

Jonathan Sanchez Biography:

Jonathan D. Sánchez was born in Maracay, Venezuela. He lives in Orlando, Florida with his wife of 11 years, Melanie Sánchez, and his 2 year old daughter, Alessandra Hope Sánchez. Jonathan holds an Advanced Certificate on Theology and Missions, from Asbury Theological Seminary's Latino/Latina Study Program, and a Master's degree in Theological Studies, from Asbury Theological Seminary. He is currently in his second year of Doctoral studies at Regent University in Virginia Beach, Virginia, where he is working toward a Ph.D. in Theological Studies. He is an assistant instructor at Asbury Theological Seminary, where he still teaches and volunteers. Jonathan served as a youth coordinator for the United Methodist Church for 9 years and is currently a lay leader at Faith UMC in Orlando. Jonathan's areas of interest are: The problem of evil, ethical reflection on the poor, evil and suffering, theodicies, renewal, Theology of Beauty, Aesthetics Theodicies, and Wesleyan theologies.