

Welcome to the July 2019 newsletter from the SMU Geothermal Lab. In this newsletter we have congratulations along with updates for DOE-GTO, TREIA, and numerous conferences.

Congratulations

Congratulations to Patricia Sharkey on her new position as Executive Director of Heat Is Power Association. More information: <https://www.heatispower.org/heat-is-power-association-announces-new-executive-director/>.

Congratulations to Joe Batir on his new Post Doc position with the SMU Geothermal Lab. His research will develop new higher definition temperature-depth maps for the Snake River Plain, Idaho. This project is funded through the National Renewable Energy Laboratory.

Geothermal News and Notes

Slides from the Geothermal Technologies Office second Quarterly Update are available at <https://www.energy.gov/eere/geothermal/presentations>. Get updates on GTO's 2020 budget, the Geothermal Student Competition and the GeoVision Scenario Viewer.

TREIA hosts a series of monthly webinars with upcoming topics including a Legislative Update, Border Energy Topics and Green Building. More information: <https://www.treia.org/webinars>.
