

Margot Lebenberg Carter

214.673.1147 | margot@livingmountain.com | Dallas, TX 75225

As President of Living Mountain Capital, she invests in technology companies, including www.cien.ai a fast-growing, mobile, machine learning and artificial intelligence business, which she co-founded. With a passion for building businesses in the fields of technology, real estate and construction, Margot currently serves on two public company boards. Margot serves as the lead director, chair of the governance and nominating committee and a member of the audit committee of Installed Building Products, Inc. (NYSE:IBP), a leading residential, commercial and infrastructure construction business. She is a member of nominating and governance, audit and compensation committees of Eagle Materials Inc. (NYSE:EXP), a leading provider of building materials. She is also a director of the Freeman Company, a leading private brand and digital experience business, where she serves as a member of the compensation and audit committees. Her technical experience directly contributed to rapid growth in new services, products and markets worldwide.

From 2010-2015, Margot was the Executive Vice President, Global Chief Legal Officer and Secretary at RealPage, Inc. (Nasdaq:RP), a $5 billion market cap leading provider of (SAAS) software, big data analytics, digital marketing, cloud, insurance and payment processing for the vacation, housing and commercial rental industry. As a business partner, Margot led negotiations of complex acquisitions, commercial and finance transactions; directed high-stakes litigation; and guided the business through the rapid development and international launch of new products, services and markets. She was instrumental in RealPage's IPO and successive financings. During her tenure, RealPage quadrupled in employees, revenue, earnings and market capitalization.

Previously, Margot served as Executive Vice President, General Counsel and Secretary for The Princeton Review (Nasdaq:TPR) and as Executive Vice President, Executive Managing Director, General Counsel and Secretary of SoundView Technology Group (Nasdaq:SNDV) through the sale to the Charles Schwab Corporation. As an executive at Cantor Fitzgerald (Nasdaq:ESPD) in NYC, she was a key member of the senior management team tasked with rebuilding after September 11, 2001. Margot played an indispensable role as part of the founding management team, EVP, GC and Secretary in the FYI/Sourcecorp (Nasdaq:FYII) IPO and acquisition and successful integration of more than 50 businesses.

Margot launched her career at Morgan Lewis NYC, representing investment banks, private equity and Fortune 500 companies, specializing in finance, governance, securities law, IPO's, M&A and roll-ups.

Margot is married to Dr. Adam Carter and has a son, Jack, attending Tulane University. She enjoys travelling, spin class, diplomacy and her dog.