RETIRING FACULTY

JAMES GEORGE DUNHAM

James George Dunham, associate professor of electrical and computer engineering at Lyle School of Engineering, earned B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in electrical engineering at Stanford University. He joined SMU's faculty in 1984 after holding faculty positions at Washington University. In his time at SMU, Professor Dunham served as assistant dean of undergraduate and graduate studies; assistant dean of computer operations; associate dean of academic affairs; associate dean for academic affairs, research and infrastructure; and acting chair of the Electrical Engineering Department, all within Lyle School of Engineering. Professor Dunham is a highly cited cryptography and data security researcher. He is a Phi Beta Kappa, Tau Beta Pi, Eta Kappa Nu, Upsilon Pi Epsilon, Sigma Xi and a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE). He has published 55 peer-reviewed articles and presented 45 papers at conferences. He retires as professor emeritus of electrical and computer engineering.

DANIEL J. HOWARD

Daniel J. Howard, professor of marketing, retires at the end of the spring 2021 after 36 years at the University. Howard came to SMU as an assistant professor of marketing at Cox School of Business in 1985. He received his Ph.D. in business administration from Ohio State University in 1986. Howard became an associate professor of marketing at Cox in 1991 and a professor of marketing in 1999. Throughout his academic career, he authored and co-authored 42 articles published in a variety of academic journals. He co-edited the book Social Influence and Consumer Behavior in 2013 and edited The Psychology of Consumer and Social Influence: Theory and Research in 2016. He served as associate editor of the journal Social Influence from 2008–2021. Howard has received numerous research awards, including the Cox Research Excellence Award. He also received the Outstanding MBA and BBA teaching awards at Cox. He served as chair of the Marketing Department at Cox from 1993–2008. Howard traveled to Lugano, Switzerland, in 2016 to serve as a visiting professor at Franklin University Switzerland and to Dublin, Ireland, in 2017, where he worked as a visiting professor at Trinity College Dublin. He retires as professor emeritus of marketing.

BONNIE F. JACOBS

Bonnie F. Jacobs, professor of earth sciences at Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences, joined SMU as an adjunct assistant professor in 1983, and as a tenure-track assistant professor in the Roy M. Huffington Department of Earth Sciences in 2000. She earned a B.A. degree in geology/anthropology at the State University of New York at Buffalo as well as M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in geosciences from the University of Arizona. During her time at SMU, she served as the director of the Center for the Environment and the environmental science and studies programs. Her research on the evolution of tropical African ecosystems and their paleoecology is important to our understanding of paleoclimate, environments of human evolution, tropical forest sensitivity to climate change, and the evolution of Africa's unique flora. Professor Jacobs' research has included projects in Kenya, Tanzania, Ethiopia, Cameroon, Malawi, Texas and New Mexico. She retires from SMU as professor emerita of earth sciences.

JASPER NEEL

Jasper Neel, professor of English in Dedman College, joined the SMU faculty in 1997 after an extensive career at Baylor University, New York University, Francis Marion University, Northern Illinois University, the University of Waterloo and Vanderbilt University. He earned his B.A. at Mississippi College and his M.A. and Ph.D. at the University of Tennessee. At SMU, he served as dean of Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences and vice provost of the University. Professor Neel was honored with the HOPE Award, the Outstanding Professor Award, the "M" Award, the President's Associates Faculty Achievement Award, the Willis M. Tate Award for Outstanding Faculty Service, the Outstanding SMU Faculty Member Award and the Outstanding University Administrator Award. His major research focus is rhetoric, classics and literary criticism. He has published three books, edited four annuals and a journal, 10 book chapters, 18 journal articles, many reviews, given over 20 invited lectures and presented over 30 papers at national and international conferences. He retires as professor emeritus of English.

Evelyn L. Parker, professor of practical theology at Perkins School of Theology, joined the SMU faculty in 1998. She earned a B.S. degree from Lambuth College, an M.S. degree from Prairie View A&M University, an M.R.E. degree from Perkins School of Theology and a Ph.D. degree from Northwestern University. She served as a member of the grant-writing team for the Perkins Youth School of Theology, a $1.4 million theological program for high school youth. Professor Parker served as associate dean for Academic Affairs from 2013 to 2019 – and in 2015, she was named the inaugural holder of the Susanna Wesley Centennial Chair in Practical Theology. Her major research focus is religious identity and spiritual formation in African American adolescents, adolescents in sociopolitical movements and their understanding of vocation, and teen dating violence. She has served the World Council of Churches in various capacities since 1996. Professor Parker is the author of six books, 12 articles, 18 book chapters and was executive producer for a major film. She retires as professor emerita of practical theology.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

WHITNEY WOLFE HERD '11

Whitney Wolfe Herd is a 2011 SMU graduate, a tech disruptor and the founder and CEO of Bumble Inc., the parent company that operates two of the most popular and highest-grossing dating apps in the world, Badoo and Bumble.

Launched in 2014 as the only dating platform where women make the first move, Bumble has been guided by Wolfe Herd through every step of its growth. The app launched a friend-finding feature in 2016 (Bumble BFF) and a professional networking feature (Bumble Bizz) in 2017, helping to facilitate empowered connections across all areas of life. In 2019, Wolfe Herd welcomed global investment giant Blackstone as Bumble's new majority owner to grow Badoo and Bumble. Earlier this year, she became the youngest woman to take a company public. Prior to Bumble, Wolfe Herd co-founded Tinder, another dating app, where she served as vice president of marketing.

In 2018, Wolfe Herd was named one of TIME magazine's 100 Most Influential People. She has also been recognized in Forbes magazine's 30 Under 30 list, the Bloomberg 50 and InStyle's 50 Women Who Are Changing the World. She has also been featured on the covers of Fast Company, Forbes and Wired. Wolfe Herd currently serves on the board of directors of Imagine Entertainment, as well as the executive board at SMU's Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences, from which she graduated with a degree in international studies.

SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY

In 1911, a Methodist education commission made a commitment to establish a major Methodist university in Texas. More than 600 acres of open prairie and $300,000 pledged by a group of Dallas citizens secured the university for Dallas, and it was chartered as Southern Methodist University. In appreciation of the city's support, the first building to be constructed on the campus was named Dallas Hall. It remains the centerpiece and symbol of SMU. When the University opened in 1915, it consisted of two buildings, 706 students, a 35-member faculty and total assets of $636,540. The original schools of SMU were the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Theology and the School of Music.

Today SMU offers more than 115 undergraduate majors, master's degrees in more than 135 areas, doctoral degrees in 35 fields and more than 45 certificate programs. Enrollment for the spring 2021 term was 12,036, including 6,588 undergraduate students and 5,448 graduate students. SMU students come from 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and 81 countries. About 76% of first-year students received some form of financial assistance for spring 2021.

In addition to preparing students for graduate and professional schools, or more directly for their life's work, the University strives to enhance their social, moral, intellectual and religious development so that they may lead worthy lives as individuals and citizens of the nation and of the world.

ACADEMIC PROCESSION, REGALIA TRADITION AND SMU REGALIA

The academic procession and the regalia worn by the faculty and officers of the University symbolically represent the continuing link between the modern American university and the founding of the great medieval universities in Europe – chief among them Bologna, Paris and Oxford. As those institutions were derived from the Catholic Church, the universities adopted many of the ceremonial trappings of the church in their official public functions.

The caps and gowns worn in the procession vary from place to place. There are variations in design to indicate the degrees held by the wearers, and many universities in America have introduced colorful gowns and other distinguishing details (in place of the customary clerical black from which all originated). The caps, too, vary according to the customs of the university from which the wearer received a degree. While most American universities adopted the "mortarboard" style of Oxford, others have chosen styles based on other European institutions. The color of the tassel worn with the cap may be black for any degree, or the color may be that of the faculty of the major field of learning (e.g., arts, engineering, law). Persons holding doctoral degrees and governing officials of institutions are entitled to wear tassels of gold metallic thread.

Within the great varieties of styles and colors in gowns and caps, there has been one universally accepted code for the hood worn trailing down the wearer's back. Originally, it was like the hood on the habit worn by monks and very useful for protection against the weather and even for begging for alms. Nowadays, the hood through length and color shows the degree and the specialization of the wearer, and the university that granted the degree.

Candidates for degrees at SMU are robed in custom regalia, designed to incorporate SMU's colors and symbols.

The doctoral gown in dark blue includes velvet chevrons on each of the bell sleeves. The front velvet panels are embroidered in gold thread with the SMU seal, and gold braid outlines the chevrons and panels. An eight-sided, crimson red velvet tam with a gold silk tassel completes the regalia.

The master's gown, also in dark blue, has a front yolk outlined in red braid, and the SMU seal is embroidered in red on the left side. Gowns have a long sleeve through a slit at the wrist. A mortarboard with a colored tassel representing the discipline in which the degree is earned also is worn.

Doctoral and master's candidates wear hoods that are 3½ feet long and 4 feet long, respectively. SMU's hood lining is blue with red chevron.

The bachelor's gowns' distinguishing characteristics are the long pointed sleeves and full front pleats. A red silk Stole of Gratitude embroidered in blue with the SMU seal is worn across the shoulders. It is tradition for graduates to present their stoles to individuals who have made a positive impact in their lives. Bachelor's gowns are worn with a tassel and mortarboard.

Through these colorful ceremonies, SMU symbolically displays the continuity of its educational purposes with the origins of organized learning in the Western world.

THE HOWARD LANTERN

The Howard Lantern is dedicated to Professor Lorn Lambier Howard, chief marshal emeritus of SMU from 1978–1987. Crafted out of steel, aluminum and water glass, the lantern depicts the Rotunda of Dallas Hall. Engraved around the base is the University’s motto, Veritas Liberabit Vos, which means “The truth will make you free.”

Around the top band are the words to Varsity, SMU’s alma mater. The lantern serves as a reminder of the important traditions that make up our University life and the light of learning and intellectual curiosity that shines within the students, faculty and staff at SMU.

PRESIDENTIAL COLLAR AND MEDALLION

Chains of office, also known as collars, were used as badges of office in the Middle Ages. Today they are custom-designed metal necklaces worn by the president during academic ceremonies as part of his or her regalia.

The chain of office designed for the 10th president of SMU, R. Gerald Turner, is made of bronze, a strong and durable metal. The medallion of the necklace is dominated by the University seal design, just as the seal is the centerpiece in the floor of the Rotunda in Dallas Hall, SMU’s historic first building.

The bail, joining the medallion and the chain, represents the institution’s bond between the faculty and the student body. Equally, the 32-inch chain, a work of art whose two ends are clasped together, represents the joining of the desire to teach and the eagerness to learn demonstrated by SMU’s faculty and students.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

Staffs that call groups to order are as old as civilization itself. Today’s ceremonial maces descend particularly from medieval armor-piercing clubs topped by bludgeoning balls. These fierce weapons swiftly acquired symbolic meaning. By the 14th century, a mace, carried at the front of formal processions, required bystanders to note the authority and integrity of the event. In the 16th century, this formidable weapon lost its battle utility but took a symbolic turn: the spiked head evolved into a decorative orb. The European tradition by which universities presented maces on solemn occasions to signify their independence and protective power was adopted by their successors worldwide. The mace-bearer, who is the president of the Faculty Senate, leads formal ceremonies carrying this visible reminder of the University’s history and status.

The 22-pound mace currently in use at SMU is linked to the inauguration of President Willis M. Tate (1954–1972 and 1974–75) and is known as the Tate Mace. The 57-inch staff is topped by a 10½-inch orb that represents not only the University’s worldly authority but also echoes its distinctive neoclassical style. The orb is impressed with the seal of the University and is encircled with SMU’s motto, Veritas Liberabit Vos (“The truth will make you free”). Surmounting the orb is a cross painted vividly in SMU red, a reminder of SMU’s religious heritage.

THE BRADLEY KENT CARTER BATON

The Bradley Kent Carter Baton is carried by the chief marshal during academic ceremonies and represents the authority of the collective faculty in the academic life of the institution and of the role of chief marshal as master of ceremonies at formal university convocations.

A tradition dating back 500 years ago to the University of Oxford, the chief marshal oversees the faculty members of the Guild of Marshals. Faculty marshals are responsible for the execution of the ceremony, the upholding of decorum and traditions, and the processions of candidates, faculty and the platform party. SMU’s marshals are identified by their bright red gowns with black chevrons.

The Carter Baton is dedicated to Associate Professor Emeritus of Political Science and chief marshal Emeritus Bradley Kent Carter, who served for many years in the Guild of Marshals before serving as chief marshal from 1991–2008. Professor Carter is a staunch supporter of the traditions and customs of academic ceremonies, but also added his own mark in fostering a number of the traditions now celebrated.

Made from rosewood, the Carter Baton initially served as the University’s first official academic ceremonial mace until it was replaced in 1954 by the Tate Mace, currently still in use. The orb of the Carter Baton bears the seal of SMU. In the fall of 2017, it was refurbished with bronze bands honoring all known chief marshals in SMU’s history. During the ceremony it is placed on a custom stand. The original designer and manufacturer of the baton are unknown. Refurbishment was completed by Medallion Art Company.

For more than 100 years, SMU has shaped minds, explored the frontiers of knowledge and fostered an entrepreneurial spirit in its eight degree-granting schools. Taking advantage of unbridled experiences on the University’s beautiful campuses and SMU’s relationship with Dallas – the dynamic center of one of the nation’s fastest-growing regions – alumni, faculty and more than 12,000 graduate and undergraduate students become ethical leaders in their professions and communities who change the world.
