, 3399, 4395) may be taken only on a pass/fail basis. Such courses will not count toward the minor.

The Courses (PSYC)

1300. Introduction to Psychology. Broad introduction to psychology as a behavioral science, with special emphasis on cognition, development, learning, social interaction, personality, and physiological and clinical psychology (psychopathology and psychotherapy).

2301. Research Methods in Psychology. Design and evaluation of psychological research with emphasis on scientific method, data collection, experimentation, control procedures, validity, reliability and report-writing skills. This is a challenging and rigorous class in research; required for psychology majors. Prerequisite: PSYC 1300.

2314. Developmental Psychology. A survey of the processes and variables that influence the development of the fetus, infant, child and adolescent. Emphasis is on theories and research in such areas as perceptual, cognitive, language, social/emotional and moral development.

2319. Social Psychology. Addresses the question of how individuals' thoughts, feelings and behaviors are influenced by their social environment; includes topics such as attitude change, conformity, attraction, aggression and small-group behavior.

2351. Abnormal Psychology. A study of the theories, causes, assessment, and treatment of abnormal behavior, including depression, anxiety, psychosis, personality disorders and other forms of psychopathology in adults. There is an examination of the continuum of normal and abnormal behavior with consideration of historical and cultural perspectives, ethical concerns and research methodologies in understanding psychological disorders. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300 and three additional psychology course hours; or instructor approval.

3099, 3199, 3299, 3399. Research Training. Supervised research experience in faculty research projects in labs, clinics or field settings. May involve library research, participant recruitment, data collection, data input and analysis. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300, 2301. Instructor consent required.

3310. Memory and Cognition. A survey of how information is encoded, stored and retrieved in adults. Topics may include attentional processes, perception, verbal learning and memory. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300 and three additional course hours, or instructor approval.

3335. Psychology of the Family. A basic introduction to understanding the family. Topics include coupling and dating, parenting of young and older children, and progression to older age. Other topics include understanding competent family functioning, dealing with health and illness, and family counseling. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300 and three additional psychology course hours, or instructor approval.

3360. Health Psychology. A basic introduction to the subject. Topics include causes and correlates of health, illness, and dysfunction, as well as the interplay of emotions, cognitions, and behavioral/physical factors. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300 and three additional course hours, or instructor approval.

3364. Forensic Psychology. Examination of the interface between psychology and the legal system, focusing in particular on the role of mental health experts in criminal trials and civil disputes. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300 and three additional psychology course hours, or instructor approval.

3365. Organizational Psychology. Psychological principles applied to organizations, both business and volunteer, emphasizing a systems approach and including personnel selection, leadership, motivation, communication, group dynamics, and an overview of organizational developments. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300 and three additional psychology course hours, or instructor approval.

3370. Personality. An examination of theories that address the underlying bases of personality and the causes of individual differences. Emphasis is placed on the normal personality, but the causes of abnormal personality development are also considered. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300 and three additional psychology course hours, or instructor approval.

3371. Psychology of Women. This course focuses on understanding women as individuals. Personality theories will be considered as they relate particularly to women. Modern women's options and conflicts, motives and values, and their perceptions of their individuality in the face of rapid social change will be examined. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300 and three additional psychology course hours, or instructor approval.

4320. Biological Psychology. An advanced overview of the topic. Classes focus on understanding perception, consciousness and sleep, motor behavior emotion, and learning with evidence from biological and medical fields. Students will learn basic anatomy, physiology and research methods. Applications to research and treatment will be addressed. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300, 2301 and three additional psychology course hours, or instructor approval.

4321. Behavioral Action of Drugs. Principles of drugs and behavior. Classification and chemical effects of behaviorally active drugs. Influences of environmental, response and task variables, as well as evaluation and treatment of addiction will be addressed. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300, 2301 and three additional psychology course hours, or instructor approval.

4325. Psychology of Emotions. An advanced introduction to the topic, with a focus on theory as well as psychological and psychobiological research on humans and animals. Central topics to be considered are the role that cognitions, culture, language, and nervous system play in determining emotions. Classes include group projects and demonstrations. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300, 2301 and three additional psychology course hours, or instructor approval.

4333. Domestic Violence and Children. Overview of research and theory on domestic violence and its effects on children. Applied component involves working with children in a domestic violence shelter and on research projects involving at-risk children and adolescents. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300, 2301 and three additional psychology course hours, and instructor approval.

4334. Psychological Disorders of Children. Theories, causes, assessment, and treatment of abnormal behavior from infancy through adolescence. Topics include behavioral and emotional disorders, as well as developmental and learning problems. Historical and cultural perspectives, ethics, and research methods are also addressed. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300, 2301 and three additional psychology course hours, or instructor approval.

4339. Psychology of Aging. An exploration of the biological, psychological and sociocultural influences on adult development and aging. Difficulties specific to older adults such as elder abuse and neurodegenerative diseases are also covered. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300, 2301 and three additional psychology course hours, or instructor approval.

4341. Social Cognition. Surveys social perception and cognition, including person perception, nonverbal communication, emotional expression, accuracy and stereotyping. Ecological, evolutionary and cognitive theoretical approaches are considered. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300, 2301, 2319, or instructor approval.

4342. Close Relationships. Course covers research and theory in the psychology of close relationships, including different theoretical perspectives; emphasis on attraction, relationship development and maintenance, communication, conflict resolution, and dissolution. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300, 2301 and three additional psychology course hours, or instructor approval.

4352. Introduction to Clinical Psychology. A survey of the important issues and subfields of clinical psychology from the viewpoint of the scientist-practitioner model. Research, assessment, diagnosis and theories in the area of psychotherapy are covered. Intended for students contemplating graduate school in clinical psychology or related fields. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300, 2301 and three additional psychology course hours, or instructor approval.

4363. Conflict Resolution. This class covers research and theory in the psychology of interpersonal conflict, and mechanisms for resolving, managing or avoiding conflict. Emphasized domains are alternative dispute resolution, close relationships, the workplace and international conflict. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300, 2301, 2319, or instructor approval.

4381. Special Topics. Designed to cover topics that may have temporary or limited interest. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300, 2301 and three additional psychology course hours, or instructor approval.

4395. Practicum/Internship. An intensive study of interpersonal helping relationships based upon psychological theories and research findings. The emphasis will be upon supervised personal involvement with others. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300, 2301. Instructor consent required

5381. Special Topics. Designed to cover topics that may have temporary or limited interest. Prerequisites: PSYC 1300, 2301 and three additional psychology course hours, or instructor approval.

PUBLIC POLICY

smu.edu/dedman/majors/publicpolicy

Professor Dennis Ippolito (Political Science), Director

The public policy major is an interdisciplinary program in economics and political science. The B.A. degree in public policy is designed to provide students with the analytical skills and historical context to understand and deal with contemporary policy issues. The major in public policy is useful as preparation for work in government and business and as preparation for postgraduate study in law, public policy and the social sciences.

Major Requirements. The B.A. degree in public policy requires a total of 39 hours. The degree consists of two components:

1. A total of 24 hours of core courses:

ECO 1311, 1312 and 3301

MATH 1309 or 1337

PLSC 1320, and PLSC 1340 or 1380

PLSC 3320

STAT 2301, 2331 or 4340

2. At least 15 hours of advanced courses selected from the fields below, with no fewer than 6 hours in economics and 6 hours in political science or public policy.

To meet the advanced course requirements, students must take at least six hours in each of any two of the fields of political economy, law and social policy, and international politics and policy, as well as three hours from the quantitative methods field.

Note of Importance. Students must receive at least a C- in all classes counting toward the major.

RELIGIOUS STUDIES

Professor Mark Chancey, Department Chair

Professors: Mark Chancey, Charles Curran, Carl Johan Elverskog, Robin Lovin. Associate Professors: William Barnard, Richard Cogley, Serge Frolov, John Lamoreaux. Assistant Professors: Jill DeTemple, Steven Lindquist.

Degree Program. The B.A. degree in religious studies is appropriate for a general liberal arts education and for pre-professional training leading to graduate degrees in religious studies, theology or other areas of the humanities.

Departmental courses are offered in four areas: philosophical studies of religious ideas and values, historical studies of religious movements and institutions, scientific studies of religious beliefs and behavior, and textual studies of religious traditions and scriptures. A well-balanced program of undergraduate study includes courses from each of these four areas. Students planning to undertake graduate studies are strongly encouraged to take the major with departmental distinction and to complete twelve term hours in either French or German.

Major Requirements. Thirty term hours in the department. Twenty-four must be completed in courses numbered above 3000 and must include RELI 3306 or 3307 and RELI 3319 or 3326.

Departmental Distinction. A student majoring in religious studies with a minimum overall GPA of 3.0 and a 3.5 GPA in the major by the middle of the junior year may apply for the degree with departmental distinction. Candidates for distinction must enroll in a directed research tutorial in the fall term of their senior year followed by an independent studies course in the spring term for which they will write a senior thesis. Only the directed research tutorial may be used to fulfill the 30-term-hour requirement for the major.

Minor Requirements. Students majoring in other departments or schools may obtain a minor in religious studies by completing 15 term hours in the department. Nine hours must be completed in courses numbered above 3000 and must include one course chosen from RELI 3306, 3307, 3319 or 3326.

The Courses (RELI)

1301. Ways of Being Religious. A comparative study of the beliefs and practices of a wide variety of religious traditions. Special attention to such perennial themes as God, salvation, evil, morality and death.

1303. Introduction to Eastern Religions. An introductory historical overview of the major religious traditions of Asia. The course will explore developments in religious and cultural trends expressed in South Asia (Hinduism, Buddhism, Jainism and Sikhism) and in East Asia (Confucianism, Taoism and Shintoism).

1304. Introduction to Western Religions. A historical introduction to Judaism, Christianity and Islam. Topics include Moses and ancient Israelite religion; Jesus and early Christianity; rabbinic Judaism; Muhammad and classical Islam; the birth of Protestantism; and Jewish, Christian and Islamic modernism.

1305. Introduction to Primal Religions. An introduction to the religious world views and ritual life of such primal cultures as Australian Aborigines, African tribal peoples and native North and South Americans, as well as the significance of the resurgence of neo-paganism in the West.

1311. Judaism, Christianity and the Bible. An exploration of the common and distinctive elements in Judaism and Christianity; a study of the historical relationships between Jews and Christians.

3302 (PHIL 3302). Problems in the Philosophy of Religion. The philosophy of religion, considering such problems as religious experience, human freedom, good and evil, belief in God and immortality.

3304. Introduction to Christian Theology. An exploration of such theological problems as the authority of the Bible, the reality of God, the meaning of Christ, the nature of humanity and the end of history in light of the biblical heritage and contemporary thought.

3305 (CF 3331). Religion as Story. An interpretation of stories as modes of religious discernment as well as means of religious communication, with special attention to selected narrative forms such as myth, fairy tale, novel and autobiography.

3306. Introduction to the Hindu Tradition. An exploration of the major attitudes and institutions that define the Hindu tradition, with attention to ideology, social organization and ritual in light of both historical development and contemporary practice.

3307. Introduction to Buddhism. Communal rituals, practice, ethics, and political involvement of the Buddhist community (sangha) as it has taken form in five cultural areas: India, South Asia, Tibet, East Asia and America.

3308. Christian Ethics and Moral Issues. An examination of the relationship between moral reasoning and Christian belief. An analysis of various Roman Catholic and Protestant theories of religious ethics and of specific questions of personal conduct and social policy.

3309 (CF 3361). Bioethics From a Christian Perspective. This course will examine bioethics from a Christian ethical perspective with special attention to different methodological approaches to the significant themes and realities involved (e.g., life, health, suffering, death), and to the most important issues faced today.

3310 (SOCI 3320). The Social-Scientific Study of Religion. An introduction to scientific ways of thinking about the social, cultural and psychological aspects of religious life. Attention is given to major thinkers and theories dealing with religion in the disciplines of anthropology, psychology, sociology and the social-scientific study of religion.

3314. Studies in Comparative Religion. An examination of a particular topic or theme as expressed in a variety of religious traditions, Eastern and Western, ancient and modern. Topics will vary from term to term.

3315. Religion in Politics. An examination of the impact of religious belief and ethical thought, as well as social, cultural and psychological factors, on the involvement of religious people in the political sphere. The course introduces the social-scientific study of religion to aid in the analysis of current and recent case studies, ranging from the conservatism of the "far right" to the revolution of the "left," and involving Christian, Jewish, Muslim, Hindu and Buddhist traditions.

3316 (CFA 3306). Religion and Science. An exploration of how religion and science understand such topics as the origins and destiny of the universe and the evolution of life.

3317 (CF 3357). Human Meaning and Value in Personal Life. An exploration of the two positive marks of a productive life – love and work – and the two threats to an abundant life – suffering and death.

3318 (CF 3316). The Hero in the Bible and the Ancient Near East. An examination of concepts of the hero in the literatures of ancient Mesopotamia, Canaan and Israel, with special attention to the nature of traditional narrative and to the relationship between the hero, society and the self.

3319. Introduction to the Hebrew Bible. An introduction to the Old Testament and to the religion and history of ancient Israel. Special emphasis will be given to the ancient Near Eastern roots of biblical religion and to the modern interpretation of biblical myth, epic and prophecy.

3320. Introduction to Classical Judaism. An introduction to the study of religion through examination of Judaism. The course will look at central Jewish religious ideas and how they developed within the rabbinic and medieval periods. Special attention will be given to conflicts and controversies, such as Judaism's rejection of early Christianity, heretical movements within medieval Judaism and Jewish attitudes toward other religions.

3321 (CF 3332). Religion and the Holocaust. A study of responses to the Holocaust by Jews and Christians. The course will begin with an overview of the history of the Holocaust as it affected the Jewish communities of Central and Eastern Europe. Students will then read personal memoirs of survivors of ghettos, concentration camps and Nazi Germany. Post-war responses will include questions of faith after the Holocaust, Christian responsibility for modern anti-Semitism, the impact of the Holocaust on the creation of the State of Israel and Middle East politics today, and post-war relations between Jews and Germans.

3324. The Jewish Experience in America. An examination of Jewish life in America, including history, literature, cultural expressions and religious beliefs from the 17th century to the present.

3326. Introduction to the New Testament. An introduction to the writings of the New Testament, the formative events, and the persons who played leading roles in the origin of Christianity.

3329. Introduction to Islam. An examination of the history, doctrines and rituals of the Muslim community, including Islam in both the past and the present and in its global context.

3331. Renewal of Roman Catholicism at the Second Vatican Council. The main section of the course will concentrate on a study of the more significant documents of the Second Vatican Council (1962–1965). An introductory part will consider the background prior to the Second Vatican Council and the changes that helped bring it about. A concluding part will deal with the more significant developments in Roman Catholicism in the last 30 years.

3333. Religion in America. A consideration of the history of religion in America from the colonial period to the present. Special emphasis on either selected religious groups, movements or thinkers.

3334. Conservatism and Liberalism in American Christianity. An examination of the fundamentalist, evangelical and liberal understandings of Christianity, with attention to the issues at stake, and the problems and possibilities of dialogue.

3335. Religious Sects and Cults in America. An examination of new religious movements that have originated in America (such as Mormonism, Seventh-Day Adventism, Scientology, Christian Science and the Nation of Islam) or have been transplanted here from abroad (e.g., Hasidic Judaism, Theosophy, the Unification Church, the Hare Krishna movement and Baha'i).

3336. African-American Religious History. An examination of the major movements, figures and critical issues in African-American religious history. The focus is on the United States, although West African, Caribbean and South American materials are included. Special attention is given to slave religion, the civil rights movement and black criticism of Christianity.

3337 (CF 3356). Christianity and American Public Life. Course objectives are 1) to acquaint students with some recent criticisms of the dangers of individualism permeating American understanding and life, 2) to propose the communitarian dimensions of human existence from the Christian perspective and 3) to help students enter more critically into the dialogue about the role of religion in pluralistic contemporary American society.

3338 (CFA 3338). Christ as a Cultural Hero. An exploration of the impact of Jesus on the history of Western culture, not only in religion and philosophy, but also in the fine arts, literature and politics.

3339 (CFA 3339). The Puritan Tradition in England and America. An examination of the religious, political, scientific, economic and literary dimensions of the Puritan movement in Tudor-Stuart England and in colonial America.

3340. Religious Experience. An examination of the varieties of religious experience from traditional forms of mystical and ecstatic experience, to nontraditional forms of altered states of consciousness. Attention is given to social, cultural, ethical, psychological and existential dimensions of religious experience approached from a cross-cultural perspective.

3349. Early Christianity. Major developments in the history of Christianity from 100–600. Emphasis is placed on institutional and ideological developments.

3350. History of Biblical Interpretation. A survey of the interpretive approaches to the Bible in Jewish and Christian traditions from ancient times to the modern era. Topics will include interpretation in the biblical period, rabbinic and early Christian exegesis, mystical interpretation, and modern historical scholarship. The social context and the aims of interpretation will be key concerns of the course.

3352 (CF 3346). Love and Death in Ancient Mythology. An exploration of love and death in the mythologies of Mesopotamia, Egypt, Canaan, Greece and India. The interaction of these twin themes will be pursued as a key to the religious and philosophical perspectives of these ancient peoples. The significance of ancient mythology for modern reflection will be a central concern throughout the course.

3353 (CFB 3353). Borderlands: Latino/Latina Religions in the United States. An introduction to Latino/Latina religions and religious practices in the United States, with a special emphasis on social constructions of the “borderland.”

3358 (CFA 3322). The Psychology of Religion. An investigation of the biological and psychological underpinnings of religious belief, behavior and experience, as well as the psychological and biological consequences of religion.

3359. Nordic Mythology. The religion and worldview of the pre-Christian Scandinavians is reflected in the mythology preserved in medieval texts and poems from the Viking age (800–1050). The course is based on readings of these primary texts. The Icelandic sagas further provide a glimpse into the culture and values of the Vikings. (SMU-in-Copenhagen)

3360. The History of Judaism. An overview of both the historical development of the Jewish tradition and its central laws, religious practices and theology.

3362. Islam and the West. A study of past and present encounters between Islam and the West, with special attention to the bearing of the contemporary Islamic resurgence upon encounters today.

3364. Native American Religions. An investigation of the mythologies of North America, centering on Southwestern and Northern Plains cultures. Native texts will be approached by way of modern theories of the interpretation of myth, ritual and religion. Topics include creation myths, culture heroes, trickster tales, sacred music and dance, and rites of healing and passage.

3365 (CF 3339). Understanding the Self: East and West. An examination of several basic notions pertaining to selfhood, including consciousness, cognition, motivation, personal identity and decision, as found in Eastern and Western sources.

3366 (ANTH 3366). Magic, Myth and Religion Across Cultures. A cross-cultural and comparative exploration of religion, ritual, magic and supernatural belief systems among peoples of the world. Examines how religion permeates other aspects of society and culture.

3367. The Religious Life of China and Japan. An introduction to the history, thought and religious practices of Taoism, Confucianism, Shintoism and Mahayana Buddhism.

3368 (CF 3368). Wholeness and Holiness: Religion and Healing Across Cultures. An exploration of various understandings of the relationship between religion and healing. Analysis of the interface between medical and religious models of health through a wide range of ethnographic examples and theoretical perspectives. Special attention is also given to different religious healing modalities.

3371 (CFA 3307). The World of the New Testament. Investigates the intersections of political history, social history, philosophical thought, and religious belief and practice, with particular attention to Judaism and Christianity in their Greco-Roman context.

3372. Biblical Interpretation and the State of Israel. An examination of the ways in which the Bible has been interpreted both in support of and in opposition to the modern state of Israel.

3374. Female and Male in Religion and Culture. How does the study of gender differences affect our understanding of history, religion and culture? This course will take a critical look at current discussions in the field of women's studies and their impact on contemporary thought.

3375 (CF 3343). Wives, Mothers, Lovers, Queens: Expressions of the Feminine Divine in World Religions and Cultures. A historical and cross-cultural overview of the relationship between feminine and religious cultural expressions through comparative examinations and analyses of various goddess figures in world religions.

3376 (CF 3344). Constructions of Gender, Sexuality and the Family in South Asian Religions. A comprehensive historical overview of gender issues as they are represented in the great textual traditions of South Asia. To make these classical texts more relevant, readings in recent anthropological studies of religion will also be included to enable the student to trace recurring gender themes, images and symbols.

3377 (CF 3399). The Cultural History of Tibet. A critical study of Tibetan history, culture and religion and how these aspects relate to the representation of Tibet in travel, scholarly and popular literature.

3380. Women and Religion in America. A historical introduction to the role of women in American religious history with special attention to the interplay between women and wider religion and cultural values.

3382. Mysticism, East and West. An inquiry into mysticism as a path for attaining individual religious fulfillment. Attention to such mystic traditions as Zen, Tantra, Yoga, Sufism, Kabbalah and Christian mysticism.

3384 (CFB 3384). Hinduism and Colonial Encounters. A critical study of the history of colonialism in India and its impact on social, religious and political discourse.

3385. Philosophies of India. An examination of some of the major traditions of Indian systematic philosophy. Attention to the analysis of consciousness, perception, language and the problems of validation.

3386. Myths, Epics and Tales From Ancient India. This course examines religious narratives from ancient India. Students will read and analyze many examples across different genres (myth, epic, folktale) in text and performance, focusing on literary and historical context and interpretation.

4298, 4299. Independent Study.

4352. Jesus and the Gospels. An examination of canonical and noncanonical Christian Gospels, with special attention to methods of gospel research and to the study of the historical Jesus.

4354. The Prophets of the Old Testament. An introduction to the writings and religious concepts of the prophets of ancient Israel. Special emphasis will be given to the roots of prophecy in ancient Near Eastern religions, the social role of the Israelite prophet, and comparisons with seers and shamans of modern religious traditions.

4356. The Bible and Ethics. An examination of the ways in which Christians have appealed to scripture in ethical debates, with special attention to classic ethical approaches, specific ethical issues and methodological problems.

4371. Pauline Christianity. A study of Paul and Pauline Christianity, drawing on Paul's letters, the Acts of the Apostles and other documents of the New Testament.

4381. Internship in Religious Studies. Enables students to gain vocational experience by working in nonsectarian religious organizations and institutions, such as social justice agencies, ecumenical associations and charitable or educational foundations.

4388, 4389. Special Topics in Religious Studies. A detailed investigation of a topic chosen by the instructor. Topics vary.

4396, 4397. Directed Reading and Research. Special topics to be selected by the student in consultation with the department. Open to seniors upon departmental approval.

4398, 4399. Independent Study.

SOCIOLOGY

www.smu.edu/sociology

Professor Linda Brewster Stearns, Chair

Professors: Anthony Cortese, Linda Brewster Stearns. Associate Professor: Richard Hawkins. Assistant Professors: Dalia Abdel-Hady, Matthew R. Keller, Sheri Locklear Kunovich, Anne E. Lincoln. Lecturers: Debra Branch, J. Michael Cruz, Adrian Tan. Adjunct Lecturer: Karen de Olivares.

The sociology curriculum includes courses on research design, data analysis, social theory, and conceptualization of domestic and international organizational and social problems. In today's information society, these skills give sociology majors a competitive advantage in the fields of social research, criminology, demography, public administration, policy analysis, gerontology, education, social work and market research.

Sociology majors entering the business world often work in marketing research, human resources, management, industrial relations, public relations or sales. Sociology majors entering human services often work with youths at risk, the elderly or people experiencing problems related to poverty or substance abuse. Sociology majors entering the government sector often work in policy analysis, program evaluation or urban planning.

Requirements for the B.A. Degree. This major requires a minimum of 33 term hours, 18 of which must be at the advanced level. The four required courses include SOCI 2300 or 2310, SOCI 3311 and 3312, and SOCI 4313 or 4314. Of the remaining 21 credit hours, six hours must be at the 4000 level. Students should take SOCI 2300 or 2310 and SOCI 3311 or 3312 before taking a 4000-level course. STAT 1301 or 2331 can be counted as one of the 11 courses needed for the sociology major. Twelve term hours of foreign language are recommended.

Requirements for the B.S. Degree. The B.S. degree is a more specialized program than the B.A. degree. It provides a sound foundation for graduate study in sociology or law. The major requires 36 term hours, 18 of which must be at the advanced level. The five required courses include SOCI 2300 or 2310, and SOCI 3311, 3312, 4313, 4314. Of the remaining 21 credit hours, nine hours must be at the 4000 level. Students should take SOCI 2300 or 2310 and SOCI 3311 or 3312 before taking a 4000-level course. STAT 1301 or 2331 may be counted as one of the courses within the sociology major. Twelve term hours of foreign language are recommended.

The Department Distinction Program. Students wishing to work for distinction in sociology should consult the director of Undergraduate Studies as soon as possible in the junior year. Students will be expected to engage in original research (based on a topic covered in a 3000- or 4000-level course) and write a journal-length article under the supervision of a faculty member while enrolled in SOCI 4396. At the end of the term, the supervising faculty will make a recommendation to departmental faculty regarding distinction. The department committee will then evaluate the merits of the paper and determine if distinction will be awarded. Either a B.A. or B.S. student can attempt distinction in sociology.

Requirements for Minor in Sociology. Students majoring in other departments may obtain a minor in sociology by completing SOCI 2300 or 2310; one of the following: SOCI 3311, 3312, 4313 or 4314; one additional course at the 4000 level; and two courses at the 3000 level or above, for a total of 15 hours.

The Courses (SOCI)

2300. Social Problems. Selected problems of modern urban life analyzed with an emphasis on American values, the nature of community, and the manifest and latent functions of proposed solutions to social problems.

2310. Introduction to Sociology. The perspective and basic content of sociology, emphasizing the ways in which values and other beliefs influence social behavior.

2377. Markets and Culture. A general introduction to economic sociology, examining the effects of culture and social relations on shaping production, distribution and consumption in domestic and global markets.

3301 (ANTH 3301, CFB 3301). Health, Healing and Ethics: Cross-Cultural Perspectives on Sickness and Society. A cross-cultural exploration of cultures and organization of medical systems, economic development and the global exploration of biomedicine, and ethical dilemmas associated with medical technologies and global disparities in health. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3305 (CFA 3310, ETST 2301). Race and Ethnicity in the United States. An interdisciplinary seminar designed to introduce students to the analysis of race and ethnicity in the United States within a global context. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3311. Qualitative Research Methods. Course provides an overview of commonly used methodologies in sociology, with a focus on qualitative methods. Topics include the relationship between theory and qualitative methods, an inductive versus deductive approach, data collection, data analysis and presentation of findings. Prerequisite: SOCI 2300 or 2310.

3312. Survey Research Methods and Data Analysis. Course provides an overview of social survey design and collection of quantitative survey data. Topics include questionnaire design, field implementation, statistical analysis of data and presentation of findings. Lab sessions will investigate sociological data sets. Prerequisite: SOCI 2300 or 2310.

3320 (RELI 3310). The Social-Scientific Study of Religion. An introduction to scientific ways of thinking about the social, cultural and psychological aspects of religious life. Attentive to major thinkers and theories dealing with religion in the disciplines of anthropology, psychology, sociology and the social-scientific study of religion.

3340. Global Society. Provides students with a sociological orientation to the contemporary world viewed as an evolving network of nation-states. Focusing on the global interdependence of countries, the position of societies in the world system will be related to their internal patterns of social stratification.

3345. Media Ethics and Gender. Provides a broad historical and contemporary background to the study of media, ethics and gender images – both in the U.S. and abroad.

3351. Marriage and Family. Husband-wife and parent-child relations in the United States; traditions and alternatives.

3355. Family Conflict. Domestic violence, conflict over child custody in divorce, incest and child abuse, neglect and failure to support are topics in the changing family in America. Intergenerational issues and problems are also discussed.

3360. Law and Society. Designed to give students a broad overview of the history and functions of our major legal institutions and their relationship to American culture and social structure.

3368 (ANTH 3368). Urban Life: A Cross-Cultural Perspective. An introduction to urban life and culture around the world, including how we study cities, who inhabits cities, and the special features of city places and spaces. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

3370. Minority-Dominant Relations. The nature, origins and consequences of relationships between unequal groups; U.S. and other societies compared.

3371. Sociology of Gender. Roles of men and women in American society; analysis of the acquisition, content and consequences of sex roles; and social movements and implications for social change.

3377. Organizations and Their Environments. Explores the theories and relationships between organizations and environment. Applies these theories to the analysis of real world organization activities. Prerequisite: SOCI 2377.

3383 (CF 3385). Race, Culture and Social Policy in the Southwest. This interdisciplinary seminar introduces students to conceptualizing social problems. Focus is on the distinctive conditions defined and treated as social problems in the American Southwest. Meets Human Diversity corequirement.

4193, 4293, 4393. Individual Research. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, SOCI 3311 or 3312, and one 3000-level course.

4313. The Sociological Tradition. Introduction to ideas and theories of 19th- and early 20th-century sociologists. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, and SOCI 3311 or 3312.

4314. Contemporary Sociological Theory. Recent trends in sociological theory and research. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, and SOCI 3311 or 3312.

4321. Immigration and Population Issues. Causes and consequences of population growth and change in the United States and the world. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, and SOCI 3311 or 3312.

4335. Social Movements and Collective Behavior. Nature, causes and consequences of crowds, riots, fads, public opinion, social movements and revolution. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, and SOCI 3311 or 3312.

4340. Sociology of Culture. This course provides an overview of the sociological study of culture and focuses on the ways language, artifacts, ideas, identities and narratives construct social reality. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, and SOCI 3311 or 3312.

4353. Political Sociology. Political movements, the impact of politics on other institutions in America, and issues of power and control are discussed. Global issues of economics and political power are included. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, and SOCI 3311 or 3312.

4360. Gangs in the United States: Developing Historical, Social and Theoretical Understandings of a Modern Problem. An examination of the history, development and structures of gangs in the U.S., which incorporates explanatory theories, policy and models for prevention, intervention and suppression of gang activity. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, and SOCI 3311 or 3312.

4363. The Administration of Justice. Law enforcement and criminal court systems; the ideal of justice and public policy. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, and SOCI 3311 or 3312.

4364. Correctional Systems. The history of punishment, adjustment to incarceration, and comparison of prisons for men and women. Constitutional issues of criminal punishment are discussed. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, and SOCI 3311 or 3312.

4366. Deviant Behavior. Causes and consequences of deviant behavior; evaluation of leading theories. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, and SOCI 3311 or 3312.

4372. Wealth and Consumption. This course focuses on how group membership (e.g. race, social class) and societal forces (e.g. economic development) affect spending and savings patterns with particular attention paid to sociological theories of consumption. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, and SOCI 3311 or 3312.

4373. Class, Race and Gender Inequalities. Unequal distribution of power, prestige and opportunity within society; causes and consequences. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, and SOCI 3311 or 3312.

4374. Social Change. Review of major social-change theories emphasizing technology, modernization, social power, and impact of change on individuals and institutions. Also examines possible solutions to resulting problems. Seminar format. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, and SOCI 3311 or 3312.

4377. Contemporary Markets and Culture. Students apply knowledge acquired in core markets and culture courses to develop critical understanding of the social, economic, technological and political forces shaping current global markets. Prerequisites: SOCI 2377 and 3377.

4379. Markets and Culture Internship. By arrangement with faculty sponsor and program adviser. Eligible students will perform an analysis of a particular market and culture problem at the interning firm or organization. The project will be approved by the student, faculty sponsor, program adviser, director, and interning firm or organization prior to term registration. In addition, the student must complete a 15- to 20-page paper under the supervision of the faculty sponsor and give an oral presentation to the faculty sponsor and program adviser. Prerequisites: 3.0 GPA in markets and culture major, and 3.0 average in SOCI 2377 and 3377.

4396. Individual Research for Distinction. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, SOCI 3311 or 3312, one 3000-level course, and permission of director of Undergraduate Studies.

4398. Sociological Internship. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, SOCI 3311 or 3312, and permission of director of undergraduate studies.

4399. Special Topics: Sociology Seminar. Seminar on selected sociological areas. May be repeated for credit if topics differ. Prerequisites: SOCI 2300 or 2310, and SOCI 3311 or 3312.

4401–4. Washington Term. Intensive study of domestic and international economic, political, and social institutions. Includes a 4-hour research project (4401), a 4-hour internship (4402), and two 4-hour seminars (4403 and 4404). Prerequisites: Two courses in the markets and culture or sociology major or sociology minor (at least one at the upper level) that are relevant to the selected program, and permission of the department chair.

STATISTICAL SCIENCE

www.smu.edu/statistics

Professor Wayne Woodward, Department Chair

Professors: Ronald Butler, Richard Gunst, William Schucany, Lynne Stokes, Wayne Woodward. Associate Professors: Ian Harris, Monnie McGee, Hon Keung Ng, Sherry Wang. Assistant Professor: Jing Cao. Emeritus Professors: Narayan Bhat, Henry Gray, Chandrakant Kapadia, Campbell Read.

Statistics is the science of collecting, analyzing and interpreting data. The science of statistics is applicable in every setting where decisions are to be made or knowledge is to be advanced based on the analysis of data. Application fields include almost every academic discipline, including business, engineering and the natural and social sciences. Selecting the best medical treatment for a particular form of cancer, determining whether to use sampling methods to augment a census, and evaluating temperature trends for evidence of greenhouse-induced climate change are diverse examples of settings in which statistical science has made important contributions. Because of its interdisciplinary nature, statistical science is an exciting and valuable double major or minor.

Requirements for the B.S. Degree. The B.S. in statistical science prepares students for advanced studies in statistical science, such as graduate work in the field or in a related discipline.

B.S. in Statistical Science (42 hours)

MATH 1337, 1338, 2339

STAT 4340 or 5340, 5371, 5372, 4399

Electives – 21 hours selected from the following, including at least 9 hours in advanced statistics

STAT 1301 or 2301 or 2331 or ITOM 2305 (no more than one),
3312, 3370, 3380, 4385, 5377

MATH 2343, 3353 (highly recommended)

EMIS 3360, 5361, 5369

ECON 5350, 5375, 5385

or other approved courses

Requirements for the Minor. A minor in statistical science is a valuable complement to majors in the natural or social sciences, engineering or business. Students planning careers that involve the collection, processing, description and/or the analysis of quantitative information will enhance their career opportunities with a minor in statistical science. A minor in statistical science requires at least 15 term hours, as specified below.

STAT 1301, 2301 or 2331 or ITOM 2305 (no more than 3 hours)

STAT 3312, 3370, 3380, 4385, 5377; PSYC 2301 (at least 6 hours)

STAT 5371, 5372 (6 hours)

The Courses (STAT)

1301. Introduction to Statistics. Introduction to collecting observations and measurements, organizing data, accounting for variability, and applying fundamental concepts and principles of decision-making. Emphasis is placed on statistical reasoning and the uses and misuses of statistics.

2301. Statistics for Modern Business Decisions. A foundation in data analysis and probability models is followed by elementary applications of confidence intervals, hypothesis testing, correlation and regression. Prerequisite: GEC Math Fundamentals or equivalent.

2331. Introduction to Statistical Methods. An introduction to statistics for behavioral, biological and social scientists. Topics include descriptive statistics, probability and inferential statistics including hypothesis testing, and contingency tables. Prerequisite: GEC Math Fundamentals or equivalent.

3312. Categorical Data Analysis. Examines techniques for analyzing data that are described by categories or classes. Discusses classical chi-square tests and modern log-linear models. Emphasizes practical applications using computer calculations and graphics. Prerequisite: STAT 2301 or 2331, or equivalent.

3370. Survey Sampling. Principles of Planning and Conducting Surveys. Simple random sampling; stratified, systematic, subsampling; means, variances, confidence limits; finite population correction; and margin of error and sample-size determination. Prerequisite: STAT 2301 or 2331, or equivalent.

3380. Environmental Statistics. Examines statistical design and analysis methods relevant to environmental sampling, monitoring and impact assessment. Emphasizes statistical procedures that accommodate the likely temporal and spatial correlation in environmental data. Prerequisite: STAT 2301 or 2331, or equivalent.

4340 (CSE 4340, EMIS 4340). Statistical Methods for Engineers and Applied Scientists. Basic concepts of probability and statistics useful in the solution of engineering and applied science problems. Topics include probability, probability distributions, data analysis, sampling distributions, estimation and simple tests of hypothesis. Prerequisites: MATH 1337 and 1338.

4385. Introduction to Nonparametric Statistics. A survey of statistical methods that do not require explicit distributional assumptions such as normality. One- and multisample analyses based on ranks and permutation procedures. Introduction to bootstrapping, simulation and nonparametric regression. Prerequisite: STAT 2301 or 2331, or equivalent.

4399. Statistical Science in Practice. Practical experience on projects dealing with the collection, analysis and interpretation of data. Three to four major projects, including one of the student's design. Case studies from a variety of disciplines. Prerequisite: Statistical science major or minor with senior class standing.

For Undergraduate and Graduate Students

These courses do not carry graduate credit for students in the M.S. program or in the Ph.D. program in statistical science.

5110 and 5310. Independent Study in Statistical Science. Independent study of a selected topic in statistical science. Individual study under direction of a faculty member allowed for 5110; group projects allowed for 5310.

5340 (EMIS 5370). Probability and Statistics for Scientists and Engineers. Introduction to fundamentals of probability and distribution theory, and statistical techniques used by engineers and physical scientists. Examples of tests of significance, operating characteristic curve, tests of hypothesis about one and two parameters, estimation, analysis of variance, and the choice of a particular experimental procedure and sample size. Prerequisites: MATH 1337, 1338 and 2339, or equivalent.

5344 (EMIS 5364). Statistical Quality Control. Statistics and simple probability are introduced in terms of problems that arise in manufacturing, as well as their application to control of manufacturing processes. Includes acceptance sampling in terms of standard sampling plans: MIL-STD 105, MIL-STD 414, Dodge-Romig plans, continuous sampling plans, etc. Prerequisite: STAT 4340 or 5340.

5371. Experimental Statistics I. A noncalculus development of the fundamental procedures of applied experimental statistics, beginning with tests of hypotheses and interval estimation for the normal and binomial distributions, and introducing power analysis and sample-size estimation for a variety of multiple-treatment designs. Prerequisite: STAT 2301 or 2331, or permission of instructor.

WOMEN'S AND GENDER STUDIES

www.smu.edu/womgenstudies

Associate Professor Beth Newman, Director

Senior Lecturer: Josephine Caldwell-Ryan

Students in the Women's and Gender Studies Program explore a wide variety of disciplines and life experiences through gender, which is the set of meanings that societies attach to individuals being female or male. The program's dual name acknowledges two ways of focusing the inquiry. Women's studies analyzes the traditionally overlooked intellectual, artistic, political and social contributions of women.

Gender studies extends the interdisciplinary methods of women's studies to a broader range of issues, including the social and cultural meanings of masculinity and the relationships between gender and sexuality. Through participation in women's and gender studies courses, SMU students, both male and female, are exposed to new ways of thinking about traditional academic disciplines as well as matters of personal identity. Because it is interdisciplinary, a minor in women's and gender studies complements a variety of majors and minors, especially those in the humanities, social sciences and fine arts.

Requirements for the Minor. Students must take a minimum of 15 hours, including WGST 2322 (or an approved substitute) and 12 additional hours. At least nine hours must be at the advanced level. Students satisfy these requirements through a combination of core courses (WGST) and a wide array of courses offered by many departments in Dedman, Meadows and Perkins. (Courses marked "subject to approval" are "topics" and "problems" courses that earn credit toward the minor only when offered under specific pre-approved titles.)

The Courses (WGST)

2308. Revisions: Woman as Thinker, Artist and Citizen. Designed to discover how an emphasis on the particular experiences of women can enhance and complicate traditionally conceived areas of scholarship and critical endeavor. Also explores areas of women's experience traditionally undervalued, such as friendship, sexuality, motherhood and old age.

2309. Lesbian and Gay Literature and Film: Minority Discourse and Social Power. The exploration, through literature and film, of the struggles by gay men and lesbians to create social identities and achieve human rights. Study of key cultures and pivotal historical periods in the West from ancient Greece to contemporary America.

2315. Gender, Culture and Society. An interdisciplinary study of gender ideology stressing anthropological and literary perspectives, this course analyzes gender difference as a structuring principle in all societies and explores some of its representations in literature, film and contemporary discourse.

2322. Gender: Images and Perspectives. An interdisciplinary examination of the ways femininity and masculinity have been represented in the past and the present, with attention to what is constant and what changes.

2380. Human Sexuality. This course explores the biosocial aspects of human sexuality and sexual behaviors. A multidisciplinary and cross-cultural perspective will be used to address a wide range of theoretical and pragmatic sexual issues.

3310. Gender and Human Rights. Introduction to global women's human rights and other intersections of human rights and gender, such as abuse of children's rights, gender-based violence, health and reproductive rights, and evolving concepts of sexual rights.

3347 (FL 3363). Figuring the Feminine. This course introduces students to a large body of French literary texts (in translation) by and about women, which bear witness to women's struggle for civil, social and political adulthood. They span the period from the 14th century to the present.

3370 (ENGL 3364). Women in the Southwest. A study and exploration of women writers, artists and thinkers in the American Southwest and their vision of this region as singularly hospitable to women's culture.

3381 (ARHS 4371). Modern Myth-Making. The quest for enduring cultural heroes and the projection of changing social messages as reflected in art from past epochs to modern times.

3382. Women's Body Politics. A cross-cultural, interdisciplinary exploration of the cultural and ideological work that women's bodies perform as reflected in literature, art, medicine, philosophy and political discourses from the Classical era to today.

4209. Independent Studies. A supervised practicum and/or directed readings on specific problems or themes under faculty guidance. Approval of coordinator is required.

4303. Women Studies Internship. Offers students experience with organizations serving women or addressing women's and gender issues, as well as with varied potential careers or volunteer opportunities in the community.

4309. Independent Studies. A supervised practicum and/or directed readings on special problems or themes formulated by the student with faculty guidance and the approval of the director of Women's Studies.

6300 (TC 8375). Advanced Feminist Theory. Explores feminist theories that seek to explain women's subordination historically and cross-culturally, examines gender as a principle of social organization, and addresses the linkages among gender, ethnicity and class from the vantage of multiple disciplines.

The following courses may also be used to meet minor requirements:

- ANTH 3310 Gender and Sex Roles: A Global Perspective
- ANTH 3336 Gender and Globalization: Cultural and Ethical Issues
- ARHS 3358, 6389 Women in the Visual Arts: Both Sides of the Easel
- ARHS 4371 (WGST 3381) Modern Myth-Making
- CCJN 4360 Women and Minorities in Mass Media
- CTV 2332 American Popular Film
- CTV 2362 Diversity and American Film
- CTV 3302 Images of Women in Television (subject to approval)
- CTV 3310 Screen Artists (subject to approval)
- CTV 3360 Gender and Representation in World Cinema
